This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at `http://books.google.com/` for the removal of mortgages already existing, or for the purpose of erecting, improving or purchasing houses.

Loans are repayable in instalments of $10.00 monthly for each $1,000.00 borrowed; these monthly payments will extinguish both interest and principal.

The great advantage of this plan is, that the loan cannot be disturbed until fully repaid, while an ordinary mortgage may fall due and be called in at very short notice.

Long Island Railroad Co.

LONG ISLAND

Country Homes for City People

GOOD AIR. GOOD WATER. GOOD ROADS.

FAST AND FREQUENT TRAIN SERVICE.
OVER 2,000 TRAINS DAILY.

THE LONG ISLAND RAILROAD COMPANY has ballasted its road-bed which assures entire freedom from dust; has made a new schedule going into effect in the Spring, providing for Express Trains night and morning, with hard-coal locomotives; and will continue and extend its liberal policy toward the public.

Every taste, every desire of the home-seeker can be gratified. Hills and woodlands on the north shore; rolling country and meadows on the south shore; fine farm lands in the central section.

Five hundred miles of macadam roads and 150 miles of cycle paths constructed in 1897.

Yachting, Golfing, Hunting and Fishing unsurpassed.

A CYCLIST'S PARADISE.

120 miles "straightaway" ideal cycling. The famous Merrick Road Century Course. Beautiful side runs to the ocean, bays or sound.

Attested to by 500,000 cyclists in 1897.

For full particulars, illustrated books and cyclists' handbook,

Address,

H. B. FULLERTON,
Special Agent, Passenger Department,
LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y.

H. M. SMITH,
Traffic Manager.

PURE ICE

Is as essential to health as the air you breathe.

REMEMBER THIS

BROOKLYN HYGIENIC ICE CO.,

COR. BOND AND DOUGLASS STS., BROOKLYN, N. Y.

The Ice manufactured by this COMPANY is absolutely PURE; being made from distilled water, is free from all disease germs.
It is preferred for use in Hospitals, Sanitariums and for Household Purposes.
Then why use Impure Ice when you can get Pure for the same Price?

783 and 785 Kent Avenue

UNDER MANAGEMENT OF

EDWARD T. JENKINS,

Long Island Storage Warehouses

885-887-889-891 PARK AVENUE,

BOROUGH OF BROOKLYN, NEW YORK CITY.

We call for and deliver to any part of New York City. Carpets returned the day after we receive them if desired.

Carpets refitted or relaid by thoroughly reliable men.

Your children have had Diphtheria and other contagious diseases, how did they get it? "Listen!"

Carpet Cleaners now use a large wheel to clean carpets. This wheel will clean several hundred yards at one time. By this process one diseased carpet will transmit germs through the carpets to several families.

OUR NEW ELECTRIC CLEANERS (JUST PATENTED)
ONLY CLEAN ONE CARPET AT A TIME.

THE BROOKLYN EAGLE ALMANAC.

VOLUME XIII. JANUARY, 1898. FIRST EDITION.

THE thirteenth volume of the EAGLE ALMANAC has been edited with the same scrupulous care that characterized its predecessors. The book this year includes all the data necessary to a complete understanding of the institutions of New York City, including each borough, Long Island and the government of the State of New York and of the United States of America. With consolidation it has been deemed expedient to include the whole of the territory known as the Greater New York, so that the ALMANAC can no longer be regarded as local only to Brooklyn. First of all, the book is what its name indicates. It is an almanac. It contains the days of the months, with dates of the moon's phases, the time of the rising and the setting of the sun in New York and other prominent cities in this country, the time when the planets are best seen, with the changes in their relation during the current year, the fixed and the movable festivals of the churches which observe days and seasons, a table of the tides for New York, Sandy Hook, Coney Island, and important points on Long Island, and similar matters that are generally in an almanac. In addition, the book is a manual of reference for the school, the library, the counting-house. Its chapters on city government are so complete that they are used in the public schools. They have been revised this year, and set forth the changes caused by the operation of the new charter. The delay in publishing the book has been unavoidable owing to the very many changes made in all the city departments. The ALMANAC contains a new map of the city, showing the ward boundaries, Senate districts, paved streets, macadamized streets, streets surveyed but not opened, opened streets, etc. It will be invaluable to the bicyclist and to horseman. A map showing the same information concerning the city of New York is also included, as well as the usual map of Long Island. A map of the Greater New York has been prepared from the latest surveys in the office of the State engineer and surveyor, and is the best map of the metropolitan district ever published. All the railroad lines and ferry lines of New York, Brooklyn and Staten Island are given. Maps are included, showing the Brooklyn Heights Railroad system, the Nassau system and the Brooklyn Elevated Railroad, in Brooklyn, and the Manhattan Elevated, in New York. The chapter on the Greater New York contains the history of the movement from its inception, gives a history of the bill in the Legislature which finally made consolidation a possibility, narrates the work of the charter commission and reviews the history of the movement as a whole. The directory of clubs will be found complete to date, both of Brooklyn and of New York institutions. The election tables show the vote for municipal offices in November, and the vote for National and State officers in previous years. The popular and electoral vote for 1896 and 1892 is given, which will be found useful for purposes of comparison. The attempt has been made to make these tables as complete and instructive as possible.

The newspaper whose name the ALMANAC bears has continued during the year 1897 its efforts to satisfy the needs of its patrons. The ALMANAC itself is one of its enterprises. The paper's wide circulation is one of the proofs that it satisfies the public. The EAGLE'S bureaus in New York, Washington and Paris are increasing in popularity and business every month. The Washington and Paris bureaus are headquarters for many Brooklyn people visiting those cities. The New York uptown office of the EAGLE was opened in May, at 952 Broadway, near Twenty-third street. This branch office is complete in every respect. The Information Bureau on the fourth floor of the EAGLE Building is now one of the recognized institutions of Brooklyn. It, too, in answer to the largely increased demands made upon it, has been forced to add to its floor space. By alterations, the bureau now occupies a large and airy room at the Washington and Johnson street corner of the building, as well as two smaller adjoining rooms. Through it thousands of people have found satisfactory summer homes, and parents desiring to find schools for their children have obtained in its rooms catalogues and prospectuses of all the important private schools in the country.

On Election Night, in accordance with its custom, the EAGLE Building was thrown open to the EAGLE'S guests. Special wires brought the latest news to the rooms, where it was placed upon blackboards and the bulletins were read aloud. During the evening many artists and musicians furnished entertainment for the guests, and refreshments were served. Thousands of people viewed the election bulletins displayed on two sides of the EAGLE Building. As in previous years, the EAGLE projected and managed popular excursions. This year there were excursions to Portland and Poland Springs, Nova Scotia, and to the Tennessee Centennial at Nashville. Each one was a decided success, and added new laurels to the EAGLE'S Outing Department. During the outing trips special editions of the EAGLE were published daily. The EAGLE in 1897 purchased the property adjoining, in which are the offices of the Standard-Union, Journal and World. The third floor of the building was fixed up for the EAGLE Art and Engraving Department, the most improved plant being placed there.

THE EAGLE INDEX.

During the year 1897 the sixth volume of the EAGLE Index was published. This is a work which is compiled at a great expense and much labor, each volume being a complete index of all the articles and editorials which have appeared during the year. To those who have occasion often to refer to the files of the EAGLE, the index is invaluable. The events are classified in a convenient manner, so that ready reference is easy, the aim being to bring the largest amount of reference into the smallest compass.

EAGLE LIBRARIES.

In 1894 the EAGLE commenced a publication of a series of libraries, and during the year 1896 continued to publish them. The numbers in 1894 were "The Constitution of the State of New York," and "The Candidates for Election," for the campaign of that year. In 1895 were published "Questions Answered." "Political Handbook for the Voters of New York." "Proceedings of the Eighty-sixth Annual Meeting of the American Board of Foreign Missions," and "Candidates for Election in 1895." In 1896 "The Raines Excise Law and Greater New York Bill." "The Purple Rim' and Seven Short Stories," "Presidential Candidates, Party Platforms, etc. "The Preliminary Charter to the Greater New York," and "The Golden Jubilee of the Rev. Dr. Storrs." In 1897 were issued several editions of the new charter, "Amendments to the Raines Excise Law," "New Election Districts of Brooklyn," "Dr. Abbott's Lectures on the Bible." "Questions and Answers," "The Bible Discourses of Dr. Behrends and Mul's Letters," "The Voter's Guide." Each of the numbers has been prepared in response to a general demand for the matter contained in them, and the publication will be continued from time to time as occasion demands. The price of each number is five cents. On payment of fifty cents, the ALMANAC and each issue of the Library will be sent to subscribers.

THE JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

The business of the Job Printing Department has so grown during the past year that increased room is a necessity. The office of the department has been placed on the fourth floor, in rooms adjoining the Information Bureau. Nearly all the EAGLE Building is now used by the various departments of the paper. Only the second floor remains exclusively for rent for offices.

Standard Time.

The standard meridians adopted in the United States and Canada are exactly 15 degrees (= 1 hour) of longitude apart, and the mean local time of each meridian is used for a distance of 7½ degrees of longitude on each side of it.

Name.	West from Greenwich.	Nearest Place.
Intercolonial	60° = 4 hours	About 3½° east of Halifax.
Eastern	75° = 5 hours	Between N. Y. and Phila.
Central	90° = 6 hours	St. Louis & New Orleans.
Mountain	105° = 7 hours	Denver, Colorado.
Pacific	120° = 8 hours	1½° east of Sacramento.
Sitka	135° = 9 hours	½° east of Sitka, Alaska.
Tahiti	150° = 10 hours	½° w. of Island of Tahiti.

New York Pilot Boats.

Cruising ground from Sandy Hook to Fire Island east to Barnegat, south.

Under the supervision of 5 commissioners, three of whom, Thos. P. Ball, A. Foster Higgins and W. B. Hilton, were appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, and two, James H. Winchester and W. Irving Comes, by the Board of Underwriters. A. Foster Higgins, Pres.; D. A. Nash, Sec., 24 State st., N. Y.

NEW YORK BOATS.

1. Herman Oelrichs. 2. Ambrose Snow. 3. C. H. Colt. 4. Jos. Pulitzer. 5. Washington. 6. S. S. New York

NEW JERSEY BOATS.

7. D. T. Leahy. 8. Q. G. Bennett. 9. E. E Barrett, reserve.

Day signal—Jack at the foremast head.

Night signal—A flash light or blue light shown anywhere on deck.

Boats on station carry, in a conspicuous place, from sunset to sunrise, a bright red under a white signal light.

The rates of pilotage from April 1st to November 1st are: For inward-bound vessels of less than 14 feet, $2.75 per foot; between 14 and 18 feet, $3.38 per foot; between 18 and 21 feet, $4.13 per foot, and vessels drawing 21 feet and upwards, $4.88 per foot. Outward it is $2.02 for a vessel drawing less than 14 feet; $2.33 for 14 feet and over, and less than 18 feet; $3.06 for 18 feet and over and less than 21 feet, and $3.56 for vessels over 21 feet. Inward-bound vessels also pay off-shore pilotage (25 per cent. extra) if they take a pilot aboard beyond 16 miles from Sandy Hook light, unless the pilot waives the off-shore pilotage. If he relinquishes the extra pay, he must be taken aboard; if not, the commander can refuse his services and wait until he reaches the off-shore limit. Thus, for a vessel of 25 feet, the pilotage from Sandy Hook would be $122, and with $30.50 for off-shore, $152.50. Outward pilotage for the same draught vessels would be only $89. During the cold weather, or between November and April, the sum of $4 is added to the general bill. An outward bound vessel detained after a pilot has been engaged, except by stress of weather, $3.00 each day shall be added to the pilotage, and should he be detained at quarantine, or elsewhere, by the health officer, the master, owner, or consignee shall pay to the pilot all necessary expenses of living and $3 per day for every day of detention.

HIGH WATER AT NEW YORK (GOVERNOR'S ISLAND).

The high water tables are from the book prepared and published by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey at Washington. 0*h.* 00*m.* is midnight, and 12*h.* 00*m.* is noon. To change "Eastern Standard Time" to New York "Local Time," add 4 minutes. Eastern Standard Time is 5 hours slower than Greenwich Time. The height is reckoned at Governor's Island from level of average low water.

Population of United States.

It is interesting to notice that the estimates of the actuary in the United States Treasury at Washington of the population of the entire country is now set down at 77,000,000, an increase of about 14,000,000 since the census of 1890. If this estimate can be depended upon, and the ratio of increase since 1890 continues, in 1900 the census will show a total population in the United States of about 83,000,000, or a total increase for the entire decade of about 20,000,000. No rapid increase in the history of one people has ever been recorded since the beginning of time equal to this. Number immigrants year ending July 1, 1897, was 220,-882, a decrease of 112,435 from 1895-'6. During entire period of federal supervision, 7,432,016 immigrants came.

Population of London.

Statistics of the population of London for last year place the population of that city at 4,421,955, an increase of 41,000 within a year, or less than 1 per cent. The area of the city is only 121 square miles, which equals an average of 36,550 inhabitants per square mile. The density of population is greatest in Whitechapel, St. George's-in-the-East, Shoreditch, Southwark, St. Saviour's and Holborn districts. The most thinly populated districts are Lewisham, Woolwich, Wandsworth and Hampstead. In the former districts of the city there are five times as many people per acre as in the last named. In 1896 there were 79,738 weddings, 135,196 children were born and 83,511 people died.

BOROUGHS OF MANHATTAN AND BRONX STREET AND AVENUE DIRECTORY.

SPECIALLY COMPILED FOR THE EAGLE ALMANAC BY TROW'S NEW YORK CITY DIRECTORY CO.

Note that in case of long thoroughfares important cross streets with corner numbers are given. With these numbers and by referring to the maps the location of any point in the city can readily be ascertained.

The prefix West is given to all cross streets in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards lying west of the avenue (known as Broadway) which runs from a point in the vicinity of Kingsbridge to Yonkers, and that the prefix East is given to all cross streets lying east of said avenue and the Harlem River.

The letters following names indicate position of the thoroughfare on the Almanac maps. Where there are no letters, the streets are in the annexed district, shown on the sixth page of the sectional maps.

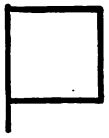
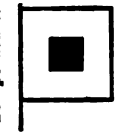
WEATHER SIGNALS.



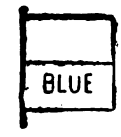
No. 1. WHITE FLAG. Fair Weather.

No. 2. BLUE FLAG. Rain or Snow.

No. 3. BLACK FLAG. Temperature.



No. 4. WHITE—BLACK CENTRE. Cold Wave.



No. 5. WHITE AND BLUE. Local Rains.

EXPLANATION.—No. 1 always indicates clear or fair weather, no rain. No. 2 always indicates either rain or snow. No. 3 refers to temperature only. When placed above or before Nos. 1 and 2 it indicates warmer weather; when placed below Nos. 1 or 2 it indicates fall in temperature. When not displayed the indications are that the temperature will remain stationary, or will not vary five degrees from that of the same hour of the preceding day. No. 4, cold wave flag indicates the approach of a sudden and decided fall in temperature. This signal is usually ordered up at least twenty-four hours in advance of the cold wave, and indicates that the temperature will fall sixteen degrees or more, to a minimum of thirty-six degrees or less. No. 5 indicates that local rains or showers will occur and that the rainfall will not be general. When displayed on flagpoles the signals read downward. When displayed from horizontal supports, a small streamer indicates the point from which the signals are read. When in the form of symbols to be displayed on cars, they are placed one below the other, and read downward.

Wind Direction and Velocity Signals.

Tornadoes and Cyclones.

The tornado is a sudden outburst of wind in an otherwise quiet, sultry atmosphere: it is ushered in by a loud, indescribable roar, similar to a continuous roll of thunder; its path is very narrow—seldom more than 500 feet wide at greatest destruction; it moves, generally, from southwest to northeast, and rarely extends more than twenty miles; it very often rises in the air, to descend again at a point a few miles ahead; it is always accompanied by thunder storms, with often a bright glow in the cloud; this cloud has usually a funnel shape, which appears to be whirling, though some observers have described its appearance like that of a huge ball rolling forward. A tornado may be considered as the result of an extreme development of conditions which otherwise produce thunderstorms.

A cyclone, on the other hand, is a very broad storm, oftentimes 1,000 miles in diameter, and sometimes can be followed half around the world; the winds circulate about it from right to left, or the way one turns clock hands backward (in the Southern Hemisphere this motion is reversed). The air pressure always falls as one approaches the centre, where, at sea, there is a portentous calm, with clear sky visible at times. The cyclone winds often rise to hurricane force, but are not to be compared with the extreme violence of the tornado, before which the most solid structures are razed.

LONG ISLAND VOLUNTEER FIREMEN.

THE EAGLE TRUMPET.

The twelfth annual tournament of the Suffolk County Volunteer Firemen's Association took place at Riverhead, L. I., on Sept. 6, 1897. The Brooklyn Eagle trumpet was won by Bellport Hook and Ladder Company in 47s.; Phœnix of Babylon, second, 50s.

The contests for the Eagle trumpet have been as follows:

Sayville, L. I., Sept. 4, 1889—Phœnix of Sag Harbor, 46½s. Islip, L. I., Sept. 3, 1890—Phœnix of Sag Harbor, 48 4-5s. Patchogue, L. I., Sept. 2, 1891—Union of Patchogue, 48½s. Greenport, L. I., Sept. 7, 1892—Phœnix of Sag Harbor, 46½s. Babylon, L. I., Sept. 6, 1893—Union of Lindenhurst, 48s. Southampton, L. I., Sept. 5, 1894—Phœnix of Sag Harbor, 46 4-5s. Bellport, L. I., Sept. 4, 1895—No. 1 of Bellport, 48s. Amityville, L. I., Sept. 7, 1896—Phœnix of Sag Harbor, 46½s.

The companies run with trucks 300 yards, raise a 25 foot ladder against a wall, and a man ascends and grasps the top rung. The trumpet is to become the absolute property of the club winning it three times. Until 1897 the conditions required a company to win it three consecutive times.

OTHER CONTESTS OF 1897.

At Riverhead, L. I., Sept. 6—Hose race; hose carts to run 200 yards, lay 300 feet of hose, break coupling and screw on pipe with at least three threads. Won by Relief Hose Company No. 2, of Greenport, 48⅘s. Bayport Hose Co., second, 50s.

Juvenile hook and ladder race—Trucks must run 100 yards, raise 15-foot ladder, boy to ascend. Won by Greenport Juvenile Hook and Ladder Company, 17s. Babylon, second, 17⅘s.; West Sayville and Bayport tied for third place, 18s.

Special hose race—Hose cart to run 100 yards, make an attachment to hydrant, lay 150 feet of hose, break coupling, screw on play pipe and get water. Won by Bayport Hose Company, 29s. Relief Hose Company, of Greenport, second, 32 2-5s. Resolute Hose Company, of Sayville, missed connection of nozzle and was not timed.

Special hook and ladder contest—Company to run 200 feet and fill barrel with buckets on platform at an elevation, using a 25 foot ladder, the supply of water to be taken 50 feet from foot of ladder. Won by Sayville Hook and Ladder Company, 1:46¼. Bellport, second, 2:06¼.

Ladder scaling contest—Firemen to run 50 feet, scale 30 foot ladder; time called when man grasps top rung. Won in a run off by F. E. Rich, of Bay Shore, 7⅘s. Walter Morris, of Bellport, second, 8s.

Steamer contest—Engines to play 300 feet of hose in one or two streams, any size of nozzle. Won by Torrent Steamer Company, of Greenport, no others having entered.

Rockaway Beach, L. I., first annual tournament of the Hempstead Volunteer Firemen's Association:

Hook and ladder contest for the Brooklyn Eagle Silver Cup—Trucks to run 200 yards, raise 25 foot ladder and fireman to ascend, time to be called when man grasps top rung of ladder. Won by Rescue Hook and Ladder, Lynbrook, 23 s.; Washington, Lawrence, 34 s.; Electric, Inwood, 36s.; Baldwins, Baldwins, 37 s.; Eureka, Rockville Center, 42½ s.

Single ladder contest—Fireman to run 50 feet, scale 30 foot ladder, time called when man grasps top rung: R. B. Miller, 6 s.; E. C. Wendst, 6¼ s.; E. D. Seabury, jr., 6¼ s.; T. A. McWhinney, 6½ s.

There were several ties in this contest. Wendst ran his final heat in 6 s. flat.

Hose contest—Hose carts, to run 200 yards to hydrant, lay 100 feet of hose, break coupling, screw on pipe; time to be called when water strikes backstop, 125 feet from hydrant: Arverne Hose Company, 42⅘ s.; Vigilant Hose Company, Freeport, 48 s.; Ever Ready Hose Company, Freeport, 44 s.

Steamer contest—Far Rockaway Dept., first; Atlantic of Rockaway Beach, second; Wide Awake of Freeport, third.

Fish Hatchery, Cold Spring Harbor.

The Fish, Game and Forest Commission of the State of New York has seven permanent hatching stations. They are in the counties of Monroe, Queens, Franklin, Herkimer, Fulton, Steuben, and Sullivan, named in the order of their establishment. The first is for trout and white fish of the Great Lakes, the others, except Queens, are mainly for trout. The latter is at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, close to the county line of Suffolk, and is the most important of them all in its work, with popular good fishes in both salt and fresh water. It was established in 1883. Each station has a foreman, who is subject to the orders of General Superintendent James Annin, Jr., of Caledonia, Livingston Co. The season of 1897 was the most successful in the history of the hatchery. A great many fingerling and yearling trout were sent out. The following plants made in 1897 show the number, kinds of fish and the eggs sent out from this station: Brook trout eggs, 350,000; brown trout eggs, 275,000; brook trout fry, 928,000; brown trout fry, 159,000; California trout fry, 10,000; steelhead trout fry, 23,000; rainbow trout fry, 40,000; salmon fry, 80,000; smelt fry, 45,000,000; tomcods (frost fish) fry, 44,675; lobster fry, 6,890,000; brook trout fingerlings, 1,300; brown trout fingerlings, 300; brook trout yearlings, 12,000; brown trout yearlings, 3,000; California trout yearlings, 5,000; salmon yearlings, 750; rainbow trout yearlings, 2,100.

The station is in charge of C. H. Walters, Foreman.

Long Island Collateral Tax.

During the fiscal year ended September 30, 1897, the several counties of the State turned into the State treasury, on account of the collateral inheritance tax law, the sum of $1,829,941.83, as against $1,796,652 for 1896. The amounts contributed by the Long Island counties were as follows: Kings, $169,259.72; Queens, $39,518.89; Suffolk, $28,621.80.

FISH, GAME AND FOREST LAWS OF NEW YORK.

The laws for the protection, preservation and propagation of birds, fish and wild animals in the State of New York were codified and re-enacted by the Legislature in 1892, amended in 1893 and 1894, revised and re-enacted and consolidated with the forest laws in 1895, and further amended in 1896 and in 1897. The laws are officially known as "The Fisheries, Game and Forest Law" and constitute Chapter 31 of the general laws. They are also known as Chapter 488 of the Laws of 1892, as amended by the Legislatures of 1893-4-5-6 and 7.

The term "close season" is that period of time during which an act is prohibited. Kings, Queens and Suffolk counties and Long Island Sound and the Thousand Islands have special laws.

This law, with some exceptions, permits the sale of game during the closed season, if the seller can produce evidence that the game was shipped from a point at least 300 miles distant from the State. The law makes the trout fishing season uniform throughout the State, the open season being from April 16 to August 31.

The deer law of Long Island has been subjected to important change. The law of 1895 stated that no deer shall be hunted or killed on this island except for the period of two years from the passage of the act, and after that every other year. They shall then only be hunted or killed from Nov. 10 to 16, inclusive. By the new law, deer may be killed on Long Island each Wednesday during the month of November.

A law has been enacted which makes the catching and killing of beaver in New York State a misdemeanor, and the party so catching or killing liable to a penalty of $50 for each offense.

An important law says, in substance, that any person owning land which he reserves as private fishing premises, if "hereafter stocked by the State from any of the hatcheries, hatching stations, or by fish furnishers at the expense of the State, shall be and remain open to the public to fish therein the same as though the private park law had never existed."

Another law states that "No trout of any kind, salmon trout or land locked salmon shall be taken away from any of the waters of this State for the purpose of stocking a private pond or stream, except that the owner of such private pond may, upon the written consent of the fisheries, game and forest commission, take any such fish from any stream of water running through premises owned by him, solely for the purpose of being placed in such private pond."

The law in its application to fresh water also provides for the licensing of nets. If nets are licensed and have a tag number, the protectors and foresters can identify the owner of a net illegally used, and if the tag is missing the net can be destroyed.

Section 149 increases and extends the powers given to the Commissioners of Fisheries for the issuing of permits to use nets in certain lakes and for certain kinds of fish.

The law prohibits the polluting of streams or taking fish by drawing off water or by dynamite, or from a stream to stock a private pond or stream. No fishing through the ice in waters inhabited by trout or salmon.

DEER, WILD—Close season, Nov. 15 to Aug. 15. No person shall kill or take alive more than two deer in one season. No deer to be caught, shot at, hunted or killed in the counties of Ulster, Greene and Delaware for five years from May 5, 1892. Fawns shall not be caught or killed at any time. Deer shall not be hunted with dogs for the term of five years from June 1, 1897. Dogs of the breed commonly used for hunting deer, shall not be permitted to run at large in the forest where deer inhabit, and while chasing deer in violation of law may be killed by any person. The use of traps, devices and salt licks forbidden, also crusting and yarding. Deer or venison killed in this State shall not be transported to any point within or without the State from or through any of the counties thereof or possessed for that purpose, except one carcass or part thereof, may be transported from the county where killed when accompanied by the owner, head and feet or skin of deer, severed from the body, excepted.

MOOSE, CARIBOU AND ANTELOPE—Not to be hunted, killed or possessed or sold during the close season for the possession of deer or venison, after the same have been killed.

SQUIRRELS (black and gray) AND RABBITS—Shall not be hunted, shot at, killed or possessed, after the same shall have been killed, between Feb. 15 and Oct. 14. The use of ferrets is prohibited. The provisions of this section shall not apply to Long Island.

WOLF—Grown, bounty thirty dollars; pup wolf, fifteen dollars.

PANTHER—Bounty twenty dollars.

Birds.

WILD FOWL.—Web-footed wild fowl, except geese and brant, shall not be hunted, possessed or sold, between May 1 and Sept. 1. Shall not be pursued, shot at or hunted between sunset and daylight. Gun raised at arm's length and fired from the shoulder, without rest, only to be used. Boats propelled by hand only or floating device to be used, except on Long Island Sound. Floating devices not to be used. Shall not be killed by the use of a bough-house, at a greater distance than fifty feet from either shore or a natural growth of grass or flags. If killed in violation of law, must not be brought to shore, sold or possessed. On the Hudson River, south of the Troy dam and its tributaries below that point, boats propelled by hand may be used for the purpose of shooting web-footed fowl.

QUAIL.—Closed season, Jan. 1 to Nov. 1. They shall not be sold or possessed between Feb. 1 and Nov. 1, but possession thereof between Jan. 1 and Feb. 1 is forbidden, unless proven by possessor that said birds were killed within lawful periods or out of the State. Shall not be killed or possessed in Genesee, Wyoming, Orleans, Livingston, Monroe, Cayuga, Seneca, Wayne, Tompkins, Tioga, Onondaga, Ontario, Steuben, Otsego and Cortland counties, until Nov. 1, 1898.

WOODCOCK AND GROUSE.—Closed season, Jan. 1 to Aug. 15. They shall not be sold or possessed between Feb. 1 and Aug. 15, and possession or sale thereof between Jan. 1 and Feb. 1 is forbidden, unless it be proved by possessor said birds were killed within the lawful period or out of the State.

PARTRIDGE.—The same as ruffed grouse. Trapping, netting and snaring prohibited, also possession of birds caught or killed by any such device, also the setting of nets, traps or snares.

SNIPE, WILSONS, commonly known as English snipe; PLOVER, RAIL, MUD HEN, GALLINULE, GREBE, BITTERN, SURF-BIRD, CURLEW, WATER CHICKEN, BAY SNIPE, SHORE BIRDS.—Close season, from May 1 to Sept. 1.

WILD BIRDS, except English sparrow, hawk, crane, crow, raven, crow black birds, common black birds or kingfishers, are not to be killed, caught or possessed after being killed, at any time except as above provided.

EAGLE.—Not to be caught or killed at any time, except under certificate, or possessed after being killed.

MEADOW LARKS AND ROBINS.—Shall not be killed at any time.

MONGOLIAN, RING-NECKED PHEASANT.—Shall not be killed prior to 1900.

NESTS of wild birds, except the English sparrow, hawk, crane, crow, raven, crow black bird, or kingfisher, shall not be robbed or needlessly destroyed, unless when necessary to protect buildings or prevent their defacement.

Fish.

NETS.—The only lawful method of catching fish in the inland waters of this State is by angling; all other devices are forbidden. There are some exceptions. The prohibition does not apply to minnows for bait. No device except angling shall be placed, drawn or used for the capture of any fish, except menhaden, in the waters of Raritan Bay, nor in the waters adjacent thereto in Richmond County, except that shad may be taken by shad-nets between March 15 and June 15, but nets shall not be allowed to remain in waters from Saturday at sunset to the following Monday at sunrise. Nets, set nets, pound or fykes, shall not be used in the Harlem River or East River, or adjacent waters or confluent brooks within five miles from Middlegate or between said Middlegate and Fort Schuyler. This shall not apply to nets used for catching lobsters or crabs in Harlem, North or East River, nor apply to the taking of minnows for bait.

Nets may be used in salt waters, except in the waters of Jamaica Bay or the inlet thereof, except that there eels may be caught by use of spear or eel-weir, and fish for bait or shrimp may be taken by means of hand or cast nets.

The meshes of nets used in Coney Island Creek to the mouth thereof, extending out into Gravesend Bay one-half mile each way, shall not be less than four inches square, except that for eel and flounder fishing hoop-nets with suitable meshes may be used within said bay between the 14th day of October and the 1st day of April.

Angling is defined to mean taking fish with hook and line or rod held in the hand, and does not include set lines.

ICE.—Fishing through the ice is forbidden in any waters inhabited by trout, salmon trout or land-locked salmon, with some exceptions.

TROUT—Close season betwen Sept. 1 and April 15.

SALMON TROUT AND LAND-LOCKED SALMON.—Close season, Oct. 1 to May 1.

BLACK BASS—Close season Jan. 1 to June 15.

OSWEGO BASS—Close season Jan. 1 to June 15.

MUSKALLONGE.—Close season, Feb. 28 to May 30.

SALMON.—Close season, Aug. 15 to March 1. If less than eighteen inches in length must be returned to waters from whence taken at once and without any unnecessary injury.

SHAD HERRING.—Close season in Rondout Creek, Hudson and Delaware rivers, from June 15 to March 15. For nets, operated by hand only, open season from March 14 to June 15, except from sunset on Friday until sunrise on the following Monday, at any time, and between Sept. 1 and May 30, bullheads, catfish, sunfish, suckers, eels, pickerel, sturgeon, white and yellow perch may be caught by means of hoop-nets, fykes and gill-nets in the Hudson River, Wallkill Creek, and in Rondout Creek, below the dam at Eddyville and in Wappinger's Creek. Nets shall not be set or used north of the dam at Troy. Sturgeon may be taken in the waters of the Hudson River with sturgeon nets between June 1 and Sept. 1.

WALL-EYED PIKE AND PICKEREL—Close season Feb. 1 to May 1, except that they may be taken with hook and line or spear, and muskallonge with hook and line, in any of the inland waters of this State not inhabited by trout or salmon of any kind, during the months of December, January and February, except in waters of Cortland County.

OYSTERS AND CLAMS—Oysters shall not be taken at any time from the Hudson River, north of the County of New York, for the purpose of conveying them to another State for replanting. Close season for oysters in Harlem River, from June 1 to Sept. 1. Oysters or clams shall not be dug up between one-half an hour after sunset and one-half an hour before sunrise, except in the waters of Kill von Kull and the Arthur Kill. Dredges operated by steam power, or weighing over fifty pounds, shall not be used on beds of natural growth in dredging for shell fish. Oysters, when not sold by count, must be sold in a stave measure, which shall be uniform in shape and of the following dimensions: The bottom to be sixteen and one-half inches across from inside to inside, and the top to be eighteen inches diagonally from inside chime to top; such measure shall be even or struck measure, to be inspected and sealed by the sealer of weights and measures in the county where used. This provision shall not affect the shipment of oysters in barrels to foreign countries. Oyster measures sealed by the county sealer may be used in any county of the State. (Penalty $25 for each violation.) Only persons who have been actual residents of this State for six months shall be entitled to gather shellfish from the waters of this State, except when such non-resident is employed for that purpose by a person authorized to gather the same. No rake, tongs, dredge or other device shall be used for taking hard or round clams with spaces or openings between the teeth or prongs of less than one inch.

The general State law applying to the leasing of land for the cultivation of shell fish does not apply to Queens County with certain exceptions. Suffolk County is also exempted from some of the provisions of the general State law.

Lobsters less than nine inches in length, measured from one extremity to the other, exclusive of claws or feelers, shall not be sold, caught or possessed.

Long Island.

The following provisions are special to Kings, Queens and Suffolk Counties; where there is no special law set forth the general law governs.

WILD FOWL—Close season for web-footed wild fowl, May 1 to Oct. 1. Shall not be pursued, shot at, hunted or killed between sunset and daylight. Floating devices may be used for the purpose of shooting web-footed wild fowl therefrom in Long Island Sound, Great South Bay, Shinnecock and Peconic Bays, and in any part of said counties said birds may be pursued and killed from boats propelled by hand and from any sail boats in Long Island Sound, Gardiner and Peconic Bays.

PLOVER, WILSONS (commonly known as English snipe), RAIL, SAND PIPER, MUD HEN, GALLINULE, GREBE, BITTERN, SURF BIRD, SNIPE, CURLEW, WATER CHICKEN, BAY SNIPE or SHORE BIRDS of any kind. Close season from Jan. 1 to July 1.

WOODCOCK, RUFFED GROUSE, PARTRIDGE, GROUSE.—Jan. 1 to Nov. 1 (Woodcock, Jan. 1 to Aug. 1). Shall not be sold or held between Feb. 1 and Nov. 1, and possession thereof between Jan. 1 and Feb. 1 is forbidden, unless proved by possessor or seller that said birds were killed within the lawful period for killing the same or out of the State.

QUAIL.—On Gardiner's Island may be shot between Oct. 14 and Feb. 1, and woodcock between Aug. 1 and Jan. 1, on Gardiner's and Robins Islands.

TROUT.—Close season Sept. 1 to March 29.

SALMON TROUT.—Oct. 1 to April 1.

LAND-LOCKED SALMON.—Oct. 1 to April 1.

BLACK BASS.—Jan. 1 to May 30.

HARES.—Close season, Jan. 1 to Nov. 1.

RABBITS.—Close season, Jan. 1 to Nov. 1.

DEER.—Shooting at, hunting with dogs or otherwise, or killing deer is prohibited, except during each Wednesday in the month of November in each year.

SQUIRRELS (black and gray).—Close season, Jan. 1 to Nov. 1.

JAMAICA BAY—Fish shall not be fished for, caught or killed by any device except angling, which shall be lawful on any day in the year in the waters of Jamaica Bay, or the inlet thereof, and nets shall not be placed in said waters for any purpose. The inlet of Jamaica Bay shall not be willfully obstructed by any net or device so as to prevent the passage of fish therein at any time. This section does not prevent the catching of eels by the use of spear or eel weir, or the capture of fish for bait or shrimp by means of hand or cast-nets.

TAKING OYSTERS IN SOUTH BAY REGULATED.—Oyster spawn, seed oysters or shells shall not be dug up, caught or removed from any of the waters of South Bay, in the County of Suffolk, between June 1 and Sept. 1, nor between sunset and sunrise at any time. Any oyster shells caught or taken from the public waters shall be returned to the water in the locality where taken within ten minutes after being so taken. No blade or scraper tongs shall be used, and possession of blade or scraper tongs on the waters is in violation of law.

Section 1,493 of the Greater New York charter provides that no persons shall kill, wound, trap, net, snare, catch with birdlime, or with any similar substance or drug, or in any other manner capture or sell, expose for sale, or transport during the months of April, May, June, July, August, September or October, in any year any bird of song, or any linnet, bluebird, yellowbird, thrush, woodpecker, catbird, pewee, swallow, martin, bluejay, oriole, killdee, snowbird, grassbird, grosbeak, phoebebird, hummingbird, blackbird, or wren, excepting birds bred in a cage or imported from Europe or the Southern United States. No person shall kill or expose for sale or have in his possession after the same has been killed, any robin, meadow lark or starling, between Jan. 1 and Oct. 15, save only when such birds are killed on the premises of the persons killing them, and while the birds are destroying fruit. This section does not apply to any person who shall kill any bird for the purpose of studying its habits or history, or having it stuffed and set up as a specimen.

St. Lawrence River.

WATERS OF THE THOUSAND ISLANDS.

BLACK BASS, PICKEREL, PIKE AND MUSKALLONGE—Close season from Jan. 1 to June 9. Fishing through the ice is prohibited. Size of black bass which may be taken is fixed at not less than ten inches. Limit of catch of bass is twelve to each person and twenty-four to one boat each day. No one is allowed to fish them in any other manner than by angling.

Forest Law.

All the wild or forest land now owned or hereafter acquired in the Counties of St. Lawrence, Franklin, Clinton, Essex, Warren, Washington, Hamilton, Herkimer, Oneida, Lewis, Greene, Ulster, Sullivan and Delaware, Fulton and Saratoga shall constitute the Forest Preserve and the same cannot be sold nor leased nor the timber thereon disposed of in any manner.

It is a misdemeanor to cut or carry away any tree, bark or timber on the forest preserve and in addition thereto the person cutting any timber thereon shall forfeit $10 for every tree cut or carried away by him.

The Fish and Game Protectors and Foresters may, without warrant, arrest any person found upon the forest preserve violating any of the laws for the protection of the same.

Fire wardens, appointed according to law, shall take such measures as may be necessary for the extinction of forest fires and may call on any person in their respective districts for assistance at such fires. A person refusing to assist shall forfeit to the people the sum of $10.

In towns outside of the forest preserve the supervisor is fire warden ex officio, and in the absence of the supervisor and fire warden in any town any justice of the peace may act. Any person who shall willfully or negligently set fire to, or assist another to set fire to any waste or forest lands belonging to the State or to another person, whereby such forests are injured or endangered; or who suffers any fire upon his own lands to escape or extend beyond the limits thereof to the injury of the woodlands of another or of the State, is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not to exceed $250, or both, and be liable to the person injured for all damages that may be caused by such fires.

BOWLING.

The third contest for the "Brooklyn Daily Eagle" bowling trophy, offered for competition among the clubs of the Royal Arcanum Bowling League, began on Carruthers' alleys Sept. 28, 1896, and was completed on May 4, 1897, Philadelphos Council winning. Great interest has thus far been manifested in the tourneys for this emblem, the first of which comprised only eight councils, Philadelphos being victor; the second, eighteen, De Witt Clinton winning; in the third no less than 29 councils competed. The record was:

AMERICAN LEADS.

In recent years the game has been wonderfully developed, mainly owing to "American Leads," which have greatly changed the game and rendered the combination of partners' hands easier and simpler. The complete table of these leads is appended:

*Lead as in a five card suit.
Lead as in a six card suit.

(1) If Q falls, follow with J.
(2) In trumps lead Q, if J is turned to your right.
(3) If partner has not shown strength in suit, lead lowest
(4) Lead 9 after A, holding J, 10, 9.
(5) If K wins, follow with original fourth best.
(6) If Q wins, follow with the fourth best remaining in hand.
(7) If 10 wins, follow with lowest.
If A falls and Q does not, follow with K.
If Q or A and Q fall, from four originally, follow with K; with J from more.

The cardinal principles of the game are:
1. Lead originally from your strongest suit.
2. Lead your fourth best card (except as above stated).
3. Lead the highest of a numerically weak suit.
4. Avoid changing suits.
5. Return the lowest of a strong suit, the highest of a weak suit.
6. Play your lowest card second hand.
7. Play the lowest of a sequence.
8. Play your highest card third hand.
9. Keep the command of your adversary's suit.
10. Get rid of the command of your partner's suit.
11. Discard from your weakest suit.
12. Afford information by your play.
13. Lead trumps when very strong in them.
14. Do not trump a doubtful card if strong in trumps.
15. Force a strong trump hand of the adversary.
16. Do not force your partner if you are weak in trumps.
17. Play to the score.
18. Watch the fall of the cards and draw your inferences at the time.

The table of leads given above is the original one and has been almost universally adopted. But as a result of analysis and of experience in actual play a great majority of the finest players now lead the 10 from Queen, Jack, 10 with one or more cards in suit, and the original fourth best from King, Jack, 10 and others. Also the fourth best from Ace and four small instead of the Ace.

The lead of the fourth best only applies in its integrity to the original or initial lead of the hand. Therefore, when the adversaries have shown strength, it is frequently unwise to show number and allow your hand to be counted, thereby giving them the precise information they desire.

CHESS.

The close of the season of 1897 finds the game of chess in America on a firmer footing than ever before, and in Brooklyn particularly very gratifying progress is being made right along, the formation of the Brooklyn Chess League being a direct result of the boom. The world of chess in general was kept pretty busy with the usual annual fixtures beside some additional events of a novel character, including the cable match between Congress and Parliament, and the first women's international tourney at London. The Newnes trophy went back to Great Britain, while the championship of the world and of the United States were both contested for, Lasker winning the former and Pillsbury the latter.

BERLIN TOURNAMENT—Sept. 13 to Oct. 5, 1897. 20 entries: S. Alapin, A. Albin, C. Von Bardeleben, J. H. Blackburne, A. Burn, H. Caro, R. Charousek, W. Cohn, B. Englisch, D. Janowski, G. Marco, J. Metger, E. Schiffers, K. Schlechter, H. Suechting, R. Teichmann, M. I. Tschigorin, C. A. Walbrodt, S. Winawer, A. Zinkl.

Winners:

N. Y. STATE CHESS ASSOCIATION—Annual winter meeting held in New York February 22, 1897. Championship tournament won by Eugene Delmar. Minor tournament was won by W. E. Napier of Brooklyn.

At the annual midsummer meeting, held at Thousand Islands, August 2-7, the Staats Zeitung cup was was contested for by three clubs, as follows: Brooklyn, W. E. Napier; Manhattan, S. Lipschutz; Staten Island, W. Steinitz. The result was a tie between Lipschutz and Steinitz, which was not played off. The cup has been won so far three times by the Manhattan Club and once each by the City, Metropolitan and Staten Island clubs.

A special feature of the meeting was an interstate team tourney between New York and Pennsylvania, seven on a side, resulting in favor of New York by 25½ to 23½.

The class tournament winners were the following: Class I, Prof. H. J. Rogers, Albany; Class II, C. P. Weeks, Rochester; Class III, E. D. Wright, Gloversville.

In the problem solving tournament H. N. Pillsbury solved M. Lissner's three mover in seven minutes and won the prize.

CYCLING.

EAGLE TROPHY.

The year 1897 was but another stepping stone in the wonderful progress of the cycle and cycling. The amount of riding increased during the year at the same rapid rate and a very great increase in the number of clubs was noted. Thousands of sanctions for race meets all over the country marked the interest in the sport of speed competitions. The style of paced races in which the competitors on single wheels follow crews of pacemakers mounted on all sizes of multicycles, inaugurated in this country at Manhattan Beach in 1896, secured a great foothold, due principally to the interest excited by Jimmy Michael, a 105 pound Welsh boy, whose feats at this game in this country startled the racing world. Michael successively brought the hour record up from 26 miles, 1,489 yards, to 32 miles, 649 yards, a few yards short of Stock's world's record of 32 miles, 1,086 yds. Other record work at the short distances was done and W. W. Hamilton's world's record, paced mile of 1:39 2-5, was lowered three times in as many weeks. The record is now 1:36 2-5, being held jointly by Stocks of England and E. A. McDuffee of Boston. The annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen was held at Philadelphia in August and the principal championships were run off there. F. J. Loughead a Canadian, won the ¼ and 1 mile; Earl Kiser of Dayton, the ½ mile, and A. C. Mertens of Minneapolis, the 5 miles. E. C. Bald won the ½ mile at Springfield, Mass. The one mile amateur was captured by Charles Ertz of New York.

The National Circuit and State circuits were again run and an extension of the former was carried through the Southern states with success. The good roads movement, unanimously attributed to the advent of the cyclist, spread with encouraging rapidity, and the local cyclists secured many concessions in the way of good roads and beneficial legislation. The Good Roads Association of Brooklyn and Long Island and the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island materially asisted in this movement locally.

Three clubs, the South Brooklyn Wheelmen, Kings County Wheelmen and Orient Wheelmen, competed on October 9 in the annual 10 mile team road race of the A. C. C. of L. I. for the Eagle trophy, finishing in the order named. The winning team was disqualified, and the contest declared no race, the trophy remaining in the possession of the Association for another year. R. A. Miller, of New York, won the Eagle medal for the one mile championship of Greater New York, at Manhattan Beach, June 22.

Hour records—American record, made Sept. 13, 1895, by F. J. Titus, 26 miles, 1489 yards, stood until November 21, 1896, when Jimmy Michael made it 29 miles. Lucien Lesna, of France, rode 30 miles 3091 feet 7 inches in 1 hour, at Charles River Park, August 14, 1897. In competition, Michael rode 31 miles, 1450 yards, at Manhattan Beach, September 25, 1897. J. W. Stocks rode 32 miles 1080 yards, at Crystal Palace, London, September 27, 1897.

Two hours—45 miles 1530 yards, L. S. Meintjes, Springfield, Sept. 14, 1893.

Six hours—107 miles, A. A. Hansen, Minneapolis, Sept. 21, 1894.

Twelve hours—203 miles 140 yards, F. E. Spooner, Chicago, July 8, 1893.

Eighteen hours—292 miles 440 yards, F. E. Spooner, Chicago, July 8-9, 1893.

Twenty-four hours—381 miles 1187 yards 1 foot, Louis Gimm, Cleveland, October 15-16, 1897.

One hundred and forty-two hours (six day world's record)—Teddy Hale, Madison Square Garden, December, 1896, 1910 miles 1424 yards.

December 12, 1897—Charles W. Miller, of Chicago, first, 1963 miles 885 yards; Joe Rice, Wilkesbarre, Pa., second, 1920 miles, 223 yards; Schinneer, third, 1895 miles, 1237 yards; Teddy Hale, fourth, 1819 miles, 665 yards. After the race the track was remeasured and found short of original measurement figures, which gave Miller 2093 miles. The above are the revised records, after the remeasurement of the track.

There were 36 entries and only 15 at the finish.

BASE BALL.

The season for 1897 from a Brooklyn standpoint of view proved to be disappointing. Manager Barnie's team gave evidence in the early part of the season that it would make a good showing, but it gradually fell off in strength and at one time it seemed as if it would finish in a position near the end. The team, however, recovered toward the close and finally captured sixth place, for which it was tied with Washington. Singularly enough, Brooklyn was tied with Washington in 1896 for ninth position.

The poor showing of the local team was due to weakness at second base and at shortstop, both Canavan and George Smith playing very poorly. The pitchers, too, did not do the good work expected of them. The New Yorks, under the captaincy and management of "Scrappy" Joyce, did much better, ending the season in third place. This was mainly due to Pitcher Rusie's return to the club.

Boston won the pennant in what proved to be the grandest and closest struggle for the championship in the history of the League. Baltimore was handicapped throughout the season by illness or injuries to its players, but it fought gamely and was only beaten by a percentage of .13 points. Boston thus won its eleventh pennant during the 27 years of its existence.

Brooklyn has signed a number of promising players and with the acquisition of William Hallman, an experienced and valuable second baseman, the team bids fair to give a better account of itself in 1898. Last season was the twenty-seventh of professional base ball, during which time the championship has been won as follows:

Temple Cup Series.

Baltimore, after losing the pennant to the Bostons, succeeded in capturing the Temple Cup for the second time. The series has been abolished by the National League, and the trophy returned to the donor, Mr. Temple of Pittsburg, as no team was able to win it for three consecutive seasons, according to the stipulated agreement. Five games were played in 1897, of which Boston captured one. The following table shows the result:

Where and When Played.	Winner.	Score.	Pitchers.

Brooklyn Amateur Base Ball Association.

The Sidney Base Ball Club in 1897 won, for the third consecutive time, the EAGLE cup in the series of the Brooklyn Amateur Base Ball Association, whose games are contested at Prospect Park. The trophy was offered by the EAGLE for perpetual competition among Association teams, each season's champions to hold it for one year. A championship pennant, also presented by the EAGLE to the Association, was won by the Sidneys, in addition to the cup.

CRICKET.

Cricket is not only holding its own, but gradually improving the foothold obtained here in America. During 1897 a team of Philadelphia cricketers made a tour in England, and met the English elevens on their own creases, with excellent success. P. F. Warner's team of Englishmen starred here during September and October, but by no means had a walkover. In Greater New York the standard of play is increasing each year. Brooklyn experienced a particularly lively season, and the pennant of the New York Cricket Association came to this side of the East River for the first time, in consequence of the Brooklyn Cricket Club's fine struggle. The N. J. A. C. first eleven had no trouble in defending its title to the championship of the Metropolitan District Cricket League, playing through the series without a reverse.

The complete records for the season of the two organizations follow:

THE INTERNATIONAL MATCHES.

A team of three famous British expert lawn tennis players visited America in 1897 and played through four of the big tournaments here, including the national championship. Dr. W. V. Eaves and H. A. Nisbet, of London, and H. S. Mahony, of Dublin, were the distinguished visitors, and during their tour here they met most of the best American experts. W. A. Larned, of Summitt, N. J., and R. D. Wrenn, of New York, were the best of the American players pitted against them, and they met the visitors in sixteen matches during their four weeks on American courts, winning thirteen of them. Wrenn was defeated once each by Nisbet and Eaves, while Larned was defeated once by Nisbet. On the other hand, Larned defeated Eaves twice, Nisbet three times and Mahony three times; while Wrenn defeated Nisbet once and Eaves and Mahony each twice.

The first of the international tournaments was at Longwood, when Larned defeated Mahony (5—7, 6—3, 6—2, 6—0), and then Nisbet (6—2, 6—3, 8—6), who had in the meantime disposed of Eaves. In the international "round robin" tournament at Hoboken the next week, Larned defeated Eaves (6—2, 4—6, 7—5, 6—4), Nisbet (6—2, 2—6, 6—4, 6—4), and Mahony (6—4, 7—5, 6—3). Wrenn defeated Mahony (7—5, 6—0, 6—3) and Nisbet (6—2, 6—3, 9—7), but lost to Eaves (7—9, 8—6, 6—0, 1—6, 6—4).

A second "round robin" international tournament was held in Chicago the following week, when Larned defeated Nisbet (11—9, 4—6, 8—6), Eaves (10—8, 5—7, 6—1), and Mahony (6—2, 6—4). Wrenn defeated Eaves (6—3, 1—6, 6—3), Mahony (6—2, 10—8), but lost to Nisbet (6—4, 5—7, 6—4). In the championship tournament at Newport Mahony was defeated in an early round by M. D. Whitman, of Harvard (9—7, 6—3, 3—6, 6—1). Nisbet defeated Larned (3—6, 2—6, 9—7, 6—4, 6—4) in the semi-finals, and then succumbed to Eaves in the final round (7—5, 6—3, 6—2). Eaves won the "all-comers" tournament and challenged Champion R. D. Wrenn, but was defeated, after an exciting five set match (4—6, 8—6, 6—3, 2—6, 6—2).

The Eagle Model Yacht Trophy.

The Brooklyn Daily Eagle in March, 1896, donated to the American Model Yacht Club of Brooklyn a cup to be held as a perpetual challenge trophy, open to challenge from any duly organized model yacht club in the United States under certain specified conditions.

Article II. of the conditions states: "The objects of this trophy are to stimulate the building and sailing of models of yachts on scientific principles, for the purpose of ascertaining the relative merits of different forms as to speed and seaworthiness."

The cup is of silver, 9½ inches in height, the bowl being over 6 inches in diameter. On one side is a large eagle with outstretched wings in bold relief. On the reverse side a model yacht under sail is delineated and the inscription, "Brooklyn Daily Eagle Perpetual Challenge Trophy for Model Yachts." The first challenge for the cup was made by the Wave Crest Miniature Yacht Club. The contest took place on Sept. 7, 1896, the challenger winning with the yacht Streak, the American Model Yacht Club defending with its yacht Gracie.

There was no contest in 1897 owing to the entire absence of wind on the day set apart for the trial races to select a challenger.

POLO TOURNAMENTS.

During the past three or four years, Polo has been gaining rapidly in popularity. This is especially true in Brooklyn, where the National Championship Tournaments have been played for the past three years, before crowds never less than 10,000, and on several occasions as large as 25,000. The Tournament games have been played on the Prospect Park Parade grounds, which is generally conceded to be the finest for the purpose in the East.

Polo, in this country, is under the control of the Polo Association, composed of twenty clubs, situated in all parts of the United States. Appended is a complete list of the clubs, members and latest handicaps, together with summaries of all Tournament games played during the season of 1897:

The Polo Association, Room 6, 15 Church st., N. Y. H. L. Herbert, Chairman.

GOLF TOURNAMENTS.

The year 1897 saw Golf, the ancient Scottish game, advance with wonderful strides in the United States. Hundreds of clubs sprang up all over the country and nearly every large city now boasts one or more links near its borders. The holding of annual championships for both men and women players has done much to foster the growing popularity of the game, and open tournaments and team matches among the clubs have assisted materially. With characteristic energy, this country has set an example to the very authors of the game by the institution of a national governing body, the United States Golf Association, and local bodies on similar lines have been formed in many of the big cities. The Metropolitan Golf Association embraces the clubs within a radius of fifty miles around New York. Locally the game has a large following and Brooklyn was the only city in this country that has ever boasted three courses within its limits. Greater New York has the only public links in this country, that in Van Cortlandt Park.

The annual tournament for the amateur championship of the United States Golf Association was held at Wheaton, Ill., on the links of the Chicago Golf Club, September 13-18, and victory again rested upon H. J. Whigham, the champion of 1896. Whigham is a native of Scotland and learned the game abroad, but plays in this country under the colors of the Onwentsia Golf Club of Chicago. The East made a good showing, W. R. Betts of the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club, defeating C. B. Macdonald, the champion of 1895, in the trials, and meeting Whigham in the final. Whigham won this 8 up and 6 to play, the victory bringing him the coveted title. Twenty-five players started in the championship and the following qualified in the 36 hole medal play round which was held Monday, September 13: C. B. Macdonald, Chicago Golf Club, 174; H. J. Whigham, Onwentsia, 177; A. H. Fenn, Palmetto, 178; Devereux Emmett, Oyster Bay, 181; Findlay Douglas, Fairfield County, 182; H. M. Harriman, Knollwood, 183; W. B. Betts, Shinnecock Hills, 185; R. D. Forgan, Chicago, 185; James A. Tyng, Morris County, 186; W. G. Stewart, Seabright, 190; George S. Willitts, Chicago, 191; James Stillman, Newport, 191; A. M. Coats, Newport, 191; John Reid, jr., New Haven, 196; H. R. Sweny, Albany, 196; J. R. Chadwick, Richmond County, 197. The first round at match play was held Tuesday morning, September 14, and resulted: C. B. Macdonald beat J. Reid, jr., 1 up; W. R. Betts beat G. S. Willitts, 1 up (19 holes); H. M. Harriman beat James A. Tyng, 3 up, 1 to play; A. M. Coats beat H. R. Sweny, 3 up, 2 to play; W. G. Stewart beat J. R. Chadwick, 3 up, 2 to play; A. H. Fenn beat Devreaux Emmett, 5 up, 3 to play; H. J. Whigham beat James Stillman, 4 up, 3 to play; Findlay S. Douglas beat D. R. Forgan, 4 up, 3 to play. The second round was played the same afternoon and resulted: Macdonald beat Stewart, 2 up; Whigham beat Coats, 1 up; Douglas beat Fenn, 5 up, 4 to play; Betts beat Harriman, 4 up, 3 to play. The semi-final round followed. This resulted: Whigham beat Douglas, 6 up, 5 to play; Betts beat Macdonald, 1 up (19 holes). The final was played Saturday, September 18, and Whigham beat Betts at 36 holes by 8 up and 6 to play.

The open championship was played on Friday over the same course and the field included twenty-five professionals and eleven amateurs. Joseph Lloyd, Essex County, won, with a total of 162. William Anderson, Watch Hill, with 163, was second. James Foulis, Chicago, 168, and Willie Dunn, New York, 168, tied for third place. All are profesionals. Whigham and Macdonald made the best amateur showing, finishing tenth and thirteenth, respectively. Herbert Harriman won the driving contest, with a drive of 244 yards, 7 inches, beating the professionals.

The third annual tourney for the women's championship was held on the links of the Essex County Golf Club at Manchester, Mass., August 26-27, and Miss Beatrix Hoyt of the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club was for the second time the winner. Mrs. Charles R. Brown of the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club, held the title in 1895. Twenty-eight players started and the eight who qualified were: Miss Beatrix Hoyt, Shinnecock Hills, 108; Miss N. C. Sargent, Essex County, 114; Mrs. R. C. Hooper, Essex County, 121; Miss Margaret Curtis, Essex County, 122; Miss C. E. Longworth, Cincinnati Golf Club, 123; Mrs. J. Warren Merrill, Essex County, 125; Miss Lucy Herron, Cincinnati Golf Club, 130; Miss F. C. Griscom, Merion Cricket Club, 131.

Of these, Miss Hoyt, Miss Sargent, Miss Griscom and Miss Longworth survived the first round at match play. In the semi-final round, Miss Hoyt beat Miss Longworth, 6 up, and four to play, and Miss Sargent beat Miss Griscom 3 up and 2 to play. Miss Hoyt won the final, 5 up and 4 to play, from Miss Sargent.

LONG ISLAND TOURNAMENTS.

Among the open tourneys which were held by the larger clubs all over the country, the Long Island meetings took a prominent place. Five open tournaments were held; by the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club, Meadowbrook Hunt Club, Oakland Golf Club, Queens County Golf Club and Westbrook Golf Club.

The Shinnecock tourney, on the links at Southampton, opened Tuesday, July 27, 1897, and continued through Saturday, July 31. James A. Tyng won the President's cup, beating Foxhall Keene, 3 up and 2 to play in the final. Walter J. Travis beat Louis E. Laroque, Jr., 3 up and 2 to play for the Consolation cup. An open handicap, with ninety-five starters, held Saturday afternoon, July 31, 1897, resulted in a four-handed tie. In the play off C. D. Barnes of Shinnecock won, with 95—10—85, from L. E. Laroque, C. W. Barnes and W. H. Coles.

The Westbrook Golf Club's tourney began Wednesday, September 8, on the Islip links and ended Saturday, September 11. The Westbrook cup was won by W. J. Travis, who met W. Hayard Cutting, Jr., in the final, defeating him 7 up and 6 to play, 36 holes. C. L. Tappin defeated S. A. Jennings 4 up and 2 to play. T. G. Strong won the open handicap, with 100—18—82. Mrs. J. C. Tappin and Harold Tappin won the mixed foursome handicap, 116—20—96.

The Meadow Brook's tourney opened Thursday, Oct. 30, and continued three days, with a large attendance. Q. A. Shaw, of Myopia, won the Fall cup from James A. Tyng, 6 up and 5 to play. C. L. Tappin won the Consolation trophy from F. O. Beach, 1 up. Tappin also won the handicap, with 89—8—81.

The Oakland Golf Club's tourney at Bayside opened Monday, Oct. 11, and closed Wednesday, Oct. 13. The Oakland Cup was won by Walter J. Travis, who defeated M. R. Wright 4 up and 2 to play. This trophy is a challenge cup and must be won twice before becoming the property of any one player. Townsend Lawrence defeated L. E. Embree in the Consolation final, 1 up (19 holes). Frank Siddler won the open handicap with 101—9—92.

The Queens County Golf Club's meeting at Glen Cove, from Thursday, Oct. 15 to Saturday, Oct. 17, closed the Long Island open tournament season. W. G. Stewart, an English golfer, won the Queens County Cup, defeating Deveraux Emmett 4 up and 3 to play. The North Country Cup went to C. O. Gates, who beat H. N. Adams, 4 up and 2 to play. T. W. Stiles won the Glen Cove trophy, beating H. L. Riker 9 up and 8 to play.

JURY SERVICE QUALIFICATIONS.

To be qualified to serve, a person must be not less than 21 nor more than 60 years of age in Kings County, and 70 years in New York County, and he must be a male citizen of the United States, and a resident of the city and county; and he is a resident within the meaning of the jury law, if he dwells or lodges here the greater part of the time between the first day of October and the last day of June. He must be the owner in his own right of real or personal property of the value of $250; or the husband of a woman who is the owner, in her own right, of real or personal property of that value. He must also be in the possession of his natural faculties, and not be infirm or decrepit; intelligent; of good character and able to read and write the English language understandingly.

The following persons are entitled to exemption: A clergyman, minister of any religion officiating as such, and not following any other calling. A practicing physician, surgeon or surgeon-dentist not following any other calling, and a licensed pharmaceutist or pharmacist while actually engaged in his profession as a means of livelihood. An attorney or counsellor-at-law regularly engaged in the practice of law as a means of livelihood. A professor or teacher in a college, academy or public school, not following any other calling. Editor, editorial writer or reporter of a daily newspaper regularly employed as such, and not following any other vocation. The holder of an office under the United States, or the State or City or County of New York, whose official duties at the time prevent his attendance as a juror. A consul of a foreign nation. A captain, engineer or other officer actually employed upon a vessel making regular trips; a licensed pilot, actually following that calling. A superintendent, conductor or engineer employed by a railway company other than a street railroad company, or a telegraph operator, employed by a telegraph company who is actually doing duty in an office, or along the railroad or telegraph line of the company by which he is employed. Honorably discharged firemen. Active and honorably discharged militiamen and active members of the Old Guard. Inspectors, poll clerks and ballot clerks, or a person who is physically incapable. Grand, sheriff's, civil court jurors and special jurors.

SPECIAL JURY SERVICE.

Each special juror shall have the following qualifications: He shall be a male citizen of the United States of at least ten years' standing and a resident of the county, and he shall be not less than 30, nor more than 70 years of age; he shall be in possession of his natural faculties and not infirm; he shall be free from all legal exceptions; of good character; of approved integrity intelligent; of sound judgment and well informed.

The special jury commissioners shall not select as a special juror any person who is by law disqualified or exempt from service as a trial juror nor shall he select any person who has been convicted of a criminal offense, or found guilty of fraud or other misconduct by the judgment of any civil court; nor any person who possesses such conscientious opinions with regard to the death penalty as would preclude his finding a defendant guilty of the crime charged if it be punishable with death; nor any person who possesses such opinions as would prevent his finding a verdict of guilty in any case upon circumstantial evidence; nor any person who doubts his ability to lay aside opinions or impressions formed from newspaper reading or hearsay, and to render an impartial verdict upon evidence uninfluenced by any such opinions or impressions; nor any person who avows such a prejudice against any law of the state as would preclude his finding a defendant guilty of violating such law; nor any person who avows such a prejudice against any particular defense to a criminal charge as would prevent his giving a fair and impartial trial upon the merits of such defense; nor any person who avows that he cannot in all cases give to a defendant who fails to testify in his own behalf the full benefit of the statutory provision that his neglect or refusal to so testify as a witness in his own behalf does not create any presumption against him.

POSTAL REGULATIONS.

Domestic mail matter is divided into four classes; summed up briefly, the law governing the same is as follows:

Classes.	Postage.	Limit Weight.
FIRST CLASS — Letters, Postal Cards and Sealed Packages ...	2 cts. each oz. or fraction.	No. limit.
SECOND CLASS.—Newspapers and Periodical Publications that have been entered as Second Class Matter, when mailed by persons other than the publishers	1 ct. four ounces or fraction.	No limit.
THIRD CLASS.—Circulars, Books and Matter wholly in print, Engravings, Lithographs, Photos, Blanks, Checks, Deeds, Insurance Policies, etc. Proofs with manuscript accompanying same, matter reproduced by electric pen, hectograph or other like process, not in nature of personal correspondence, Visiting Cards, Business Cards, etc	1 ct. each two ounces or fraction.	4 lbs. except single books
FOURTH CLASS. — Merchandise and Matter not included in any of the above classes.....	1 ct. each ounce or fraction.	4 lbs.

WHAT CANNOT BE MAILED.

The following are absolutely unmailable under any circumstances: Liquids, ardent, vinous, spirituous or malt, or those liable to explosion or spontaneous ignition or combustion by shock or jar, inflammable oils, poisons, explosives, animals, alive or dead (stuffed natural specimens excepted), explosive or poisonous powders, matches and other articles easily inflammable, fresh fruit and vegetables liable to decomposition, insects (except queen bees and their attendant bees and dried insects when safely secured), substances exhaling an offensive odor, all other articles (not securely wrapped or cased, and then safely packed in hard wood or metal boxes with screw lids or secured by clasp or slide, strictly conforming to methods prescribed by the post office department) which are liable to destroy, deface or damage other mail matter, or to harm the person of any one in the postal service; obscene and indecent books, prints, writings or papers; all letters upon the envelopes of which, or postal cards upon which indecent, lewd, obscene or lascivious delineations, epithets, terms or language are written or printed; all matter concerning lotteries, so-called gift concerts, or other similar enterprises offering prizes, or concerning schemes devised or intended to defraud the public or for the purpose of obtaining money under false pretences, and all mail matter not addressed to a post office or to no particular person, firm, company or publication.

FOREIGN.

Mail matter addressed to countries in the postal union or any other part of the civilized world is subject to the following rates: For letters and sealed packages, 5 cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof, if prepaid, and double that rate if not prepaid. Postal cards, 2 cents each.

For printed matter of every kind, commercial papers and samples of merchandise the rate is 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof, but at least 5 cents must be paid on each packet of commercial papers and at least 2 on each packet of samples of merchandise.

UNIVERSAL POSTAL UNION.

By virtue of the authority conferred upon the Postmaster-General by section 3,912 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, and in view of the fact that all the countries and colonies of the civilized world, with the exception of the Cape Colony, the Orange Free State and certain islands, are now embraced in the Universal Postal Union, it has been ordered that on and after the 1st of January, 1895, the postage rates and conditions applicable to articles of correspondence mailed in the United States addressed for delivery within the Universal Postal Union, shall be applicable also to similar articles addressed for delivery at places not embraced in the Universal Postal Union. This order does not apply to articles destined for Canada, Mexico or the United States Postal Agency at Shanghai, China, to which more liberal postage rates and conditions now apply.

MEXICO AND CANADA.

Matter mailed in the United States, addressed to Mexico, is subject to the same postage rates and conditions as it would be if it were addressed for delivery in the United States, except that articles of miscellaneous merchandise (fourth class matter), not sent as bona fide trade samples, are required to be sent by "Parcel Post," and that the following articles are absolutely excluded from the mails without regard to amount of postage prepaid, or the manner in which they are wrapped, viz.:

All sealed packages other than letters in their usual and ordinary form; all packages (including packages of second class matter which weighed more than four pounds six ounces), except such as are sent by parcel post; liquids, pastes, confections and fatty substances; publications which violate any copyright law of Mexico.

Samples of merchandise: Packets not in excess of four ounces, two cents. Packets in excess of four ounces, for each two ounces or fraction thereof, one cent.

Mail matter in the United States addressed to Canada is subject to the same postage rates and conditions as it would be if it were addressed for delivery in the United States, except that the following articles are absolutely excluded from the mails without regard to the amount of postage prepaid or the manner in which they are wrapped, viz.:

All sealed packages other than letters in their usual and ordinary forms; all packages, except single volumes of printed books and packages of second class matter, which weigh more than four pounds six ounces; publications which violate any copyright law of Canada.

Unsealed packages of "commercial papers" shall be admitted to the mails dispatched from this country to Mexico and Canada, at the same rate of postage and subject to the same conditions as to weight and dimensions as apply to commercial papers in the mails dispatched to other countries of the Universal Postal Union.

FOREIGN PARCELS LOST.

Parcel Post Conventions having been concluded between the United States and Jamaica, including the Turk's and Caicos Islands, Honduras, British Honduras, British Guiana, Bahama Islands, Barbados, Danish West Indies (St. Croix, St. John's and St. Thomas), Costa Rica, Mexico, Republic of Colombia, Hawaiian Kingdom, Newfoundland, Leeward Islands and the Republic of Salvador, Windward Islands (Grenada, St. Lucia, St. Vincent and the Grenadines), the attention of the public is called to the following provisions thereof, which apply in the United States to parcels of merchandise—other than samples—and all other articles not prohibited.

For parcel not exceeding 1 pound in weight ..... 12 cts
For every additional pound or fraction of a pound ..... 12 cts

The dimensions allowed are:
Greatest length .....3 feet 6 inches

DOMESTIC MATTER—REGISTERED MAIL.

Any article of the first, second, third or fourth class of mail matter may be registered at any Post Office in the United States.

The fee on registered matter, domestic or foreign, is 8 cents for each letter or parcel, to be affixed in stamps, in addition to the postage. Full prepayment of postage and fee is required. Two or more letters or parcels addressed to, or intended for, the same person cannot be tied or otherwise fastened together and registered as one.

A return receipt signed by the addressee and showing delivery is returned to the sender of each Domestic registered letter or parcel, for which service there is no extra charge.

Letters and packages containing money or articles of value should be registered and never be deposited for transmission by ordinary mails.

FOREIGN MAIL MATTER.

1. Any article of mail matter may be registered, provided that when presented for registration the postage thereon be fully prepaid (at the rate which applies to the class in which it belongs) by postage stamps affixed, and, in addition, in the same manner the registration fee, which is uniformly 8 cents.

2. The name and address in full of the sender must be indorsed on or written across the end of the letter or other article before it can be registered.

3. The sender of any registered article may obtain assurance of its receipt by the person addressed by indorsing it with the words, "Return receipt requested."

SPECIAL DELIVERY SYSTEM.

The law establishing the Special Delivery System provides for the issue of a special stamp of the face valuation of ten cents, which when attached to a letter or package (in addition to the lawful postage thereon) will entitle such letter or package to immediate delivery within the carrier limit of a free delivery office betwene the hours of 7 A. M. and 11 P. M., by messengers, and on Sundays in Brooklyn from 8 to 10 A. M., and 2 P. M. to 9 P. M. in General Post Office district.

NEWSPAPER AND PACKAGE BOXES.

For public convenience, newspaper and package boxes for the receipt of mail matter too large for the ordinary street letter box have been placed at 130 principal points throughout the city. These boxes are collected twice a day, Sundays excepted.

THE TROLLEY MAIL SERVICE.

The utilization of the electric trolley railroads in this city in connection with the postal service was begun on August 8, 1894, over the Fifth Avenue and West End division of the Atlantic Avenue Railroad to Coney Island, mails then being exchanged with Station "V" and seven suburban offices. This service has since been extended over the Third avenue line to Stations "C" and "N," over the Flatbush line to Station "F," over the lines of the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company through Fulton street to Stations "B," "D," "E," "S," "A" and "W," and on the Crosstown line to Station "G," and Long Island City, taking the place of the wagon service.

Collections are taken on the cars running through Fulton street and Broadway and mail is assorted and canceled in transit, making primary distribution for the General Post Office.

NOTICE.—The time of arrivals of mails as stated is subject to the delays that may be occasioned by the lateness of trains, which is liable to occur, especially during the winter season.

The time shown in the following list is the time mails close at General Post Office and the time mails are due at Post Office.

MAILS BETWEEN BRANCH P. O. STATIONS.

Mail matter deposited at a Branch P. O. Station (or in a street letter box within its district), and addressed for delivery within the district of another station, is made up and dispatched direct to the latter. These dispatches of local matter are made at short intervals throughout the day, mails being thus exchanged between the principal stations from 17 to 32 times on week days and from 3 to 6 times on Sundays.

SPECIAL DELIVERY MATTER.

Special Delivery matter is delivered from the General Post Office and all Branches, between the hours of 7.00 A.M. and 11.00 P.M. daily, including Sundays.

Sub-Stations.

The Sub-Stations of the New York Post Office are established in order to provide the residents in their vicinity with facilities for

1. The purchase of postage stamps, postal cards and stamped envelopes, in such quantities as may serve their immediate needs. Larger quantities may be purchased at any Branch Post Office.

2. The procuring of money orders payable in the United States. International money orders may be obtained at all Branch Post Office Stations.

3. The registration of letters addressed to Post Offices in the United States or in foreign countries. Packages of merchandise and any article other than letters should not be presented here for registration (except singly or in small quantities), but may be registered at the Branch Office.

4. The mailing (in limited quantities only) of newspapers and packages too large to be deposited in street letter boxes. Packages of merchandise in quantities from dealers or others cannot be received at Sub-Stations for mailing, but should be taken to the General Post Office or a Branch Post Office Station, where there are facilities for receiving and handling the same which cannot be supplied in the limited space afforded at Sub-Stations. Packages will be received (singly or in limited numbers only) for dispatch by Parcel Post to countries with which the United States has Parcel Post Conventions. Letters may, but need not, be deposited at Sub-Stations, as they will be collected from the street letter boxes and forwarded to destination as frequently and expeditiously as if mailed at the Sub-Station.

GREATER NEW YORK.

The question of creating one large city by combining New York with Brooklyn and several smaller contiguous cities and towns first took tangible shape when the Legislature by Chapter 311, Laws of 1890, created the Commission of Municipal Consolidation Inquiry to inquire into the expediency of the proposed consolidation and to submit a report with recommendations. The commission is composed of 11 members: Andrew H. Green, President; Frederick W. Devoe, John L. Hamilton, J. Seaver Page of New York; J. S. T. Stranahan, Vice-Pres.; Edward F. Linton, Wm. D. Veeder, of Brooklyn; John H. Brinckerhoff, of Queens County; George G. Greenfield, of Richmond County; Charles P. McClelland, of Westchester County, and Campbell W. Adams, State Engineer and Surveyor, ex-officio. Albert E. Henschel is secretary. The office of the Commission is at 214 Broadway, New York.

This Commission presented a bill to the Legislature of 1893 submitting the question of consolidation to a vote of the people of the district affected. Although this bill was supported by a petition of over 10,000 names from Brooklyn and by a large visiting delegation, it failed to come to a vote before the Legislature of 1893 adjourned. The same bill, however, was reintroduced in 1894, passed and was signed by the Governor. This law (Chapter 64, Laws of 1894) provides merely for a public vote and for an official certification of that vote to the Secretary of State. It also states that each ballot "shall be deemed and taken as an expression of the voter, as the case may be, in favor of or against the consolidation of the territory under one municipal government." The Commission of Municipal Consolidation Inquiry made this statement concerning the vote on Oct. 15, 1894: "Your vote is only a simple expression of opinion. Actual consolidation does not come until the Legislature acts. Electors will please observe that this vote amounts to nothing more than a simple expression of opinion on the general subject of consolidation. It is merely the gathering of the sentiment of the electors of each municipality advisory as to the future proceedings. If every ballot in a city or town were cast in favor of consolidation there would be no finality about it; no consolidation would result until further action by the Legislature prescribing methods, terms and conditions." The following is the vote cast at the election (Nov. 6, 1894): New York, for consolidation, 96,938; against, 59,959; Kings, for, 64,744; against, 64,467; Queens, for, 7,712; against, 4,741; Richmond, for, 5,531; against, 1,605; Mount Vernon, for, 873; against, 1,603; Eastchester, for, 374; against, 260; Westchester, for, 620; against, 621; Pelham, for, 261; against, 153.

All the districts voted in favor of consolidation except the city of Mount Vernon, the town of Westchester and the township of Flushing (1,144 for, 1,407 against). The majority in Kings County in favor of consolidation was 277, in a total vote of 129,211, but the City of Brooklyn proper, as constituted when the act passed authorizing the vote, and exclusive of the county towns, annexed five months prior to the election, voted against consolidation by 1,034 majority.

On the first day of the session of 1895 the Commission of Municipal Consolidation Inquiry presented a report to the Legislature, and with it a measure declaring the entire district affected (with the exception of the city of Mount Vernon), consolidated with the city of New York. This measure failed because of the adoption of a referendum amendment in the last hours of the session of 1895, too late for further action.

As a partial result of the consolidation movement, the Legislature of 1895 did, however, annex the towns of Westchester, Eastchester, Pelham and other parts of Westchester County to the city of New York.

Early in January, 1896, the Legislature appointed a joint sub-committee of the Cities Committees of both houses, consisting of four Senators and five Assemblymen, to inquire into the subject of the proposed consolidation and report March 11, 1896.

The committee, with Senator Lexow as chairman, made a report and submitted a bill favoring consolidation. On March 27 the bill passed the Assembly by a vote of 91 to 56. On March 11 the bill passed the Senate by a vote of 35 to 8. It was then submitted to the Mayors of New York city, Brooklyn and Long Island City. Mayors Strong, of New York, and Wurster, of Brooklyn, vetoed the measure and Mayor Gleason, of Long Island City, approved it. These messages were read in the Senate chamber on April 14 and on April 15 the bill was repassed over the vetoes of the two Mayors by a vote of 34 to 14. On April 22 the bill passed the Assembly by a vote of 78 to 69. The number of votes necessary to pass the bill was 76. From New York city 33 votes were cast; of these 25 were against the bill and 8 were in favor of it; 23 of the 25 negative were supplied by Tammany Hall and 2 by the Republican party. Of the 8 affirmative votes, 6 were Republican and 2 were Tammany Hall. From Kings County 21 votes were cast; 15 were against the bill—3 Republicans and 7 Democrats; 6 were for the bill—3 Republicans and 3 Democrats.

On April 28 a mass meeting was held in Cooper Union to protest against the consolidation measure. The speakers were A. A. Low, Cornelius N. Bliss, William C. Redfield, James C. Carter and Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, and a letter from Rev. Dr. Parkhurst was read. Resolutions were adopted asking the Governor to veto the bill.

In December of 1892 the Consolidation League of Brooklyn was formed by a few gentlemen at the Montauk Club. Among them were Wm. J. Gaynor, James Matthews, James McMahon, John Gibb, Abram Abraham, Louis Liebmann, Edward C. Graves, Edward M. Grout, George W. Chauncey and John Lefferts, Jr. They called a public meeting and soon had a constitution and a central committee of 120. They elected James Matthews president, John McMahon treasurer and Sanders Shanks, secretary.

The opposition to annexation took definite shape in the formation, Nov. 12, 1894, of the League of Loyal Citizens. This organization published a series of six pamphlets, numerous leaflets, letters and circulars, and for most of the year 1895 published a weekly journal called "Greater Brooklyn." The flag of Brooklyn was the standard of the new movement. The League of Loyal Citizens actively combated the consolidation bill prepared in 1895 by the Commission of Municipal Consolidation Inquiry and strongly urged the referendum amendment, which defeated that bill. It introduced into the legislature of 1896 a bill for the resubmission of the whole question anew to the people. This bill was supported by a petition of over 72,000 Brooklyn voters. The officers of the League were: William C. Redfield, Pres.; A. F. Britton, D. G. Harriman, Vice-Prests.; A. A. Low, Treas.; Edward Barr, Sec.; J. O. Cleaveland, Chairman Executive Committee.

The Act to Consolidate.

On May 11, 1896, Governor Morton signed the bill and it became a law. The text was as follows:

Section 1. All the municipal corporations and parts of municipal corporations, other than counties, within the following territory, to wit: The county of Kings, the county of Richmond, the city of Long Island City, the towns of Newtown, Flushing and Jamaica, and that part of the town of Hempstead, in the county of Queens, which is westerly of a straight line drawn from the southeasterly point of the town of Flushing through the middle of the channel between Rockaway Beach and Shelter Island, in the county of Queens, to the Atlantic Ocean, are hereby consolidated with the municipal corporation known as the mayor, aldermen and commonalty of the city of New York.

Sec. 2. For all purposes the local administration and government of the territories in section one of this act enumerated shall remain in and be performed and exercised by the respective bodies, politic and corporate, to which they are now intrusted, until and except so far as hereafter changed by authority of law; and for such purposes, and until such time, and except to such extent, the said bodies politic and corporate shall continue to exist, and to possess the same rights, properties, privileges and franchises, and to exercise the same powers, and discharge the same duties, and be subjected to the same liabilities, and the various officers thereof shall be elected or appointed in the same manner, as heretofore.

Sec. 3. The president of the commission appointed under chapter three hundred and eleven of the laws of eighteen hundred and ninety, the mayors respectively of the city of New York, Brooklyn and Long Island City, the state engineer and surveyor, the attorney general, and nine other persons, residents of the territory of said municipal corporation as so enlarged, who shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall be commissioners, and are hereby authorized and directed, on or before the first day of February, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, to make a final report to the legislature, and submit therewith such bills as will, upon their enactment into laws, provide a government for the municipal corporation, the mayor, aldermen and commonalty of the city of New York, as by this act enlarged, and, among other things, for attaining an equal and uniform rate of taxation, and of valuation for the purposes of taxation, throughout the whole of the territory and of the said municipal corporation as so enlarged, and that said commission shall cease to exist on the first day of March, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven. Said commission may, in and for the performance of said work, employ counsel and such other persons as it may deem necessary, and fix their compensations; subpoena witnesses, compel the production before it of any public record or document of any of the bodies politic or corporate aforesaid, administer oaths, and examine thereunder any person touching the subject-matter, hereby committed to its charge; and each of the said bodies politic and corporate, its agents and servants, is hereby directed, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, to furnish to the said commission, or its representative, free access at all reasonable hours, to all such records and documents, and all information, within its possession or under its control. The said commission shall proceed as continuously as may be with the work aforesaid, and shall, from time to time, report to the legislature its progress therein, and its recommendations, and shall prepare and submit to the legislature, bills in proper form for enactment, embodying such recommendations with a proposed charter, or bills for the government of such consolidated municipality, and providing further for the election of a mayor and the other municipal officers therein provided for, at the general election to be held in the year A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-seven.

Sec. 4. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, each of the cities of New York and Brooklyn shall raise such proportion of the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars as the value of all its real property, as fixed by the Board of State Assessors for the purpose of State taxation, bears to the aggregate value, as so fixed, of all the real property in both cities. Upon the requisition of said Commission upon the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of either of said cities, such Board shall raise the whole or any part of the proportion of said sum to be raised by such city from any unexpended balance of appropriation in such city, for any year prior to the year eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, or by the issue of revenue bonds of such city in the manner provided by law, or by the inclusion thereof in the annual tax levy upon real and personal property liable to taxation in such city. Payments shall be made to the Comptroller of each of said cities, from the respective proportions of said sum so to be raised by each of said cities, for the expenses incurred by the said Commission in carrying out the provisions of this act, upon vouchers certified by the said Commission, or by such officer or officers thereof as it may designate for that purpose, in form to be approved by the Comptroller making such payment.

Sec. 5. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as attempting or intending to affect, in any way, the boundaries, government, rights, powers, duties, obligations, limitations or disabilities of any county, or officer thereof, as fixed by the Constitution, or otherwise.

Sec. 6. Section one of this act shall take effect on the first day of January, in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-eight; sections two, three, four and five of this act shall take effect immediately.

On June 9, Governor Morton appointed the following gentlemen as members of the Greater New York Commission:

The Commissioners.

Seth Low, Benjamin F. Tracy, John F. Dillon, Comptroller Ashbel P. Fitch, Stewart L. Woodford, Silas B. Dutcher, William C. De Witt, George M. Pinney, Jr.; Harrison S. Moore.

The following were those named by the act: Andrew H. Green, State Engineer Campbell W. Adams, Attorney General Theodore E. Hancock, Mayor William L. Strong, of New York; Mayor Frederick W. Wurster, of Brooklyn; Mayor Patrick Jerome Gleason, of Long Island City.

Mr. Fitch resigned from the Commission and Thomas F. Gilroy was appointed in his place.

The Commission organized on June 25 with Benjamin F. Tracy as President and George M. Pinney, Jr., Secretary, and a Committee on Draft was appointed, consisting of William C. De Witt, John F. Dillon, Thomas F. Gilroy, Seth Low, Andrew H. Green and President Benjamin F. Tracy and Secretary George M. Pinney, Jr. Mr. William C. De Witt was appointed chairman of a subcommittee to prepare a preliminary draft of the proposed Charter. This committee submitted its report on September 21, 1896. In preparing this draft Mr. De Witt was assisted by David J. Dean, Assistant Corporation Counsel of New York

The charter having been submitted to the Legislature, was amended in many particulars, and adopted by that body, as Chapter 378 of the Laws of 1897, under the following title:

An act to unite into one municipality under the corporate name of the City of New York, the various communities lying in and about New York Harbor, including the City and County of New York, the City of Brooklyn and the County of Kings, the County of Richmond and part of the County of Queens and to provide for the government thereof.

While this charter was pending the action of the Governor, Brooklyn and Long Island City forwarded to him their acceptance of it as passed by the Legislature. The City of New York indicated its non-acceptance.

The charter was approved by the Governor May 2, 1897, when it became law.

For a synopsis of the charter see "Municipal Government."

At the election held on November 2, 1897, all the elective officials from Mayor down, as provided by the charter, were voted for by the people, with the results which are given in another part of this Almanac.

The Growth of Brooklyn in Twenty-three Years.

Table prepared by EDWIN BOLTHO, of the Department of Assessment.

In the following is presented a comparison of Brooklyn's development since the year 1875, at which period the yearly number and assessed valuation of the new buildings erected in the city was first computed from the records.

The table includes the population as enumerated in the State census returns of 1875, and also as estimated at the present time from the latest official data obtainable; together with the area of the city by wards, based upon recent legislative enactments governing the boundaries thereof, and carefully revised measurements compiled in the Department of City Works.

The density of the population to the acre in each ward is also appended.

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN, 1897.

The provincialism which is always a characteristic of great cities; placing an importance upon local happenings that far overshadows events in the outside world, made the municipal campaign of 1897 the most important and exciting that the communities making up the Greater New York have ever experienced. Even the national campaign of 1896 sank into comparative insignificance. The patronage to be distributed; the spoils of office, aggregating nearly $30,000,000 per year to be won, aroused every keen faculty of the placehunter that had grown dormant under successive years of reform administration in the two leading municipalities, and the most vigorous efforts were put forth, early in the year, to secure control of party organizations; or in the formation of petty bands or auxiliaries, whose allegiance could be disposed of, to some substantial advantage. It was well along in the year, however, before party lines were well enough defined so that some system of assimilation could be brought about, and at one time there threatened to be as many tickets in the field as there were ward organizations in the cities.

The chief parties in the field while fully desirous of such harmony and unity among factions as would place success at the polls beyond peradventure, could scarcely be expected, in view of the importance of the victory to be won, to surrender a part of their organization to men whom they claimed had failed in their allegiance to party, and the result was exceedingly disastrous to at least one organization.

The intense localism of the contest is illustrated by the fact that while one or two of the parties made national issues a part of their platforms, those issues scarcely roused a thought during the campaign, while the party that distinctly ignored them came off victorious.

The history of the formative movement and final crystallization into organizations of the various parties is long, intricate, but interesting Its details, minutely rehearsed in the press, will remain impressed upon the public mind for some time to come. Suffice to say that eight parties finally complied with the law regarding petitions, and their candidates were voted for on November 23. They were the Republican, Democratic, National Democracy, Socialistic-Labor, Prohibition, Citizens' Union, Democracy of Thomas Jefferson and the Battle Ax Democracy, known under its motto of "Neither Tea Nor Tiger."

The Citizens' Union.

The first party practically in the field was the Citizens' Union, made up of men formerly identified with the original Committee of Seventy, in charge of the first reform campaign in New York City in 1894; of members of both the old parties, who were opposed to a rigid and unyielding organization control, and of men desirous of non-partisan and honest administration of the interests of the great municipality. The authorized nominating committee of this organization made up of representatives of the four boroughs of Manhattan, Bronx, Queens and Richmond, met at 32 Liberty street, New York, on September 1st, and put in nomination for Mayor, Seth Low, president of Columbia College, and a former mayor of Brooklyn. Three days later the nomination was offered Mr. Low at his summer home in Maine and was formally accepted by him in a letter dated September 13th. One of the conditions made by Mr. Low was that he should be free to administer the office of Mayor, if elected, as his experience and conscience should dictate, untrammeled by set party obligations, and as a result the Citizens' Union adopted no regular party platform, making the pledges of Mr. Low's letter of acceptance the tenets of its faith during its campaign. Briefly stated, Mr. Low's letter asserted that he was a Republican, but would administer the office of Mayor free from partisan obligations; that he believed in impartial enforcement of the Civil Service laws; in home rule for cities unhampered by legislative control; in city ownership of franchises; in speedy completion of the Rapid Transit system; in improvements in schools and docks and other public projects; in just administration of the labor laws, and in improved excise legislation in harmony with the real sentiments of the people affected by it.

Understanding the strong necessity of unity as an element of success, against what it considered the common enemy so far as municipal integrity was concerned (i.e., Tammany Hall), the leaders of the Citizens' Union made overtures to the leading spirits of the Republican organization in New York City, for an amalgamation of tickets, offering Mr. Low as candidate for Mayor. The Republican leaders were inclined to look upon the peremptory nomination of Mr. Low before negotiations were begun, as presumptuous, and after some correspondence, all thought of union was dropped. The Citizens' Union waited until after the Republican City convention, and when the prospects of unification seemed hopeless, its nominating committee met in Hardman Hall and completed the ticket by placing in nomination former Secretary of Treasury, Charles S. Fairchild for Comptroller and John H. Schumann of Brooklyn for President of the Council.

The Republican Party.

The Republican City Convention met in Carnegie Hall on the evening of Tuesday, September 28 and (all negotiations with the Citizens' Union having fallen through), Benjamin F. Tracy, ex-Secretary of the Navy, was nominated for Mayor, Ashbel P. Fitch (elected Comptroller of New York on the Tammany ticket) was nominated for that office, and R. Ross Appleton of Brooklyn for President of the Council. There were forty-eight votes cast in the convention for Mr. Low. The platform adopted indorsed the resolutions of the National Republican convention at St. Louis; condemned that adopted at Chicago by the Democratic party; indorsed President McKinley, Governor Black and the last Republican Legislature; attacked Tammany and Willoughby street control of municipal affairs; advocated municipal ownership of franchises; indorsed the Raines law, and commended the factory inspection law, the mechanics' lien law, the statute regulating the employment of minors in mercantile establishments, the anti-sweaters' law; the law guaranteeing union wages on public works, and the law preventing the subletting of contracts.

The Democratic Party.

The wisdom of absolute harmony as an essential of victory was as fully impressed upon the leaders of Tammany Hall as upon any of the other political organizations, and an effort at union and amalgamation of the various factions formerly identified with the wigwam was attempted early in the campaign. Mr. Croker, the practical leader and adviser of the organization, returned from Europe and undertook the role of peacemaker with such offshoots of Tammany as the O'Brien Democracy, the County Democracy, the Sticklers and others. The conditions imposed by the majority of these minor leaders were too onerous for the acceptance of the Tammany managers and they determined to rely upon the strength and power of their organization as a unifying force. A complete ignoring in the platform of the issues of the last national campaign was relied upon to bring back to the fold many Democrats whom the tenets of the Chicago creed had alienated. The Tammany City Convention was held in the Grand Central Palace, New York, Sept. 30, and Robert A. Van Wyck, Chief Justice of the New York City Court, was nominated for Mayor; Bird S. Coler, of Brooklyn, for Comptroller, and Jacob Ruppert for President of the Council. Later, Mr. Ruppert withdrew and Randolph Guggenheimer was substituted by the Tammany Hall executive committee. The platform adopted by Tammany Hall denounced the Republican administration of New York City, advocated home rule, demanded personal liberty for the citizen, condemned the Raines law, struck at combinations or trusts, favored municipal ownership of franchises, demanded the reduction of the price of gas to $1 per 1,000 feet, welcomed the incoming of capital, demanded just consideration for organized labor, and pledged itself to the enforcement of the eight-hour law; protested against the use of injunctions in labor troubles, denounced attempted evasion of taxation by the rich, demanded adequate school accommodations, and the early extension of rapid transit; advocated public improvements, including good roads, bicycle paths, improved pavements, open playgrounds, small parks and pier gardens and the construction of public baths and lavatories.

The Henry George Movement.

The Democracy of Thomas Jefferson, as it was called, was the direct result of the failure of Tammany Hall to indorse and promulgate the Chicago Democratic platform of 1896. The Democratic Alliance and several other organizations deeply interested in the issues of the Presidential campaign, determined to unite upon a candidate and oppose Tammany Hall. They were joined by several labor organizations, composed largely of men who had been followers of Henry George in 1886. His name was at once put forward as an available and logical candidate and on October 5, at a meeting held in Cooper Union, Mr. George accepted the nomination for Mayor offered by four organizations; promulgated his platform and was empowered to appoint a committee who should select his running mates on the ticket. The committee so designated selected Jerome O'Neill, a prominent labor leader, for President of the Council; and later former postmaster of New York, Charles W. Dayton, having failed to secure the nomination for Mayor on the Tammany ticket, was prevailed upon to accept the nomination on the George ticket for Comptroller.

The platform adopted by the Henry George Democracy reaffirmed primarily the creed of Democracy set forth by the National Convention of the Democratic party at Chicago, July 9, 1896, condemned Tammany Hall for failure to reindorse that platform, gave assurances of fidelity to William J. Bryan, declared in favor of municipal ownership of lighting, telephone, railway and other franchises, denounced class distinction in legislation, demanded cheaper gas, declared in favor of municipal improvements, denounced legislative interference in the government of cities and pointed to the Raines law as a pernicious example of the evils of that system, criticized government by injunction, and ended by asserting that the Jeffersonian Democracy was the regular Democracy of New York City.

Despite the fact that the platform of the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson contained no reference to the single tax, the propaganda, of which its candidate for Mayor had been the prophet, there then was an immediate rush to his standard, of men who had sat at his feet as disciples in that theory, yet who were entirely ignorant of the practical politics of New York City. Their self abnegation was illustrated by the manner in which they neglected their personal business and occupations, and their reckless disregard of self interest, was emphasized by the fact that the Jeffersonian Democracy was entirely without a campaign fund. The popularity of the George movement attracted the attention of minor organizations and the representative of the Democratic Alliance, a coterie of men pledged to certain popular features of the Chicago platform; and of the O'Brien Democracy, pledged to itself, began negotiations with Mr. George's managers, before his full city ticket was completed. The exorbitant demands of both organizations were refused, with the result that the Democratic Alliance practically disbanded, while the O'Brien Democracy, after many threats, gave up its own candidate for Mayor to support Henry George. Disgusted with the endless bickerings of these would-be allies, Mr. George and his advisers turned to the Citizens' Union and indorsed its entire county ticket in New York County and pledged themselves to the ticket of the regular Democracy in Kings County.

The vigorous and unsleeping campaign waged by Mr. George and his managers, and the manifest leaning of the labor vote toward his doctrines, and his organization, aroused apprehensions in the breasts of the Tammany leaders, while the alliance with the Citizens' Union soon awakened interest among Republican managers. With an almost commonality of interest the organizations of the two old parties turned their guns upon the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson and the campaign was becoming one of unusual recrimination and virulence, when suddenly the opposition leaders were relieved, and consternation thrown into the ranks of his followers by the sudden death of Henry George early on the morning of the 29th of October, after the most energetic and arduous night of his campaign. Immediately bitterness disappeared and the managers of all parties united in expressions of genuine regret at the sudden calamity and in eulogy of their late critic and opponent. The spontaneous outpourings of citizens who wept at the bier of the dead philosopher or followed his remains on the journey towards the grave; the prominent men who, without regard to party or creed, gathered to pay a last tribute to the dead candidate, all demonstrated that Henry George had figured in the campaign rather as a thinker and as a man than as a politician. The George campaign managers hastened to repair the damage to their cause as far as possible by the substitution on the city ticket of the name of the younger Henry George for that of his father, but the life had gone out of the campaign and the vote of the Thomas Jefferson Democracy was never after that considered an important factor in the campaign.

The National Democracy.

The National Democracy, known in 1896 as the Sound Money Democrats, held a meeting in Cooper Union on October 1. There was a disposition to favor Seth Low's candidacy, but this was opposed by some who believed that, as Tammany had practically repudiated the Bryan Democratic platform, on whose points the differences of 1896 had existed, the organization ought to indorse the Tammany ticket. After a lively session the meeting was adjourned to October 7. On that date a meeting was again held and the entire ticket of the Citizens' Union was indorsed.

The United Democracy.

The organization calling itself the United Democracy, otherwise known as the O'Brien Democracy, met at the Lenox Lyceum on September 27, and was composed of delegates from sixty-one Assembly districts and from twenty-three free silver associations in the four counties. It nominated Henry George for Mayor, John J. Boyd, of New York, for Comptroller, and Winfield S. Overton, of Queens County, for President of the Council. Its leader, James O'Brien, was nominated for Sheriff of New York County. After the falling through of negotiations between the Jeffersonian Democracy and the O'Brienites, Henry George peremptorily declined the nomination, and Alfred B. Cruikshank was substitute as the candidate for Mayor. Later, the O'Brienites decided to support Henry George, whether or no, and the organization's followers were instructed to ignore Mr. Cruikshank's name, which could not then, be removed from the official ballot, and to vote for Henry George. In the advisability of this policy, Mr. Cruikshank acquiesced. The platform adopted by the United Democracy was practically identical with that of the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson.

Other Organizations.

The Independent Democracy, the party of Patrick J. Gleason, Mayor of Long Island City, announced Mr. Gleason's candidacy of Mayor of Greater New York on May 7, 1897. By August 11 a petition bearing the signatures of 25,000 persons who desired Mr. Gleason's nomination had been prepared. On Saturday evening, September 18, a meeting was held at Cooper Union, New York, and Mr. Gleason was formally put in nomination. Candidates for other offices were not nominated.

The Prohibition City Convention was held at 8 Union square, September 6, 1897, and Wm. T. Wardwell, of New York, was nominated for Mayor, Alfred H. Walker, of Brooklyn, for Comptroller, and Francis Crawford, of the Bronx, for President of the Council. The platform adopted, dealt entirely with the liquor traffic, denouncing the Raines law and pledging the candidates to absolute prohibition legislation.

The Socialist-Labor party put the following ticket in the field: Mayor, Lucian Sanial; Comptroller, Peter Tiebeger; President of the Council, Charles H. Matchett.

The German-American Reform Union refused to deal with Tammany, but adopted resolutions indorsing Mr. Low's candidacy, at the same time urging him to pledge himself against the Raines law and like legislation.

With their tickets finally arranged as above lined up, on platforms almost identical, except so far as the "condemnation proceedings" and views of the excise situation were concerned, the campaign was waged on entirely municipal lines and in a manner that became at times somewhat personal.

The interest in the canvass was demonstrated by the registration which on the fourth day was found to be in the five boroughs 567,568, divided up as follows: Manhattan and Bronx, 324,706; Brooklyn, 204,356; Queens, 25,850, and Richmond, 12,566, figures differing but slightly from those of 1896, a presidential year.

In the meantime local leaders had been experiencing difficulties of their own, and the nominations for County and Borough offices in the various political divisions of the greater city had bred dissensions and contributed to a breaking down of party lines. In the Borough of Bronx, Haffen, Commissioner of Public Works, succeeded in breaking down the power of McCartney, the former Democratic leader in the annexed district. In Richmond the Republican leader, Pinney, was defeated in the matter of nominations, while Muller, the Democratic leader, was also deposed. In New York City difficulty was experienced in securing a suitable county ticket for Tammany, and while Francis S. Scott returned to the fold as a candidate upon the Tammany ticket for Supreme Court Judge, the labor adherents of the Wigwam showed great uneasiness at his candidacy. The Jeffersonian Democracy indorsed the Citizens' Union County ticket, as did the National Democracy. The other parties put up individual county tickets.

In Kings County the Willis faction of the Republican organization succeeded in deposing the Worth leaders in the county convention and signalized their victory by seizing upon every available place upon the county ticket for the little coterie of their managers, much to the freely expressed disgust of the rank and file of the party.

The county ticket of the regular Democracy of Kings, although received with general satisfaction, did not contain the names of persons who thought they were entitled to places upon it, and they promptly accepted nominations upon the ticket of the Citizens' Union, which was also the joint product of the National Democratic party of Kings County. The regular Democratic nominations on the county ticket were indorsed by the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson, the party of Henry George.

The State ticket cut but a small figure in the campaign. The only nomination was for chief judge of the Court of Appeals, and the State conventions of the two leading parties had in 1896 authorized their State to meet and make the nominations. The Republican nomination was given to Judge William J. Wallace of the United States Circuit Bench, and the Democratic nomination to Judge Alton B. Parker. The United Democracy indorsed Judge Parker; the Prohibitionists nominated Francis E. Baldwin; the Socialist-Labor party Theodore F. Cuno. The other parties made no nominations for this office.

As the campaign for Mayor progressed, the growing strength of the Citizens' Union, especially after the death of Henry George, alarmed the leaders of the old organizations and the campaign was gradually directed by both to avert what would have been considered a common calamity, the foundation and establishment of a new political organization. It is said that when that calamity became most immediately threatening, more practical measures to avert it were determined upon and the bolder managers of both parties did not hesitate to assert, after election, that those practical measures accounted largely for the substantial showing at the polls made by the Tammany candidates, as well as for the surprisingly small vote of the Republican leader on the ticket.

The election was held on Tuesday, Nov. 2, with the result that the Democratic candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, for Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Council; for the county officers in all the counties, and for the head of the borough in each borough were elected. A most interesting feature of the election was the large vote polled by the independent organization known as the Citizens' Union. The full results of this election are given elsewhere.

Records for fast time across the Atlantic were broken in 1897 by the American Line flyer St. Louis and the North German Lloyd's new steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

New York to Southampton, Sept. 8, St. Louis, 6 d. 10 h. 14 m., beating the record held by the Fuerst Bismarck of 6 d. 10 h. 55 m., made in September, 1893, by 41 m.

Southampton to New York, September 26, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, 5 d. 22 h. 35 m., beating the record held by the St. Paul of 6 d. 31 m., made August 14, 1896, by 1 h. 56 m. Her fastest day's run was 564 knots, beating the Lucania's record of 562 knots.

The German steamship is the largest vessel ever launched, except the Great Eastern. She is 625 feet long between perpendiculars, or 24 feet longer than the Cunarder Lucania; her gross tonnage is 14,000 tons and her developed horse power over 28,000.

New York to Plymouth, Eng., October 6, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, 5 d. 15 h. 10 m., beating the record held by the Fuerst Bismarck, of 6 d. 9 h. 24 m., made in August, 1896, by 18 h. 14 m.

New York to Southampton, November 29, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, 5 d. 17 h. 8 m., beating the new record of 6 d. 10 h. 14 m., established by the St. Louis on Sept. 8, 1897, by 17 h. 6 m. The German steamer's average speed was 22.35 knots per hour, beating the best previous hourly record made by the Lucania, of 22.01.

Records are now held as follows:

Oct., '94, Queenstown to New York, Lucania, 5 d. 7 h. 23 m.

Sept., '94, New York to Queenstown, Lucania, 5 d. 8 h. 38 m.

List of Parks, Borough of Brooklyn.

Brooklyn Heights parks are located at the foot of the streets leading to Furman street, and are under the control of a private commission.

Other facilities for the enjoyment of the public are provided in the form of open thoroughfares especially for the benefit of horse and carriage riders and bicyclists. These consist of the highways controlled and cared for by the park department as follows:

The mileage of driveways thus indicated is extensively enhanced by the provisions of chapter 610 of the laws of 1896, which put under the care of the department about ten miles additional roadway as follows:

Eastern parkway, east of Howard avenue and south of East New York avenue, to Stone avenue; Stone avenue, from Dean street to Riverdale avenue; Riverdale avenue to New Lots road; New Lots road to Dumont avenue; Dumont avenue to Fountain avenue; Bushwick avenue, from Gillen place to Jamaica avenue, and Pennsylvania avenue throughout its entire length to Jamaica bay; Rockaway avenue to the road to Flatlands, and the parkway, from its intersection with Buffalo avenue to Flatlands to Jamaica bay.

For the exclusive use of bicycle riders two paths, each 5½ miles, are maintained along the Ocean parkway, one on each side.

The work on the extension of the Eastern parkway to Ridgewood (Highland) Park was begun in the fall of 1896 and completed in October, 1897. This road now connects Prospect Park and Ridgewood Park and gives a magnificent scenic terminal to a grand parkway. During the past year the main road in Forest Park has been connected with Jamaica avenue, a public works thoroughfare that has been improved, and in this way a connection has been made at Shaw avenue with Forest Park. Fort Hamilton avenue has been macadamized to Seventh avenue, thus providing a finished drive to Dyker Beach Park, Bensonhurst Park and back to the Ocean parkway by way of Twenty-second avenue.

The West Drive of the Ocean parkway has been macadamized to Coney Island for the benefit of trucks and other heavy vehicles.

By a legislative act passed in 1897, Fourth avenue, as far as the shore drive at Sixty-sixth street and Union street, between Fourth avenue and the park entrance, were made parkways, and placed in charge of the Park Department, addi about four miles of roadway to the bouleva system.

one, Queens and many other of the attractive wns on the north side of Long Island. Bedford Park cost $150,170; Red Hook, $130,250; idgewood, $184,165; Sunset, $164,463; Bushwick, 06,308; Winthrop, $134,145.

DRIVEWAYS, BOROUGH OF BROOKLYN.

The drive along Fort Hamilton avenue is from ne rear entrance of Prospect Park. It is about ree miles long and connects with the shore rive which is being constructed along the edge f the lower bay as far as Fort Hamilton. Those ho traverse it usually go through Prospect Park o Fort Hamilton av., thence along Fort Hamilon av. to Ovington av.; thence to the right to ay Ridge av., the direction being to the shore of he upper bay. This shore they follow to the outh, enjoying the lovely views of Staten Island, he Jersey hills, the Narrows, forts and Liberty tatue. From Fort Hamilton the road continues long shore, across to Bath Beach, Bensonhurst, nd other villages, until it ends at the creek that eparates Coney Island from the main land.

Another pleasant drive is Twenty-second avenue Bay Parkway), which branches from the Ocean 'arkway, passing through Bensonhurst and ending t Bath Beach. At Bath Beach one may turn o the east and ride along the oldest road in the ounty, if not in the state, for the King's Highway was established two centuries ago, under rant from the Georges of England, and was a ost road before the Revolution. It runs through picturesque country, lined by houses almost as old as itself, for three miles, and into the village of Flatlands, where it terminates in Flatbush av., by which road, running now to the west, the driver may reach the city again. Flatbush av. is a pleasant drive, going through the original county towns of Kings County, sheltered by huge and ancient elms. Another drive much used is a continuation of the Eastern parkway into Fulton st., out through the Twenty-eighth Ward, on to Jamaica, and so along the south side of Long Island as far as may be desired.

A drive through Prospect Park, down Ocean av. to Sheepshead Bay over a road straight as the crow flies, will bring one to the rear of Manhattan Beach in an hour. Another drive is through the park to Franklin av. on the east side, and then still going east, down Clarkson st., in Flatbush, past the county buildings, to Flatlands Neck, and Canarsie, on Jamaica Bay. None of these drives need occupy more than three hours. Many of the city streets are richly shaded and where they have good pavements are popular for driving. Bedford av. is filled with carriages on every pleasant day. Clinton and St. Marks avs. are especially beautiful streets.

The statuary in the Park includes the bronze figure of J. S. T. Stranahan and the bronze busts of John Howard Payne, Thomas Moore, Washington Irving, Beethoven, and Mozart. In August, 1896, a beautiful shaft was erected on the slope of Lookout Hill, to the memory of the brave four hundred Maryland soldiers who died defending the rear of the American Army upon the occasion of its retreat after the Battle of Long Island. The monument was erected by the Baltimore Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, in conjunction with the Department of Parks.

The bronze statue of Major-General-Gouverneur Kemble Warren, near the Memorial Arch in the park plaza, was unveiled on July 4, 1896. It is of heroic size and was designed by the sculptor Henry Baerer. The bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln was removed in 1895 from its original site on the Park Plaza and placed in the front part of the Flower Garden, overlooking the Prospect Park lake. This statue was dedicated October 21, 1869, the Rev. Dr. Storrs delivering the dedicatory speech. It was paid for by popular subscription.

A bust of Mozart was placed in the Flower garden of the park and unveiled Oct. 23, 1897. It is the gift of the "United Singers of Brooklyn" to the city and was won by them as a prize in a Saengerfest, held in Philadelphia.

Immediately fronting the Park is the Plaza, a circular space whose picturesqueness has been destroyed by the ugly wiring used in connection with the operation of the trolley cars. It is surrounded by mounds covered with pines and attractive shrubbery. In the center is an immense electric fountain, built the past year, which is superior in beauty and attractiveness to any that has preceded it. The exhibitions have been enjoyed by thousands. South of the fountain, and facing the main entrance to Prospect Park, is the Soldiers and Sailors' Memorial Arch, erected to the memory of the soldiers and sailors who lost their lives in the war of the Union. The bas reliefs were prepared by Maurice J. Power, and Lincoln and Grant on horseback, reviewing the army after the fall of Richmond. The Arch is to be further adorned with bronze work, prepared by the celebrated American artist, Frederick MacMonnies. This work includes a quadriga for the top of the Arch, and two massive groups for the sides. Mr. MacMonnies is also preparing four bronze eagles, which will adorn the magnificent new entrance to the Park. Cost of Prospect Park, $4,000,000.

The Grant statue on Bedford avenue, near Dean street, in front of the Union League Club, was unveiled April 25, 1896, and was the gift of the Union League Club to the City of Brooklyn. It is a bronze equestrian statue representing General Ulysses S. Grant on a battlefield.

The Mall is a broad promenade, a quarter of a mile long and 208 feet wide, bordered by double rows of elm trees and famous for the collection of statues, prominent among which are: Shakespeare, by J. Q. A. Ward, erected on the 300th anniversary of the poet's birth; Burns and Scott, both in sitting posture; the "Indian Hunter," by Ward; Fitz Greene Halleck, and a colossal Beethoven bust. Near by is the Music Pavilion. The Terrace, a sumptuous pile of richly carved masonry, and the Lake come next in view, and the famous Bethesda fountain, designed by Emma Stebbins and made in Munich. Beyond the lake is the Ramble, 36 acres, a place of many footpaths through thickets and by the side of rocks and streams, passing a bust of Schiller, rustic cabins, gorges and waterfalls. Farther on is the Belvedere, a tower of stone, from the top of which a fine view of the Park can be had; and next are the great reservoirs, containing 1,200,000 gallons of Croton water. On the left is the American Museum of Natural History. Opposite the Obelisk and near 5th av. and 83d st. is the Metropolitan Museum of Art, containing the finest collection of pictures in America. Admittance free except on Mondays and Fridays (twenty-five cents); Monday and Friday evenings, 8 to 10 o'clock.

There are over thirty cemeteries in Newtown, with a total of 2,000 acres, and the number of interments exceeds a million and a half. A tax of $1.00 for each interment is imposed by the town Board of Health and the sum thus collected has averaged $33,000 yearly. By census of 1890 the population of Newtown was 17,549. It is now estimated to be 30,000.

Early Ferries in Brooklyn.

In 1684 the New York City authorities called for proposals for the establishment of a ferry to Brooklyn and one William Merritt secured the franchise by the payment of £20 a year for twenty years, he to erect, under the conditions of his lease "houses on each side of the river, and to have two boats for cattle and horses and two boats for passengers, the rates of fare to be established as follows: Sixpence each for cattle and horses and one penny for passengers."

Fifteen years after and five years before the expiration of Merritt's contract, he was encouraged to build what was probably the first Brooklyn ferry house, of brick, two stories in height, 25 feet front and 40 feet deep. These improved facilities led to an increase of the transportation charges, as follows: "Single persons, 8 stuyvers in wampum or a silver twopence; persons in company, half price; cattle (single), one shilling; cattle in company, ninepence; colts and calves, threepence, and persons, whether single or in company, traveling after sunset, double ferriage." Before the expiration of his lease the ferry privilege was let for seven years to Rip Van Dam, who paid therefor the equivalent of $825. He built on the New York side an elaborate ferry house 24 feet front and 40 feet deep, and a cellar of stone. The first story was 8½ feet high, the second story was 7½ feet high, and there were, it was added, "five chimneys with jambs." In addition there was a tavern in the ferry house, beside a barn, pen and other appurtenances for cattle, colts and calves. The necessity for these additions is seen by the schedule of trips. On Mondays and Thursdays the ferry boat set sail from Maiden lane; on Tuesdays and Fridays from the Burghers' path, now Hanover square, and on Wednesdays and Saturdays from Coenties slip.

Rip Van Dam didn't make much out of his ferry to Brooklyn, for it was sold over his head to a liquor dealer named Harding, who offered $75 a year more. Harding built no ferry house, but he kept the inn open, and he did so well that his prosperity made him an object of envy, and some of the Brooklyn residents began to make pretension to some right of ferriage. "Sebring, a Long Island resident," applied to the Governor direct for a ferry grant, starting at the foot of Atlantic street, Brooklyn. This provoked the opposition of the Corporation of New York and the local authorities drew up a formal remonstrance setting forth that New York had for seventy years previous "enjoyed the right of ferry" and that the landing place on Long Island had been esteemed to extend from the wharf at what is now the foot of Fulton street to the west end of the hill to the westward and from high water to low water mark. This controversy led to a provision in the charter of 1708, by which the corporation of New York received a grant of all the land between high and low water mark from the Wallabout to Red Hook, thus cutting off all claim or right of the Brooklynites to land boats, except for private purposes, between these points. As a result of this provision of the charter the exclusive interest in all ferries between New York and Brooklyn became vested in the City of New York.

THE WATER FRONT.

Brooklyn.

The water front of Brooklyn, excepting portions the title to which have been purchased by the present proprietors from that city or acquired recently by annexation of county towns, belongs to the city of New York. That ownership was granted to New York under the provisions of early Dutch charters, which were later confirmed under English rule and explains the exclusive power possessed by the Corporation of New York city in the matter of grants of ferry privileges and its monopoly of the revenues arising therefrom. The length of Brooklyn's water frontage is thirty-three miles and extends from the head of Newtown Creek along the East River, around Red Hook Point into Gowanus Bay and along Gowanus and Bay Ridge shores to Fort Hamilton, around the Reservation into Gravesend Bay, along Bath Beach, Bensonhurst and Gravesend Beach, around Coney Island, into and around Sheepshead Bay, into and around Jamaica Bay and along the full extent of Rockaway Beach, including all intermediate creeks and canals, a good depth of water prevailing for the greater part of the distance. The portion bordering on the East River and eastern shore of New York Bay is lined with docks and wharves for every description of craft, storehouses, grain elevators, sugar refineries, oil refineries, iron mills, saw mills, ship and spar yards and the buildings and appointments of many boat, yacht, athletic and country clubs which represent the outlay of hundreds of millions of dollars. At North Twelfth st, is situated the refinery of the Pratt Astral Oil Company.

PALMER'S DOCKS—The area embraced between North Tenth and North Fourth sts., Kent av. and the East River, with a shore frontage of upward of 1,800 feet, has located upon it several extensive enterprises. The largest and most important of these is the manufactory of the Brooklyn Cooperage Company, both in regard to the extent of its property as well as the number of men in its employ. Between North Eighth and North Ninth sts are located wharves, elevated railways, platforms and pockets, fitted with every mechanical device for receiving, handling, storing and delivering coal. There is storage room for 35,000 tons of coal and the business in this line amounts to upward of 350,000 tons annually. The block between North Ninth and North Tenth sts. is appropriated to a depot for the receipt and shipment of general freight. At the storehouses are accommodated the wholesale hay and straw markets, which supply the greater part of the forage consumed in Brooklyn. This business amounts to 80,000 tons annually. Adjoining the depot, at the river end, is established a large mill, the work of which is applied to the preparation of ground feed, of which 100 tons can be turned out daily. Connected with the mill is an elevator, with a storage capacity of 500,000 bushels. The freight dispatched from this depot amounts to a very large aggregate annually—a considerable portion of which is represented in the products of the numerous sugar refineries in the vicinity. It is asserted that at least 45 per cent. of the entire domestic west bound freight from the port of New York is shipped from this depot.

With the exception of the business done by the Pennsylvania Railroad on the block between North Fourth and North Fifth sts., the entire space between North Fourth and North Tenth sts., Kent av. and the East River, is occupied by railroad terminals and cooperage. The railroads terminating at New York harbor and from and to which cars are transported to the docks are: New York Central and Hudson River, West Shore, New York, Lake Erie and Western, Lehigh Valley and Central Railroad of New Jersey. The business of these lines, both east and west bound, excluding coal, averages about 5,000,000 pounds of freight daily throughout the year. In addition, there is carried from the pier at North Seventh st. freight designed for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad and its fast freight lines, Old Dominion Steamship Company, People's line of steamers for Albany, Citizens' line of steamers for Troy, Murray's line of steamers and barges for Albany and Troy, Norwich line for points on New York and New England Railroad, Central Vermont Railroad and its connections and Mallory line to Galveston.

SUGAR REFINERIES—Sugar refining is one of the most important industries in Brooklyn. Formerly it was distributed among many individual and competing interests which of late years have been harmonized and brought under consolidated control under the title of the American Sugar Refining Company, commonly known as the "Sugar Trust." The largest refinery of the combination, which is the largest in the world, covers the water frontage from South First to South Fifth sts., as well as several squares on the east side of Kent av. This refinery treats 2,000 tons of raw sugar per day, producing 12,000 barrels of the refined product. The Greenpoint refinery, which was destroyed by fire in 1887 and rebuilt, is the most modern of all the sugar plants. Its capacity is 7,000 barrels per day. The Mollenhauer sugar house, at the foot of South Eleventh st., was built in 1892 and is independent of the "Trust." Half the sugar consumed in the United States is refined in Brooklyn.

Between South Eleventh and Little sts. is Wallabout Bay and channel, constituting the water front of the United States Navy Yard and Wallabout Market. The Atlantic White Lead Works occupies the block between Gold and Bridge sts.

BROOKLYN WHARF AND WAREHOUSE CO.—Between Main st., the landing place of the ferry from Catharine st., New York, and the Erie Basin, on Gowanus Bay, is embraced the most valuable property and works on the East River front, among them, near the junction of Water and Fulton sts., being the eastern piers of the New York and Brooklyn Suspension Bridge. For many years the docks along this shore have been used by a majority of the steamships and sailing vessels which find berths in Brooklyn, the various inward and outward cargoes of which are delivered to the storehouses or received from the grain elevators. In January, 1895, these stores and the wharves adjoining, with a few exceptions—the most important of which are the Robinson stores—were united under the control and management of one company—the "Brooklyn Wharf and Warehouse Company," the total capital of which is $30,000,000, and the property owned and leased by it extends along the shore for the distance of two and three-quarter miles. Beside the other vessels, the steamships of fifty regular lines dock at the wharves of this company.

GRAIN ELEVATORS—The port of New York is one of the largest grain handling ports in the world and Brooklyn warehouses store four-fifths of the grain brought to its harbor. The capacity of the Brooklyn grain elevators is upward of 20,000,000 of bushels—four times that of the elevators of New York and Jersey City. The largest, Dow's, at Columbia and Pacific sts., contains huge bins, shoots and six miles of rubber belts thirty inches wide, operated by two 400-horse power engines. The grain is transferred from the canal boats in which it is brought to tide water to the bins, thence on the belts to every part of the building and ultimately to a conveyor. Following are the estimated capacities of the Brooklyn elevators:

Beside those mentioned in the foregoing table a large number of floating elevators are constantly at work at piers which have no permanent elevators, and add from five to six millions to the storage capacity of the city, as well as between thirty-five and forty thousand bushels per hour transfer capacity.

INDEPENDENT STORES AND BUSH DOCKS—Foot of 41st, 42d and 43d sts., have two piers, 36x 1,000 and 260x1,000; of the latter 100x900 ft. is covered, being the largest covered pier in the Port of New York. The company has six four-story and four six-story warehouses, with a floor space of 600,000 sq. ft. Entire plant is of recent construction.

THE ATLANTIC BASIN—Managed by J. S. T. Stranahan until it came under the control of the Brooklyn Wharf and Warehouse Company, is situated near Hamilton Ferry, nearly opposite Governor's Island. It resembles more closely than any kindred work in the United States the great docks of London and Liverpool. While it cannot in many particulars equal the massive granite structures on the Mersey and Thames, it excels them in the advantage that vessels can enter it in any stage of tide. It covers an area of 40 acres, has brick and granite warehouses on three sides and contains four piers, beside the two bulkheads which form the basin and are known as the North and South piers. Three of the inside piers are covered and are 700, 800 and 900 feet in length respectively by 75 and 85 feet in width. The longest, designated as South Central, is the most extensive in this port. This basin is the largest grain depot in the world and is equipped with seven elevators. Its frontage line of bulkheads and piers measure three miles. The entrance to the basin is 200 feet wide. A uniformed police force, maintained at the expense of the warehouse company, is on guard both by day and night.

THE ERIE BASIN—At the inset of Gowanus Bay and Gowanus Canal, covers about 100 acres and is protected by a mile in length of breakwater. Along its northern interior are located the great Erie Basin Dry Docks, Crane's Dry Docks and Gokey & Hilton's Dry Docks. It contains two large covered piers and eight smaller open piers, stores for grain having capacity of over 3,000,000 bushels and stores for general merchandise. Of the latter, two are used for the storage of nitrate of soda, chloride of potash, saltpetre and similar substances and are the only stores in the city which receive that character of merchandise. In the basin are six open yards, where are landed and stored logwood, mahogany, fustic, cedar and other timber. Here also are received the great ocean rafts of timber from Maine and other northern forests. Many vessels of all descriptions are laid up in this basin for repairs or to winter. Every autumn from 500 to 700 canal boats seek its protection upon the closing of the Erie and other canals and the crews and their families form a colony of from 2,000 to 3,000 persons. Many of the boats are grain laden and retain their cargoes on storage at an average rate of ¾ cent the bushel per month. On account of the great quantities of grain transferred in the basin it is made the headquarters of many floating grain elevators.

SOUTH BROOKLYN HAY AND STRAW MARKET—On Gowanus Bay in the vicinity of 25th st. are located the wholesale hay and straw dealers, who receive and distribute forage in South Brooklyn and adjacent districts to the extent of nearly one-half of the city's consumption.

BROOKLYN DRY DOCKS—The Erie Basin Dry Docks of Brooklyn, among the largest in the United States, were opened to public use in 1866. The chamber of No. 1 dock is 510 feet in length, 112 feet wide at the top and 50 feet at bottom. No. 2 dock is 610 feet long, 124 feet wide at top and 60 feet at bottom. They are closed by caissons, and when the water is pumped out the docks are made almost water tight. A centrifugal pump, with a pipe 4 feet in diameter, empties the smaller dock in one and a half and the larger in two hours, leaving the ship high and dry. Most of the iron ships that require docking in this port are hauled up on these docks. It was here the Celtic and Britannic were repaired after their collision. Here the yacht Sultana was built, as well as the first whale-back steel barges seen on the Atlantic coast. Here, also, were the Defender and Valkyrie III, prepared for the last international yacht races, as well as the boats in the Volunteer and Thistle races. The lessee is John D. Robins; Superintendent, W. D. Dickey. Crane's dock, at Erie Basin breakwater, is used chiefly for painting and repairing of transportation barges Gokey's and Hilton's docks, at Long Dock, Erie Basin, are of the balance type, and when pumped out lift the ship out of the water. Wooden sailing vessels are mostly docked here. At the foot of Court and Clinton sts. are the shipyards of C. & R. Poillon, remarkable for yacht and pilot boat building. Also the marine railways of Downing & Lawrence. The Burtis Marine Railway is at the foot of Conover st. In the operation of these marine railways, vessels are drawn out of the water upon sliding ways.

BROOKLYN SHIP YARDS.

Brooklyn is noted for its many ship yards, where famous ships have been built. The principal work in that line nowadays is the building of immense railroad floats and scows at Crane's yard in the Erie Basin, and the building of pilot boats and yachts at Poillon's yards. On Elizabeth st., is where the iron steamships undergo repairs. Ayres' yard, foot of 55th st., and H. C. Wintringham's are known for the construction of boats, steam and naphtha launches and steam and sail yachts. Leary's ship yard, on Newtown Creek, near Eagle st., is also another busy place in the same line of business. James D. Leary originated the idea of transporting lumber in vast rafts from Nova Scotia to this port, thereby saving much of the money it would cost to transport the lumber in vessels. The first one broke up in a gale, but was recovered and brought to the Erie Basin, the second arriving without incident. Each raft was towed by powerful ocean tugs.

South of Gowanus Bay commerce is not an important feature on Brooklyn's water line. There are the landings at 39th st. and 65th st. of ferries from Whitehall st. New York and intermediately the premises of numerous yacht and boat clubs. From 65th st. to the Narrows the high bluff of Bay Ridge overlooks New York Bay. Outside the Narrows at the northern headland of Gravesend Bay is situated the United States government property and harbor defenses of Fort Hamilton. From that point the remainder of the shore, with the exception of a lodgment of a warehouse on Gravesend Bay, is occupied by summer pleasure resorts of much or less importance. Among them are Bath Beach and Bensonhurst on Gravesend Bay, West Brighton, Brighton Beach, Manhattan Beach and Point Breeze on Coney Island; Sheepshead Bay on the bay of that name; Bergen Beach and Canarsie on Jamaica Bay and Rockaway Beach, Arverne, Wave Crest, Isle of Wight and Far Rockaway on the farther ocean front embraced in the Greater New York, from the eastern limit of which to the western shore of Staten Island the width of the new city is nearly thirty miles.

Manhattan.

HUDSON RIVER SHORE LINE.

The water front of Greater New York, which borders for seven-eighths of its boundaries upon the Atlantic ocean, Long Island Sound, the bays and estuaries which put in from those bodies of water and the Hudson River, has been ascertained by the Department of Docks of New York City to be 353 miles. The water frontage on the Hudson River side begins at the Battery. The first feature of interest is Pier A, occupied by the Department of Docks, which has exclusive supervision over all the wharf privileges of the city. Adjoining is the headquarters of the fire-boat system of the New York Fire Department. From there northward on various wharves and bulkheads are established extensive terminal and highly developed facilities for the receipt and handling of freight brought or dispatched by the railroads terminating on New York harbor. Also conveniences for the many thousands of passengers and the freight by ferries, steamships and steamboats, particulars of which appear under appropriate classification in this book. At West 10th street and vicinity is the principal oyster and clam market of the city. The largest meat and vegetable market—West Washington—is at Gansevoort and West 12th streets. Between West 14th and West 22d streets are the landing places of the ice and lumber companies, located in the vicinity. From West 29th to West 38th street the frontage is occupied by an immense freight depot of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Co., and freight landings of the West Shore, New York, Ontario and Western and Pennsylvania railroads. At this point, in addition to the other freight, is received the bulk of the hay and straw brought to the city amounting to many thousands of tons annually. Between West 59th and West 72d streets is another great freight terminal of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Co., connected with which are nine piers, two grain elevators, stock yards and abattoir. From West 72d to West 129th street the river is overlooked by Riverside Park. West 130th street is the landing place of the ferry from Fort Lee, New Jersey. At West 219th street is the mouth of Spuyten Duyvil Creek and the Harlem Canal, which connects the Hudson and Harlem rivers. Mount St. Vincent, fifteen miles from the City Hall, is the northern limit of the city. From this point to the southern extremity of Staten Island the air line length of Greater New York, from north to south, is upward of 35 miles.

EAST RIVER SHORE LINE.

The point of land lying between the Hudson and East rivers, at the southern extremity of New York City, is occupied by the public park known as the Battery From this park there is ferry communication with Governor's Island. Next, on the East River, is the ferry to Staten Island. From these, ferries to Brooklyn, freight terminals of canals and railroads, steamship, steamboat and other vessel landings take up the space to Fulton st. Between Fulton and Beekman sts. is located the principal wholesale fish market of the city. At Roosevelt st, are established the western piers of the great suspension bridge which connects the cities of New York and Brooklyn. Between Market and Pike sts. are pontoon dry docks of great capacity. At Clinton st. is a sectional dry dock. Between East 26th and 28th sts. the water front is embraced in the possessions of Bellevue Hospital, a free public institution. Connected with the hospital are ferries to Blackwell's, Randall's, Ward's, and Hart's islands. At East 34th st. the ferry to Long Island City provides connection with the Long Island railroad system. From East 34th to East 84th sts, excepting at East 71st st., where the tunnel bored under the East River from Ravenswood, L. I., by the East River Gas Co., reaches the city, the shore front is used in small local interests, landings for ice boats, brewers' ice and malt houses, etc. Between East 84th and East 89th sts., East River Park takes in the water front and land to Avenue B. East 89th to East 90th st. embraces the Roman Catholic institution, Home of the Good Shepherd. At East 92d st. is the landing of the ferry to Astoria, Long Island. At East 99th st. is a ferry to College Point, Long Island. At East 127th st. is the outlet into the East River of the Harlem River. At East 129th st. is the bridge across the Harlem River connecting the Manhattan and Suburban Rapid Transit Elevated Railroad systems. The features of note on the Harlem River are the bridges, some of which are draw or swivel, at Third avenue, those of the New York and Harlem and New York and Northern railroads, Washington bridge, High bridge, on which the Croton aqueduct crosses the Harlem River and High Bridge Park which borders for a considerable distance the west side of the river. North of the eastern outlet of the Harlem River, and continuing out into the head of Long Island Sound is Port Morris, where is located a freight and transfer terminal of a branch of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, at which boats take the cars of that railroad and transfer them to the Pennsylvania Railroad at Jersey City, New Jersey, on the west shore of the Hudson, without disturbing passengers or breaking freight bulk. Some two miles beyond Port Morris the Bronx River, the limit of city improvements on the east side empties into Long Island Sound. From that to Throg's Neck the shore consists chiefly of salt marshes. At Throg's Neck is located Fort Schuyler, a powerful defence of this approach to the city. Salt marshes again border much of the shore in this section, and on to Pelham, the northern limit on this side of Greater New York. From there across the Sound equi-distant from the Westchester and Long Island shores, the Greater New York line takes its course to Long Island, reaching the land at Little Neck, on the east side of Little Neck Bay. At the head of that bay are the villages of Douglaston and North Side. On the western side of the bay, jutting out into the Sound and closely approaching Throg's Neck, is Willets Point, which is also strongly fortified, and with its companion, Fort Schuyler, is believed to constitute an impassable barrier to hostile approach. Returning toward the East River, the villages of Whitestone, College Point and Flushing line the shore to Flushing Bay. At Bowery Bay an attractive summer resort, called North Beach, has been created. West of Bowery Bay is the village of Steinway. Astoria and Ravenswood fill up the space to Long Island City, where there are extensive petroleum refineries, paint, varnish and other manufactories, and numerous piers for the shipping connected with those industries. The western terminus of the Long Island Railroad is also located at this city. This brings the shore line down to Newtown Creek, which is the northern boundary of the City of Brooklyn.

Staten Island.

At St. George, five thousand feet of the water front is owned by the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad Co., on which is established the ferry landing and depot of that company. Also the freight terminals of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. The latter is being augmented to double its original capacity. In 1895 the company paid the Rapid Transit Co., over $100,000 for trackage, at the rate of one cent per ton per mile. Adjoining these terminals is the property of the United States Government, appropriated to the light house establishment at Tompkinsville. The adjoining 800 feet belong to the American Docks' corporation, which has four great piers and ten extensive warehouses. Beyond Tompkinsville about one mile of the shore is owned by the Rapid Transit Co., on its own account or as lessee of the Staten Island Railway Co.; 1,500 feet by the estate of George Bechtel, and another long stretch by A. B. Stickney, of St. Paul, Minnesota, President of the Chicago Great Western Railway Co., acquired with the view of establishing a terminal for the freight of the railroad, via lake and canal connections. The succeeding 4,000 feet of the water front down to the U. S. Government fortifications are held by small private owners. The remainder of the shore to the waters of the lower bay is the property of the United States and occupied by the quarantine station and the fortifications on that side of the Narrows. South of the Narrows is South Beach, a stretch of two miles, now used as a seaside resort. Adjoining is Midland Beach. One steam and two electric railroads, local and from Newark and Elizabeth, N. J., have terminals at this beach, too.

Along this shore to the bay Great Kills the water is shallow. Beyond Great Kills the depth increases. At Prince's Bay the White Dental Co. has a large manufactory. At Tottenville, the extreme southern point of the Island, on Raritan Bay, are brickmaking and terra cotta works and other industries. Northward at Rossville, on Staten Island Sound, is the ultramarine manufactory of Louis De Yonge & Co. Next, at Linoleumville, are large manufactories of the floor covering from which the place derives its name. From there a wide expanse of salt marsh borders the Sound to the place at which is established the abutment of the Arthur Kills railroad bridge, which connects the states of New Jersey and New York about a mile west of Elizabethport. This bridge is free, and therefore accessible to all the ten trunk lines of railroads west of the Hudson River. Three miles further on, at Mariner's Harbor, is located the largest flouring mill in the Eastern States included in the Jones-Hecker-Jewell syndicate, also the Dean linseed oil mills, the most important in the linseed oil trust. On Shooters' Island in the Sound is the Standard Oil Company's packing factory. Next comes the Jewett white lead mills at Port Richmond, the largest contributor of goods to the white lead trust. Further along, at West New Brighton, is C. W. Hunt's portable railway manufactory. At the end of another mile is Sailors' Snug Harbor. The income of this institution now amounts to $1,000 per day. Between this point and St. George there remains but New Brighton, at which several industries are prosecuted, chief among them being the plaster mills of J. B. King & Co., by which are reduced to commercial conditions millions of tons of Nova Scotia plaster rock brought by vessels direct from the mines. The product of the mills is shipped by the trunk lines direct from the rear of the mills. The circuit of the island water front aggregates about fifty miles.

MARKETS.

Brooklyn.

FORT GREENE PLACE, between Atlantic av. and Hanson pl., adjoining the Brooklyn terminus of the Long Island Railroad, has for eight or ten years been the location of distributing branches of the great Western dressed meat and packing houses; also of dealers extensively engaged in distributing poultry to retailers

HUDSON AVENUE SHAMBLES.—The west side of Hudson av., between Tillary and Concord sts., is the site of the slaughtering houses, at which 250,000 head of cattle, sheep, lambs and calves are prepared for market and sold annually.

JOHNSON AVENUE SHAMBLES.—Johnson av., between White and Bogert sts., are important cattle and hog slaughtering and meat selling establishments. The output is the largest in the city.

PLYMOUTH MARKET—Est. 1875. Private property. Now situated at cor. Henry and Orange sts. Business retail.

WALLABOUT MARKET—For the detailed history of this market see Brooklyn Daily Eagle Almanac for 1896. Established by the city, Oct., 1884, on land of the Navy Yard Reservation, rented from the United States Government. Location, Flushing and Washington avenues. Fee of the land, 17 85-100 acres, secured Nov., 1891; consideration, $700,000. Additional lands, 27 15-100 acres, west of Washington avenue, from Flushing avenue to the East River, purchased from the National Government June, 1894. Consideration $1,208,666. The latter tract is being developed into a canal, pier and warehouse system for vessels engaged in the food supply traffic. Facilities for railroad cars to bring freight to the market without breaking bulk will also be embraced. In May, 1894, the city authorities and market people, acting conjointly, effected from the New York State Legislature the enactment of a law, chapter 569, which provided for the future administration of the market interests, and authorized the city authorities to issue upon lots rented five years' leases, with privilege of two renewals of similar duration at rates adjustable at the commencement of each term. The leases issued under this law required the erection of substantial buildings of brick, stone and iron, uniform in external design, at the outlay of the lessees; the buildings at the termination of the leases to revert to the city upon payment of their appraised values. During the years 1895-6 the buildings were constructed and are regarded as comprehending the nearest conception possible at the present time of perfect adaptation to their respective uses. The improvements on the east side of Washington avenue during 1896 have been the construction of buildings on twenty-nine additional lots rented and the erection of the market office building, well progressed to completion, for the accommodation of the market officers, health department, telegraph station, etc., the gift to the market of ex-Commissioner of City Works Alfred T. White, under whose administration the reconstruction of the market was instituted, and chiefly carried out. There has also been nearly twenty-five per cent. added to the paved area of the plaza for farmers' wagons. Of the work on the west side of Washington avenue 560 cubic yards have been dredged, and the construction of 1,600 lineal feet of bulkhead wall built on the south and west sides of the new Wallabout Basin, at a cost of $285,000.

The business of the market is distributing to retail dealers, and is estimated to aggregate at least $25,000,000 a year in the value of commodities handled. A considerable portion of such amount is contributed by the market gardeners of Long Island, who dispose of their vegetables in the square of the market set apart for their use, and in which 546 wagon loads of such produce were sold on a Saturday in the summer of 1897. Revenue to the city, as per report of fiscal year closing November 30, 1897—From lot rents, $42,046.65; from farmers' fees, $3,531.

VEGETABLE MARKET.—On Bushwick av., at the western terminus of the Montauk division of the Long Island Railroad, are located commission and wholesale dealers in Long Island produce.

Manhattan.

CATHARINE MARKET—City property. Est. 1786. Bounded by Catharine, Cherry and South sts. and Catharine sl. Business, distributing to retailers and retailing, the latter chiefly to vessels docking in the vicinity. Revenue to the city from rents $4,939.00

CENTRAL MARKET—Private property. Est. 1867. Bounded by 7th av., Broadway and West 47th st. Business retail.

CENTRE MARKET—City property. Est. 1817. Bounded by Centre, Grand, Orange and Broome sts. Business, distributing to retailers and retail. Revenue to the city from rents $7,373.50.

CLINTON MARKET—City property. Est. 1829. Bounded by Canal, Spring, Washington and West sts. Business, distributing to retailers and retail. Revenue to the city from rents $7,404.75.

COLUMBUS MARKET—Private property. Located at 7th av. and W. 124th st. Business, retail.

FULTON MARKET—City property. Est. 1821. Bounded by Fulton, Beekman, Front and South sts. Business, wholesale and retail. Revenue to the city from rents $43,618.

FULTON FISH MARKET—Private property. Occupies bulkhead on east side of Front st., between Fulton and Beekman sts., opposite Fulton Market. Business, exclusively sea food at wholesale.

HARLEM MARKET—Private property. Opened 1891. Bounded by 1st av., E. 102d and 103d sts. and Avenue A. Business, distributing to retailers. Has also an open square in which market gardeners stand their wagons and sell their vegetables direct from their farms.

JEFFERSON MARKET—City property. Est. 1832-3. Bounded by 6th av., Greenwich av. and W. 10th st. Business, distributing to retailers and retail. Revenue to the city from rents $9,064.50.

MANHATTAN MARKET—Property of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Co. Bounded by Eleventh av., West 34th and 35th sts. and Twelfth av. Originally est. in 1871 by the city at a cost of three millions of dollars. Consumed by fire in 1879. Site sold to present owner a few years later, by which present buildings were erected. Business, wholesale and distributing to retailers, both meats and vegetables.

TOMPKINS MARKET—City property. Est. 1828. Bounded by Third av., East 6th and 7th and Hall sts. Business, distributing to retailers. Revenue to the city from rents, $7,105.88.

WASHINGTON MARKET—City property. Est. 1813. Bounded by Washington, West, Fulton and Vesey sts. Present structure erected in 1880. Business, wholesale and retail. Revenue to the city from rents, $80,348.75.

WEST WASHINGTON MARKET—City property. Originally an auxiliary of Washington Market, located on bulkhead and wharves of Hudson River, opposite that market and between Dey and Barclay sts. Moved to Washington and West sts and 13th av., between Gansevoort and West 12th sts., in 1889. Market for meats and vegetables that portion between West st. and 13th av., while space between West and Washington sts. is left open for the standing of wagons of market gardeners in the sale of their vegetables. Nearly 500 wagon loads of vegetables have been sold in this square in a single day. Business, wholesale and distributing to retailers. Revenue to city from rents of stands, $104,699. From farmers' wagon fees, $15,381.25.

The highest bridge of any kind in the world is said to be the Leo River Viaduct on the Antofagasta Railway, in Bolivia, South America. The place where this highest railway structure has been erected is over the Molo Rapids in the Upper Andes, and is between the two sides of a canon, which is situated 10,000 feet from the level of the Pacific. From the surface of the stream to the level of the rails this celebrated bridge is exactly 636½ feet in height, the length of the principal span is 80 feet, and the distance between the abutments is 802 feet.

LIQUOR TAX LAW.

The Liquor Tax Law, commonly known as the "Raines Law," took effect March 23, 1896, being Chapter 29 of the General Laws, and was amended April 20, 1897, by Chapter 312 of the Laws of that year. By it all Boards of Excise in the State were abolished and their duties devolved upon the State Commissioner of Excise, appointed by the Governor, except the issuance of liquor tax certificates under sub-divisions 1, 2, 3, and 6 of section 11, and the collection of taxes therefor, which devolved on the county treasurers in each county in the State, except in the counties of New York, Kings and Erie, for which the State Commissioner is authorized to appoint a Special Deputy Commissioner of Excise, who performs the duties discharged by county treasurers in the other counties. The Special Deputy for New York County receives an annual salary of $4,000 and the deputies for Kings and Erie counties receive an annual salary of $3,000 each. The State Commissioner receives an annual salary of $5,000 and is authorized to appoint a Deputy Commissioner, at a salary of $4,000; a Secretary, at a salary of $2,000; a financial clerk, at a salary of $1,800, and such clerical force in his office as may be necessary, and not more than sixty special agents, each of whom shall receive an annual salary of $1,200 and his necessary expenses. Such agents are the confidential agents of the Commissioner and operate under his directions in the investigation of all matters relating to collection of liquor taxes and penalties and as to the compliance with law by persons engaged in the liquor traffic.

There are six grades of excise taxes: 1. Upon the business of trafficking in liquors to be drunk upon the premises. 2. Upon the business of trafficking in liquor in quantities of less than five wine gallons, no part to be drunk on the premises. 3. Upon the business of trafficking in liquors by a duly licensed pharmacist, sold only upon prescription of a physician, not to be drunk on the premises, and each prescription to be filled but once. 4. Upon the business of trafficking in liquors upon cars, steamboats or vessels within the State. 5. Upon the business of trafficking in bottled malt liquors from a vehicle in quantities of less than five gallons, but not less than three gallons, by persons who hold a number one or number two certificate. 6. Upon the business of trafficking in alcohol in quantities of less than five gallons, for use for mechanical, medicinal or scientific purposes, by dealers who neither keep nor sell any other kind of liquor.

The sums to be paid for these certificates vary acording to the population of the place where issued, except as to the third, fourth and fifth, for which the tax is $5, $200 and $100, respectively. The tax for number six ranges from $25 down to $5, according to population. In Brooklyn a certificate of the first class costs $650; second class, $400. In New York, for the same classes, the rates are $800 and $500. The prohibited hours for selling are: On Sunday; before 5 A. M. on Monday; between 1 and 5 A. M. on any other day; while the polls are open on any election day, when the polling place is within one-quarter of a mile of the place of sale. During the prohibited hours, every place where liquors are sold must have no screen of any kind obstructing the view of the bar from the sidewalk, alley or road in front of, or bordering on the selling place.

Any holder of a liquor tax certificate of the first class who is the keeper of a hotel may sell liquor to his guests with their meals or in their rooms, but not in the barroom of the hotel. A guest is defined to be: 1. A person who in good faith occupies a room in a hotel as a temporary home and pays the regular customary charges for such occupancy, but who does not occupy such room for the purpose of having liquor served therein; or, 2. A person who, during the hours when meals are regularly served therein, resorts to the hotel for the purpose of obtaining and actually orders and obtains, at such time, in good faith, a meal therein.

The law provides for issuing of certificates; payment therefor; prescribes who shall not hold a certificate; to whom liquors shall not be sold; local option is provided for in towns, to be determined by vote. Provision is made for the cancellation of certificates and repayment of a rebate for the unexpired term to certificate holders.

Arctic Exploration in 1897.

Although the past year was an "off" one in exploration of the far North, it was one in which interest was greatly increased in Polar work. Lieutenant Peary was successful in his second attempt to secure the great meteorite, nearly a hundred tons in weight, that for centuries had rested where it had fallen on the gneissoid rock near Cape York, and he also made a comfortable and unadventurous voyage to the northern Eskimo settlements to arrange with the natives for advancing his supplies on the long march to the northward. His scheme for the year 1898 is to push as far along the western Greenland coast as it is practicable for him to do, establishing relief stations in the charge of these natives, instead of leaving his base of supplies a thousand miles in the rear, as so many other explorers have done. From his northmost station, which he hopes may be near Cape Washington, he will make a dash toward the pole, and in case of failure he will return to his depot and make a second after a period of recuperation. The departure of the daring Andree from Spitzbergen in a balloon, in a hope of drifting across the pole, was the most remarkable performance of the year, and up to the time of this writing nothing has been seen or heard of him. He was provisioned for several months, his balloon was made as nearly gas tight as possible, and there is still a hope that he may be able to make his way to some of the Greenland or Siberian settlements. Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, who in the previous year attained the latitude of 86° 15′, the farthest north, published his book, which had a wide and instant circulation, and came to this country on a lecture tour, meeting with remarkable success. His first important appearance was made in Brooklyn before an audience that filled the Academy of Music, and that listened with the closest attention to his simple tale of work and suffering in the long march from the Fram over the piled and broken ice to Franz Josef Land. Dr. Nansen's captain, Sverdrup, has announced his intention of making an independent voyage into the ice seas, and Dr. Nansen himself expresses a hope that he may be able to explore the Antarctic continent.

An Underground City.

In Galicia, in Austrian Poland, there is a remarkable underground city, which has a population of over one thousand men, women and children, scores of whom have never seen the light of day. It is known as the City of the Salt Mines, and is situated several hundred feet below the earth's surface. It has its town hall, theater and assembly room, as well as a beautiful church, decorated with statues, all being fashioned from the pure crystallized rock salt. It has well graded streets and spacious squares, lighted with electricity.

The Harlem River Speedway.

That part of the Harlem River Speedway which has been completed, extending from High Bridge up the river to Dyckman st., a distance of about two miles, was opened Nov. 17, 1897. It is 150 feet wide at the widest point, with walks on either side of the driveway, which has an average width of 95 feet.

The speedway follows the course of the river and the retaining wall varies in height so that the roadbed for the entire length is almost level. It has taken four years to build the two miles and it is expected the total cost will exceed $5,000,000. Considerable work remains to be done on the speedway, and when it is completed it will probably have taken more than five years to build.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

School Boards.

On the first day of February, 1898, the Boards of Education of the former cities of New York and Brooklyn become Borough School Boards. In the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx the School Board is to consist of twenty-one members, who shall serve out the terms for which they were appointed members of the Board of Education. In the Borough of Brooklyn the School Board will consist of the 45 members of the Board of Education, who shall serve out their terms. On the third Wednesday of January, 1898, the Mayor is to appoint a School Board of nine members in each of the Boroughs of Queens and Richmond, whose terms shall commence on February 1. The School Board in each borough is to organize on the second Wednesday of February and choose a president and delegates to the Board of Education, and elect a secretary, an assistant secretary or chief clerk, and such other clerks and subordinates as are required for its administrative duties. Each School Board shall have the safekeeping of all the premises and other property used for or belonging to the schools of the borough and power to choose sites for all school buildings and to provide such by-laws for the government and management of the schools of the boroughs as shall be for their best interests. The School Board has power to fix the salaries of superintendents, principals and all other members of the teaching staff, which need not be uniform, in the different boroughs.

Each School Board shall have power to appoint a Borough Superintendent of Schools for a term of six years, one Associate Superintendent for the first 700 teachers and an additional Associate Superintendent for each 350 teachers additional. The Borough Superintendent and his associates form a Borough Board of Superintendents who are charged with the duty of visiting all schools and inquiring into all matters relating to them and reporting to the School Board. They keep a list of all teachers, arrange for the promotion, graduation and transfer of pupils and may recommend the textbooks, apparatus and supplies required. Under their direction each school principal directs the methods of teaching in classes under his charge. The Borough Superintendent has a seat in the School Board, with the right to speak on all matters before the Board, but no vote. He nominates attendance officers to enforce the compulsory education law and the clerks in his office. A School Board has power to establish high schools, evening schools and kindergartens. The School Board of the Borough of Brooklyn has full charge of the teachers' retirement fund created in the City of Brooklyn. The College of the City of New York and the Normal College are continued as separate corporations to furnish free instruction, grant degrees and diplomas.

The Board of Education.

The head of the department of education is called the Board of Education. This consists of nineteen members, including the chairman of the School Board of the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx and ten members elected by said board; the chairman of the School Board of the Borough of Brooklyn and five members elected by said board; and the chairmen of the School Boards of the Boroughs of Queens and Richmond. Their term of office is one year. The Board of Education shall have the management and control of the public schools and public school system of the city, and possess the powers and privileges of a corporation. On the third Monday of February in each year the board shall organize by the election of one of its members as President. It shall have power to appoint a secretary of the Board, a Superintendent of School Buildings for a term of six years; a Superintendent of School Supplies for a term of six years; a City Superintendent of Schools for a term of six years; one or more auditors of accounts, and a chief clerk and such other officers, clerks or subordinates as it may deem necessary for its administrative duties. The salaries of all appointees shall be fixed by the Board within the proper appropriation.

The title to all property owned or purchased for school purposes, except the State Normal School in Jamaica, shall be vested in the City of New York, but shall be under the care and control of the Board of Education and of the School Boards of the various boroughs. The schools of the city shall be free to all children over 5 and under 21 years of age, and the money for the support of the schools shall be raised by taxation. The Board must make an annual report to the Mayor, between August 1 and November 30, setting forth in detail the condition of all schools under its control. The Board of Education shall provide for the purchase of all books, apparatus and supplies for the schools of the city, which, so far as possible, are to be obtained by contract. All applicants for licenses to teach are to be examined by the City Superintendent of Schools and four persons nominated by him and appointed by the Board of Education. Teachers must be appointed from the lists of those duly licensed by the City Superintendent. Principals shall be appointed by the School Boards of their boroughs on the nomination of the Board of Borough Superintendents, and all other members of the teaching staff in like manner, but principals shall have seats in the latter Board for all appointments in their respective schools. Until a School Board, which has been a Board of Education, adopts the nomination system its right to make appointments without nomination shall remain. Resignations of Borough Superintendents and Associate Superintendents shall be made to a School Board and resignations of principals and teachers to the Borough Superintendent. Members of the Board of Education of the School Boards are to serve without pay and to hold no office of emolument under city, county, state or national government. They may be removed for neglect or misconduct after a hearing by the Mayor, who has power to fill all vacancies.

Borough of Brooklyn.

The members of this board will serve out as members of the School Board the terms for which they were appointed as members of the Board of Education. Their powers, duties and functions as a Board of Education cease and determine, and their powers, duties and functions as a School Board under the charter for the Greater New York commence on the first day of February, 1898.

The meeting room and offices of the Board of Education are located at 131 Livingston st. The Board comprises forty-five members, serving three years, without salary, and appointed by the Mayor in annual detachments of fifteen. It consists of the following:

Appointments of Teachers in the Public Schools.

No person can be employed as a teacher in the public schools of the city unless holding a certificate or license from the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The following bylaws, adopted in 1896, by the Board of Education, contains the rules which govern in these matters:

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent to examine all applicants for teachers' certificates, as well as such other persons already in the service of this Board as the Committee on Teachers shall require to appear before him for examination. It shall also be his duty, at the close of each regular school term, to examine for admission to the Training School for Teachers all applicants who have completed a three years' course in and graduated from a high school or academy having a course of not less than three years approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, or from some institution of learning of equal or higher rank approved by the same authority; provided, however, that in lieu of such examination he may accept the diploma of graduation from the four years' language courses of the Brooklyn public high schools in the cases of persons who, as a part of these courses, have pursued to his satisfaction the studies prescribed in the three years' course approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in accordance with law. But nothing in this section shall operate to prevent the Superintendent issuing "probationary licenses" up to April, 1896.

Examinations shall be conducted and certificates issued in accordance with the following rules:

Examinations may be made by oral or printed questions, the answers to which shall be written, or shall be partially oral and partially written.

The Superintendent shall preserve a record of all examinations for qualifications in teaching, which shall be subject to inspection by any member of the Board of Education.

All examinations shall be held in the presence of such members of the Board as shall desire to attend, and notice shall be sent to each member of the Board at least one week prior to the opening of such examination.

Two weeks prior to each regular examination a notice shall be inserted in the daily papers for three days, stating the time, place and subjects of examination.

(a) A certificate to be known and designated as the "B" certificate. "Temporary B" certificates shall be granted to such persons of good moral character as have completed the course of study in the Training School for Teachers, and demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Superintendent during their practice teaching prescribed in Part IV. of the Rules and Regulations for the Schools, ability to teach successfully; and may be granted to such other legally qualified persons of good moral character, graduates of schools for the professional training of teachers, as produce evidence satisfactory to the Superintendent of successful experience in teaching equivalent to an experience of at least one year in a Brooklyn public day school, and to such other persons of good moral character as present evidence satisfactory to the Superintendent of successful experience in teaching equivalent to an experience of not less than three years in a Brooklyn public day school, and show upon examination that they have attained the degree of scholarship required, provided that the Superintendent may accept in lieu of such examination the degree of Bachelor of Arts granted to a graduate of any college or university approved by the Regents of the University of the State of New York.

The holder of a "Temporary B" certificate may be appointed in any primary grade, but said holder shall be entitled to teach only one year after regular appointment unless granted a permanent certificate.

A "Permanent B" certificate shall be granted to every holder of a temporary certificate, who, during a year of regular employment has exhibited skill in imparting instruction and maintaining discipline, but this certificate shall not make the holder eligible to appointment in a grammar grade.

(b) A certificate to be known and designated as the "A certificate" shall be granted by the Superintendent to holders of the "B certificate" who furnish satisfactory evidence of successful experience in teaching equivalent to an experience of not less than three years in a Brooklyn public day school, and who pass the required examination in methods of teaching and the principles of education. In the case of male teachers, however, the experience shall be deemed sufficient if it equals an experience of one year in a Brooklyn public day school.

Possession of an "A certificate" shall make the holder eligible to appointment in any grammar grade, but not to appointment in a high school grade or as head of department or principal.

The examination of applicants for the "A certificate" shall be held by the Superintendent on the last Saturday in September, November, January, March and May, in each year.

(c) A certificate to be known and designated as "Head of Department A" shall be granted by the Superintendent to an applicant who, in addition to the requirements for the certificate of "Grade A" shall pass such examination as the Superintendent shall consider necessary, in the principles and methods of teaching, and shall give evidence of ability to supervise a department.

The examination of applicants for a "Head of Department" certificate shall be held on the third Monday of December in each year. The holder of this certificate may be appointed as the head of a department.

(d). A certificate to be designated and known as "Principal's A," shall be granted by the Superintendent to an applicant who displays a higher grade of scholarship than that required for the aforementioned certificates, and who, upon examination, shows a minute acquaintance with the science and art of teaching, and who produces satisfactory evidence of successful experience in school government and organization.

The examination of applicants for a "Principal's A" certificate shall be held by the Superintendent in the last week in December in each year, and at such other times as the Superintendent may designate. The holder of this certificate may be appointed as principal of a school.

Section 4. Hereafter no person shall serve as a substitute teacher who does not hold a "Probationary license," a "B certificate" or an "A certificate," except where it is impossible to secure a teacher holding said certificate, in which case the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall at once be notified by the principal of a school, and said Superintendent may then authorize a person without a certificate to take charge of the class until such time as one holding a certificate can be obtained.

No person shall be permanently appointed to any primary grade who does not hold an "A" or a "B" certificate; no person shall be appointed or promoted to a grammar grade who does not hold an "A" certificate; no person shall be appointed to take charge of a department who does not hold a "Head of Department A" certificate, and no person shall be appointed principal of an independent school who does not hold a "Principal's A" certificate.

Teachers' Salaries.

The yearly salaries of teachers appointed, promoted or transferred to girls' classes in either primary or grammar grades, is fifty dollars less than the salaries of teachers of the same experience having charge of boys' classes in the like grades, except that in the first grammar grade the teachers of boys' and girls' classes receive the same salaries.

The following diagram is a condensed exhibit of the schedules of salaries in boys' classes:

School Teachers' Retirement Fund.

Chapter 656, Laws of 1895, provides that the Board of Education of the city of Brooklyn is given the full care and management of the Public School Teachers' Retirement Fund.

The Board of Education shall on and after January 1, 1896, reserve monthly, and turn over to said fund, one per centum of the salaries paid each month to the teachers who shall, prior to that date, elect to come under the provisions of this act; and the Board of Education shall also reserve monthly and turn into said fund one per centum of the salaries paid each month to all teachers appointed after January 1, 1896.

All moneys and property received by donation, legacy, gift, bequest or otherwise for and on account of said fund.

All such other methods of increment as may be duly and legally devised for the increase of said fund. The Board of Education may retire from active service any male teacher not under sixty years of age, or any female teacher not under fifty-five years of age in its employ who has elected to come under the provisions of that act, or who shall be appointed on and after January 1, 1896, and who has taught not less than thirty years, of which twenty immediately preceding the proposed retirement shall have been in the public schools of Brooklyn. Each teacher retired shall receive during life an allowance annually equal to one-half of the annual salary received by said teacher at the time of said retirement, to be paid in quarterly instalments; but no teacher so retired shall receive more than $1,200 in any one year; provided, however, that no teacher shall be retired until he or she shall have paid into the retirement fund an amount equal to twenty per centum of his or her annual salary at time of retirement.

The income of the fund for teachers retired under the operations of this law is about $20,000 per annum. Thirty-one teachers have been retired whose annuities aggregate $16,745 per annum.

University Extension.

The form of popular education known as University Extension originated in England in 1873. It was taken up first by Cambridge University and afterward by Oxford and the London Society for University Extension, and to-day nearly all of the leading educational institutions in the British Isles are conducting the work.

The system is an attempt to offer the advantages of the higher educational institutions to persons unable to take up residence work in college or university. The work was first entered upon in America in 1890 when the American Society for Extension of University Teaching was organized at Philadelphia. This society during the past six years has given 614 courses with an average attendance of 16,000 people. In 1892, when the University of Chicago was organized, the method was recognized as an integral part of the new institution. Three lines of instruction are given. First, lecture study instruction, including courses of six or twelve lectures, given in Illinois and adjoining states; second, class study instruction given in Chicago and its immediate suburbs; third, individual correspondence study. During the past five years 601 courses have been given with an average yearly attendance of more than 23,000. In the class study department 421 classes have been held in Chicago, and last year the enrollment was 1,871 students. In the correspondence study department the enrollment has increased from 61 in 1892 to 574 in 1896-7. The work was also entered upon in 1892 by the University of Wisconsin.

Records of Railroad Speed—1897.

Feb. 15—A special on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy R. R. made the distance from Chicago, Ill., to Denver, Col., 1026 miles, in 1132 minutes, or 8 minutes less than 19 hours, an hourly speed of nearly 64½ miles.

Mar. 2—A special was run from Jersey City to Washington, 230 miles, in 229 minutes.

Mar. 19—A special made the distance from New York to Albany, 143 miles, in 156 m. 9 s., or 4 minutes faster than the running time of the Empire State Express. This same trip was made in Sept., 1895, in 134 m. 25 s.

June 16—A remarkable run was made on the Lehigh Valley Road from Falling Spring to Manchester, 172.42 miles, in 176 minutes, including 3 stops, the actual running time being 163 minutes, an average speed of 1.05 per minute.

July 16—The Empire State Express ran from Syracuse to Buffalo, 149 miles, in 143 minutes, breaking all records on this road.

Aug. 4—A special on the Adirondack Branch of New York Central ran from Adirondack Junction to Malone, 57 miles, in 58½ minutes.

Dec. 10—A train on the Union Pacific Railroad made the run from Cheyenne to Sidney, 102 miles, in 97 minutes, and from Sidney to North Platte, 114 miles, in 117 minutes.

The Empire State Express is one of the fastest regular trains in the world, and runs from New York to Buffalo, 440 miles, in 8 hours, 24 minutes, an actual speed, deducting stops, of 52 1-3 miles per hour. At times it has made special spurts at 102 miles per hour and on one occasion 112½ miles, the highest known or recorded speed on any railroad.

On Sept. 11, 1895, a special train on the N. Y. C. and H. R. R. R. made the distance from the Grand Central Station, New York, to East Buffalo, 436½ miles, in 411 2-3 minutes, including stops, an average speed of 63.36 miles per hour. Excluding stops, the time was 407 minutes, 41 seconds, or 64.26 miles per hour.

The time breaks the best English long distance record made August 23, 1895, when a train on the London and North Western Railway ran from London to Aberdeen, 540 miles, in 507½ minutes, an average of 63.84 miles per hour.

On Sept. 26, 1895, a newspaper train on the N. Y. Central Road ran from Albany to Syracuse, 148 miles, in 130 minutes, or nearly 68.3 miles per hour.

Oct. 24, 1895, a special train on the Lake Shore Road ran from Chicago to Buffalo, 510 miles, in 481 minutes and 7 seconds, including stops, an average speed of 63.60 miles an hour. Excluding stops, the time was 471 minutes, 42 seconds, or 64.95 miles per hour. Passengers on this train took the Empire State Express at Buffalo and arrived at Grand Central Station at 10:15 P. M., thus making the through trip from Chicago to New York in 17¾ hours, beating the famous "Exposition Flyer" about 2¼ hours.

The Jarrett & Palmer special theatrical train still holds the long distance record made in June, 1877, of 3 days, 7 hours, 39 minutes, 16 seconds, from Jersey City to San Francisco.

The fastest regular long distance train is the Union Pacific daily overland limited from Chicago to San Francisco, 2,355 miles in 76 hours, 45 minutes; these regular runs have been made since Nov. 19, 1895.

In Feb., 1896, a train on the Union Pacific Railroad broke the record from Omaha to Cheyenne, running the 519 miles, excluding stops, at the rate of a mile a minute for the entire distance.

Pratt Institute—The late Charles Pratt gave to the youth of Brooklyn an institution that is unique among the educational establishments of the country. The buildings are on Ryerson street, between Willoughby and DeKalb avs., extending back from Hall st. to Grand av. The main structure is 100 feet wide by 86 feet in depth and six stories in height. The building devoted to science and technology is behind this structure. North of the science and technology building is a large gymnasium and south of it is situated the new trade school. Directly south of the main building is that of the high school, 50 by 80 feet, and three stories high. A new library building, on the west side of Ryerson st., was opened on May 26, 1896. It contains a library of 63,532 volumes, which is free to all residents of Brooklyn, children included. The building also contains an exhibition hall, an art reference room and the class rooms for the library school. The object of the Institute is to promote manual and industrial education, as well as cultivation in literature, science and art; to inculcate habits of industry and thrift and to foster all that makes for right living and good citizenship. Its aim is also to educate young men and women in handicrafts by which they will be made self supporting; it encourages them, moreover, to practice those arts in a thorough and honest manner. The classes are open to everyone. Nominal charges are made for tuition, but the institution is in no way a money making concern. The high school is the academic department of the Institute. Its course of study covers four years and embraces manual training for both boys and girls. Pupils who have been graduated successfully from a public grammar school are prepared to enter the high school, which fits its graduates for the highest scientific schools and colleges. The Institute is under the control of a board of trustees, with Mr. F. B. Pratt, Sec., as executive officer. The other trustees are Mr. C. M. Pratt, Pres., and Mr. George D. Pratt The average number of students is 3,000; instructors, 132. The work of the Institute is divided into departments, the heads of which constitute the faculty. The members of the faculty are F. B. Pratt, chairman; W. A. McAndrew, director of high school; W. S. Perry, director of fine arts; Harriet S. Sackett, director of domestic art; Emma O. Conro, director of domestic science; C. R. Richards, director of science and technology; Mary W. Plummer, director of libraries; Alice E. Fitts, director of kindergartens.

The Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences is authorized by Act of Legislature to establish Museums of Art and Science.

A tract of land, containing about forty-five acres on the summit and southern slope of Prospect Hill, has been reserved for park purposes, and authority has been given to the Mayor and Park Commissioner to locate thereon a site for a Museum building and to lease the same to the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences for a term of years not exceeding one hundred, at a nominal rent. The City of Brooklyn has been authorized to erect a section of the Museum building at a cost not to exceed $300,000. The Mayor and Park Commissioner have designated as the proper site for the building a tract of land facing the Eastern Parkway on the north, Washington avenue on the east, a line 100 feet south of the southern boundary of old President street on the south, and land reserved for the Prospect Hill Reservoir on the west. This site, containing eleven and nine-tenths acres and valued at $900,000, has recently been leased by the city to the Institute for a term of one hundred years.

On this site has been erected the first section of a Museum building, in classic style, and the entire structure, when completed, will cover an area of 560 feet square, with four interior courts, to provide light for the central portions of the building. The plan provides for collections, illustrating the general history of Art and Architecture on the first floor, rooms for the illustration of the practical Arts and Sciences on the second floor, and galleries for the illustration of the history of Painting, Engraving, Etching and Decorative Art on the third floor. The central portion of the building is carried one story higher than the rest, and in this the Schools of Fine Arts and of Architecture will be located.

The First Section of the building was completed in January, 1897, and was furnished and ready for occupancy as a Museum in May. It was opened to the public for the first time on June 2, and has remained open daily since. During the first seven months, June to December, inclusive, the attendance was 71,318.

Work on the Second Section of the building will be commenced during the present fiscal year, 1898.

New York Public Library.

The Legislature in 1897 authorized the selection of Bryant Park on 5th and 6th avs., between 40th and 42d sts., as a site for the new public library. The approved plans by Architects Carrere and Hastings provide for a building not to exceed $2,500,000. The style of architecture will be Renaissance and will be built in either white marble or Indiana limestone. The building will front on 5th avenue, looking east. The greatest projection of the main facade of the building is 75 feet back of the 5th av. building line. It is intended to make a terrace out of this 75 feet of foreground, serving as a grand approach to the main entrance. The terrace will be 455 feet long. There will be a hallway in the center of the building 80 feet long and 40 feet wide. The staircases which lead to the second and third floors will be of stone, 12 feet wide. The arches forming the vestibule will be 35 feet high and 15 feet wide. The entrance to the stairs and the elevators will be found on the 40th st. side. On the first floor will be the main exhibition room. On the second floor will be the rooms of the director and trustees, lecture room and reading room. The top floor will contain the Stewart collection. There will be about 140 feet of ground between the west elevation of the building and the present park. The design of the building will be monumental in character, with classical proportions.

The trustees of the new library building are: John L. Cadwalader, Samuel P. Avery, John Bigelow, William Allen Butler, S. Van Rensselaer Cruger, Andrew H. Green, Daniel Huntington, H. Van Rensselaer Kennedy, John S. Kennedy, Edward King, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Alexander Maitland, Thomas M. Markoe, Stephen H. Olin, Alexander E. Orr, Henry C. Potter, George L. Rives, Philip Schuyler, George W. Smith, Frederick Sturges.

The officers are: Hon. John Bigelow, Pres.; Rt. Rev. Henry C. Potter, D. D., 1st Vice-Pres.; John S. Kennedy, Esq., 2d Vice-Pres.; George L. Rives, Esq., 32 Nassau st., Sec.; Edward King, Esq., Union Trust Co., 80 Broadway, Treas.; John S. Billings, LL.D., 40 Lafayette pl., Director.

Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition.

will be held at Omaha, Nebraska, from June 1 to Nov. 1, 1898. The company is capitalized at $1,000,000 and is designed to exhibit and reveal the wealth and resources of the Western world. The management is vested in a directory of 50 members, with an executive dept. of six department managers. In addition to stock subscriptions, over $1,000,000 has been secured from various resources. By an act of Congress it is recognized as a national and international exposition. The U. S. Govt. has appropriated $200,000 for an exhibit and building. The State of Nebraska has appropriated $100,000 and the City of Omaha, $30,000. The principal buildings are: The United States Government, Fine Arts, Horticulture, Agriculture, Auditorium, Mines and Mining, Machinery and Electricity, Manufactures, Boys' and Girls', and Nebraska State Building. FATHER HILL'S JUBILEE.

The week commencing Monday, October 18, 1897, marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. William J. Hill, LL.D., pastor of St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, Court street, Brooklyn. Father Hill assumed the duties of pastor of St. Paul's, April 2, 1881. On the latter part of May a committee, with Frank Harper as chairman, met in the school hall of St. Paul's to make arrangements for the celebration of Father Hill's silver jubilee. An elaborate programme was prepared, which was faithfully carried out during jubilee week.

On Monday afternoon, October 18, there was a reception and addresses by the pupils of St. Paul's School in the School Hall on Warren street. Monday evening was the reception and entertainment by the faculty and pupils of St. Francis College. Tuesday evening was the reception and presentation of chalice and vestments by the congregation in the Athenaeum, Atlantic av. and Clinton st. On Wednesday evening was the parade. Thursday morning, October 21, solemn mass was said in St. Paul's at 11 o'clock, and in the evening at 7:30 solemn vespers were held. The receptions and entertainments during jubilee week were witnessed by large audiences and they were successful in every particular. On Thursday, at the solemn mass, the church was gorgeously festooned with flowers and the services were attended by an immense throng. Prominent clergymen present at the mass were: The Right Rev. Bishop McDonnell, Rev. Dr. William J. Hill, Rev. John McCarren of St. Edward's Church and the Rev. Dr. McCartney of the Church of the Assumption. The sermon was by the Rev. Dr. James Donohue of St. Thomas Aquinas. Haydn's Third Imperial Mass was sung by a quartet and full chorus, with orchestral accompaniment.

The jubilee was brought to a close with the solemn vespers in the church on that same evening. The Right Rev. Bishop Wigger of Newark preached the sermon. Thus ended a week that was memorable in the history of the church and in the life of the much-beloved pastor, Father Hill.

The Congressional Library at Washington has about 800,000 volumes.

Special Commissioner of Jurors.

The Special Commissioner of Jurors is appointed by the Justices of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. The Commissioner of Jurors in each county where there is a Special Commissioner of Jurors is required to send to the Special Commissioner of Jurors, as well as to the County Clerk, certified copies of all persons liable to jury duty in Kings County. From these lists the Special Commissioner makes selection of men possessing certain and unusual qualifications to serve as jurors, and keeps a list of all such persons. An indictment having been found and upon a plea of not guilty an issue of fact having arisen, either the defendant or the people may demand a special jury. A special jury having been demanded, a Justice of the Appellate Division, the Special Commissioner of Jurors, the Sheriff and the County Clerk then draw a jury from the lists of special jurors in the hands of the Special Commissioner. From this last jury list a jury is chosen for the trial of the action in the ordinary way. The object of the law is to get a high quality of jurors for cases demanding it.

Courts.

The courts having jurisdiction are the Supreme Court, County Court and the Surrogate's Court.
The Supreme Court is the highest court of original jurisdiction in all actions in law and equity and in criminal cases. The County of Kings forms a part of the Second Judicial District and of the Second Appellate Department of the State.

The County Court has jurisdiction of all actions for partition of real property; for dower, foreclosure of a mortgage, etc.; for specific performance of a contract relating to real property where the real property is situated in the county; in an action to foreclose a lien not exceeding $1,000 on a chattel when the chattel is found in the county, in favor of the executor, administrator, or assignee of a judgment creditor, etc.; for any other cause where the defendant or all the defendants are residents of the county at the time of beginning the action, when judgment is demanded for money only, not exceeding $1,000, or to recover chattel or chattels not exceeding in value $1,000; to the custody of the person and care of the property concurrently with the Supreme Court, if the person is a resident of the county, etc.

The court has jurisdiction over all criminal cases, including those punishable by death or imprisonment for life. Its jurisdiction is coextensive with that of the criminal branch of the Supreme Court, the highest court of criminal jurisdiction in this county.

The Surrogate's Court has jurisdiction in all matters appertaining to the estates of deceased persons who were at demise residents of Kings County; or where the deceased, not being a resident of State, died within the county, leaving personal property within the State; or where the deceased, not being a resident of the State, died without the State, leaving personal property within this county and no other; or where the deceased was not, at the time of his death, a resident of the State, but died possessed of real estate in this county, and no other.

CALENDAR PRACTICE.

Thirteen (13) copies of the cases and points must be delivered to the clerk before the commencement of the argument.

Appeals from orders, heard as non-enumerated motions, will be placed upon a separate calendar and called upon the first day of the term. Appeals from orders will also be heard on the third Monday of each month, in which the terms of the court are appointed to be held and notices of argument may be given for such day, and the calendar for such day will consist of causes not called on the first Monday, and other causes in which the appeal papers and affidavit of service thereof have been filed with the clerk as required by section 1,353 of the Code of Civil Procedure and the general rules of practice. The day calendar for the first and third Mondays of the term will consist of non-enumerated causes only. For other days it will consist of twelve causes, which will be placed thereon from the general calendar in their numerical order. Causes can be reserved by consent for a day subsequent to the time when they would be reached in their order only when stipulation to that effect is filed with the clerk before the day calendar is made up (1 o'clock P. M.). Motions, other than appeals from orders, will be heard on the first and third Mondays of the term, and notes of issue therefor must be filed with the clerk at least two (2) days before the day for which they are noticed.

Notes of issue must contain the title of the cause, name of court and justice or referee from whom appeal is taken, date of service of notice of appeal. Any party claiming a preference must so state in the note of issue.

THE COURTS.

The courts having jurisdiction in New York City are: Supreme Court, Surrogate's Court, City Court of the City of New York. The Supreme Court is the highest court of original jurisdiction in all actions in law and equity and in criminal cases. The County of New York forms the First Appellate Department and the First Judicial District. With the Supreme Court, by the constitution of 1894, has been merged the court formerly known as the Superior Court of the City of New York and the Court of the Common Pleas of the City and County of New York. The Supreme Court is divided into four parts—special terms for trials, in which there are twelve trial terms; supreme court, criminal branch; appellate term, to try appeals from City and District Courts; appellate division, to hear appeals from the special and trial terms and from the appellate term.

The City Court has jurisdiction in all common law actions involving an amount of property not greater in value than $2,000.

The Surrogate's Court has jurisdiction in all matters appertaining to the estates of deceased persons who were at demise residents of New York county, or where the deceased, not being a resident of the State, died within the county, leaving personal property within the State; or where the deceased, not being a resident of the State, died without the State, leaving personal property within this county, and no other; or where the deceased was not at the time of his death a resident of the State, but died possessed of real estate in this county, and no other.

There are also eleven district courts having jurisdiction in civil cases involving property to the value of $250.

The Court of General Sessions has jurisdiction strictly as a city court and has jurisdiction in civil and criminal cases equal to that formerly exercised by the police justices.

The Court of Special Sessions, held by three city magistrates, tries cases without a jury for minor causes.

Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck.

THE FIRST MAYOR OF GREATER NEW YORK

Robert A. Van Wyck, Mayor of the City of New York, was born in the Borough of Manhattan in the old Van Wyck mansion on Lexington av., in the year 1850. In 1862 he left school and entered a business house as errand boy. He subsequently became a clerk and five years after studied law. He was graduated from Columbia Law School in 1872 at the head of a class of 124. His father, William Van Wyck, was a New York lawyer and a descendant of old Cornelius Barents Van Wyck.

Mayor Van Wyck was formerly a member of the County Democracy and ran for Judge of the old Marine Court in 1881. In 1889 he went over to Tammany Hall and was elected Judge of the City Court. Mayor Van Wyck is a trustee of the Holland Society and a member of the St. Nicholas, Democratic and Manhattan Clubs.

For particulars of his nomination for Mayor by the Democratic party and the detailed vote by which he was elected, see other chapters in this book.

The Passing of the City of Brooklyn.

The last few hours of the existence of Brooklyn as a city were observed with fitting ceremony on New Year's Eve, Dec. 31, 1897, in the Council Chamber of the City Hall. The exercises consisted of an address by Mayor Frederick W. Wurster, who presided. The oration of the evening was delivered by the Hon. St. Clair McKelway. His subject was "From Great to Greater." Will Carleton, the poet, read an original ode, "The Passing of Brooklyn." Rev. J. M. Farrar, D. D., delivered an address on "Commerce and Church." An informal address was made at the close of the exercises by ex-Mayor Seth Low. The citizens' committee in charge of the observance was composed of Joseph C. Hendrix, William Berri, Herbert F. Gunnison, John S. McKeon and Richard Young; the committee from old Brooklynites: James L. Watson, D. T. Leverich, John Hess, E. D. White, Stephen M. Griswold; the committee of public officials, Mayor Wurster, Comptroller Palmer, Auditor Sutton, Aldermen J. R. Clark and David S. Stewart.

The City Hall was beautifully decorated with potted plants and flowers, and a large number of citizens was in attendance. At midnight the death of the old City of Brooklyn was announced by the tolling of the City Hall bell.

CITY OF NEW YORK MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

THE CHARTER OF NEW YORK CITY

The Charter of the City of New York, as constituted by the Act of Consolidation, passed by the Legislature of this State in 1896, is the legitimate successor of the various charters of the former cities of New York, Brooklyn and Long Island City. The original charter of the City of New Amsterdam was granted by the Dutch government in 1657. Eight years later, when the colony had passed under English control, Governor Nicolls granted a charter to "his Majesty's town of New York," substituting for the Schout, Burgomasters and Schepens of the Dutch government, Mayor, Aldermen and Sheriff. The subsequent colonial charters, known by the names of Governors Dongan, Cornbury and Montgomerie, were granted respectively by them under Queen Anne in 1686; King James II, in 1708, and King George, in 1730. The last named charter was confirmed by act of General Assembly of the colony in 1732. The original State constitution, and subsequent ones, have reaffirmed all the rights of the city granted previous to 1775. The first complete charter from the State was granted in 1813, and in 1830, and again in 1873, revised charters were passed. In 1882 the Consolidation Act, embodying a complete revision of the New York City Charter, was passed, and remained in force until the beginning of the year 1898.

The original incorporation of Brooklyn as a village was effected by legislative action in 1816. This act was repealed and a new one passed in 1827. The first charter of Brooklyn as a city was enacted in 1834. This charter was revised in 1850, and in 1854 a new charter, consolidating the cities of Brooklyn and Williamsburgh, was adopted. This charter was revised in 1873, and again in 1888. The last revision was in force until the independent existence of the municipality ended with the year 1897. The first charter of Long Island City was enacted in 1870, and a new one was granted in 1871.

The Greater New York Charter follows, in the main, the lines of the charter of the old city of New York, with important provisions adapted from the Brooklyn charter and from those of other cities. The greater part of it is the law as it has existed for half a century and the chief change has been made necessary by the adoption of the borough system.

PROVISIONS OF THE CHARTER.

The new Charter is the governmental instrument for the territory embraced within the new limits of New York, comprising the former city of New York on Manhattan Island, and the annexed territory in Westchester County, the former City of Brooklyn, coterminous with the County of Kings, the entire County of Richmond, and the portion of Queens County included in Long Island City, the towns of Newtown, Jamaica and Flushing, and about one-half of the town of Hempstead. This territory is divided into these five boroughs: Manhattan, comprising Manhattan and the adjacent smaller islands; the Bronx, including the part of the former city of New York in Westchester County, north of the Harlem River and Spuyten Duyvil Creek, and the islands adjacent; Brooklyn, comprising the whole of Kings County; Queens, including the part of Queens County named in the act of annexation; and Richmond, which consists of the county of that name, including the whole of Staten Island.

All the powers of government formerly exercised by these localities separately are merged into the Mayor and Corporation of the new city. The legislative power is vested in the Municipal Assembly, composed of two houses; the Council of twenty-nine members, to hold office for four years and the Board of Aldermen of sixty members, to hold office for two years. The President of the Council is elected by the entire city and the other members are chosen from ten council districts. Each of the five districts in the old city of New York and of the three in Brooklyn has three members, and there are two members from the Borough of Queens and two from the Borough of Richmond. Each alderman represents an Assembly District. Ex-mayors of the new city will be entitled to seats in the Council, and the heads of the administrative departments of the city are entitled to seats in the Board of Aldermen, but are not allowed to vote.

The Councilmen and Aldermen form the Municipal Assembly, to which large powers are granted. It has legislative authority over all the usual subjects of municipal jurisdiction, including power to establish ferries, to build bridges over and tunnels under all waters within the city limits; to build docks and improve the harbor; to construct parks, schoolhouses and public buildings; to open and extend streets; to supply water; and to provide easy, cheap and rapid means of travel by ferry and railroad from one part of the city to another. All acts of the Municipal Assembly are subject to the approval or disapproval of the Mayor. In the granting of franchises the concurrent action of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is required. No franchise can be granted for the use of the streets, avenues, parkways or highways for a longer period than 25 years, subject to renewal on new terms. The approval of the Board of Estimate must be secured before the Municipal Assembly acts, and its action must be by a three-fourths vote. If the Mayor vetoes such grant, a five-sixths vote is required to override. For the creation of loans and the issue of bonds by the Municipal Assembly, the prior approval of the Board of Estimate is required, and this approval must be unanimous for the issue of bonds for street repaving. Power is also given to the Municipal Assembly to establish additional waterworks, and to acquire property for this purpose within and beyond the city limits. The Municipal Assembly in joint meeting considers the tax budget as prepared by the Board of Estimate and has the power to reduce the amounts fixed, but not to increase them or insert any new ones. Power to pass all necessary ordinances is devolved upon the Municipal Assembly, and all ordinances in force in the different parts of the city at the beginning of the year remain in force until modified, amended or repealed. It is the duty of the Councilmen and Aldermen to see that the laws and ordinances of the city are faithfully observed by all the departments and officers, and to secure this they have power by joint resolution to inquire at any time into the working of any department and whether the duties of any officer of the city are being faithfully discharged. The Municipal Assembly authorizes contracts to be made by the heads of departments for all work or supplies involving an expenditure of more than $1,000, unless otherwise ordered by a three-fourths vote.

The executive and administrative powers of government are lodged in the Mayor and heads of departments. The Mayor is elected for a term of four years and appoints the heads of departments, with the exception of the Comptroller, who is head of the Department of Finance, and is elected for a like term and at the same time as the Mayor. The following are the city departments:

Department of Finance.
Law Department.
Police Department.

Represented in the Board of Public Improvements: 1. Department of Water Supply. 2. Department of Highways. 3. Department of Street Cleaning. 4. Department of Sewers. 5. Department of Public Buildings, Lighting and Supplies. 6. Department of Bridges.

Department of Parks.
Department of Buildings.
Department of Public Charities.
Department of Correction.
Fire Department.
Department of Docks and Ferries.
Department of Taxes and Assessments.
Department of Education.
Department of Health.

The Board of Public Improvements is composed of the heads of the six departments represented in it, together with the president of the Board, appointed by the Mayor, and ex-officio the Mayor, Comptroller, Corporation Counsel and the presidents of the five boroughs. The last named have a vote only upon matters affecting their respective boroughs. This board has jurisdiction over the bridges, streets, avenues and the water and sewer systems. It takes the initiative in all such im-

The Board of Public Imvements is empowered to lay out new streets, ks, bridges, tunnels, and approaches thereto, alter streets and to change their grades.

he Board of Estimate and Apportionment is nposed of the Mayor, Comptroller, Corporation unsel, President of the Council and President the Department of Taxes and Assessments. Its vers are similar to those of the like bodies in old cities of New York and Brooklyn.

o protect local interests in the various parts the city each of the five boroughs has a sident, elected by the people at large. He is presiding officer of a local board for each iate district in his borough, composed of the mbers of the Municipal Asembly resident in h district. The City lends its credit and ney for the making of local improvements issuing its bonds and depending upon the lection of assessments from the property own-he new city assumes all the valid debts of ry locality in it, as it inherits all the powers, nchises, rights and properties of the consolted corporations. This permits a uniform rate taxation throughout the entire city, which s been carefully provided for.

he system provided by the new charter for administrative departments has been gov- ied by the principle that where the work is ncipally discretionary a Board has been pro- ed, and where principally executive a single mmissioner. In the Police Department, how- r, where the duties of Election Commissioners volve upon the Police Commissioners, a bi- rtisan board of four is provided for, composed equal representation from the two dominant rties. There is a Park Board of three mem- rs, to hold office for two, four and six years pectively. The Board of Buildings is simi- ly constituted, as is the Board of Public arities, and also the Board of Docks. The ard of Taxes and Assesments consists of a sident and four other Commissioners.

he Board of Education consists of 19 members, from the Borough of Manhattan and the onx, 6 from the Borough of Brooklyn, and 1 h from the Boroughs of Queens and Richmond. e Boards of Education of the former cities of w York and Brooklyn become school boards er February 1, 1898, and similar school boards to be appointed in the Boroughs of Queens d Richmond.

he Board of Health is constituted of the esident of the Police Board, the Health Officer the Port and three Commissioners, two of om must have been practising physicians for least ten years.

t the head of the Department of Finance is Comptroller, elected for four years. He has trol of all the fiscal concerns of the corpora- n, and the accounts of all other departments are bject to his inspection and revision. He pre- ibes the method of keeping all accounts and mode of all payments. The department is ided into five bureaus, at the head of which the Collector of City Revenue, the Receiver Taxes, the Collector of Assessments and Ar- rs, the Auditors of Accounts and the Chamber- n. The Comptroller appoints all of these save Chamberlain, who is appointed by the Mayor. he Sinking Fund Commission is constituted of Mayor, Comptroller, Chamberlain, President the Council and Chairman of the Finance mmittee of the Board of Aldermen, with pow- similar to those of the like commissions in three former cities, and to provide for the li- dation of the principal of the city debt in- red after January 1, 1898, for which no other vision is made.

he Mayor is required to appoint three or more ll Service Commissioners to prescribe and en- ce regulations for the examination and ap- ntment of persons for the service of the city. warrants for the payment of salaries are valid e for those properly appointed.

Bureau of Municipal Statistics is provided for the Charter. The Mayor appoints the chief it for a term of four years, at a salary of $3,500 year, and a commission of not less than six members to give expert advice on statistical subjects and who serve without pay. The Bureau is to publish an annual volume of "Municipal Statistics of the City of New York," containing the results of the work of the various departments.

The Mayor appoints two Commissioners of Accounts, at $5,000 a year each, who are to report the financial condition of the city to him every three months.

An Art Commission is constituted to pass upon all works of art for the city before their erection. It is composed of the Mayor and the Presidents of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the New York Public Library and the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, ex officio, together with six appointed members, one a painter, one a sculptor and one an architect, and three not members of any profession in the fine arts. The Fine Arts Federation submits a list of not less than eighteen names, from which the Mayor selects his appointees.

THE MAYOR.

The executive power of the city is vested in the Mayor and the officers of departments. The Mayor is the chief executive officer, and he is a magistrate. His term begins at noon on the first day of January after his election and continues for four years. He is ineligible for the next succeeding term. The salary of the office is $15,000 a year. The Mayor appoints the heads of all departments save that of finance, and within six months after taking office he can remove any public officer appointed by the Mayor, except members of the Board of Education and School Boards, and certain judicial officers. After the expiration of that period he can only remove public officers for cause, upon charges and a hearing, subject to the approval of the Governor. He himself can be removed from office by the Governor, after a hearing upon charges. His duties are to communicate to the Municipal Assembly, at least once a year, a statement of the finances, government and improvements of the city; to recommend to the same body such measures as he deems expedient; to keep himself informed of the work of all departments, and to be vigilant in enforcing ordinances and the laws of the State. Every three months he must report to the Municipal Assembly the expenses and receipts of his office, stating the salaries paid to and the nature of the duties of his clerks and subordinates, whom he has the power to appoint. The Mayor has the power of veto over all ordinances and resolutions of the Municipal Assembly, but if he does not disapprove they become laws after a lapse of ten days. An ordinance or resolution can be passed over the Mayor's veto by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, except that when it involves the expenditure of money, the creation of a debt, the laying of an assessment, or the grant of a franchise, a five-sixths vote is required. The Mayor countersigns all warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the Chamberlain for payments on behalf of the corporation. He has also to sign all bonds, together with the Comptroller. In the absence or sickness of the Mayor the President of the Council is the Acting Mayor.

BOROUGH PRESIDENTS AND LOCAL BOARDS.

The Presidents of the Boroughs hold office for a term of four years. They have offices in the Borough Halls and are ex-officio members of the local boards for each of the districts of local improvement into which the Boroughs are divided. These districts are the same as the Senate districts of the counties and the board in each is constituted of the members of the Municipal Assembly residing therein. They have power to recommend initial proceedings in all street and sewer improvements, where the work is in whole or part to be paid for by assessments upon property. They can recommend the laying of sidewalks, setting of street lamps and providing of street signs. The local boards also have power to hear complaints of nuisances in streets or against disorderly houses, drinking saloons conducted without observance of licenses, gambling houses or other matters concerning the peace, comfort, order and good government in any neighborhood in its district, and concerning the condition of the poor therein. Upon receipt of a petition for a local improvement by the President of the Borough he must appoint a time for a meeting of the local board not more than fifteen days thereafter, and if the local board decides to recommend that the work be done a resolution must be adopted and a copy thereof sent to the Board of Public Improvements. The cost of the work is to be assessed upon the property benefited.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The legislative power of the City of New York is vested in two houses, known respectively as the Council and the Board of Aldermen, and together styled "The Municipal Assembly of the City of New York." The Council consists of 29 members, one of whom is the president, and who is chosen for that office by the people. They are elected for the same term as the Mayor, and at the same time. Of the other 28 members, three are chosen from each of the five council districts into which the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx are divided (see pages 141 and 143); three from each of the three districts in the Borough of Brooklyn; two from the Borough of Queens and two from the Borough of Richmond. Their terms are for four years from the first Monday in January after election, and the first meeting in each year must be at noon on the first Monday of January. Ex-Mayors have seats in the council but no votes.

The Board of Aldermen consists of one member elected from each of the 60 Assembly districts in the entire city, for a term of two years from the first Monday in January after election. The head of each administrative department, or if there is more than one head, the president thereof, is entitled to a seat in the Board, with the right to participate in discussion, but no right to vote. The president of the Board is chosen from its own members for two years.

The Council elects a city clerk at a salary of $7,000 a year, for a term of six years. He acts as clerk of the Council and appoints a clerk for the Board of Aldermen. The City Clerk has charge of all the papers and documents of the city not committed by law to the care of the departments and other officers, and keeps a record of the proceedings of the Municipal Assembly, and engrosses all ordinances, which shall be open for public inspection at all reasonable times. The City Clerk has power to appoint a clerk in each borough to have charge of records and other public papers.

The Municipal Assembly must meet at least once in each month, save August and September. The Mayor can call a special meeting at any time and must call one at the request of three members of the Council and of nine Aldermen. Every legislative act of the Municipal Assembly must be by ordinance or resolution, and the ordinances must be in this form: "Be it ordained by the Municipal Assembly of the City of New York." A majority vote is required for all ordinances, and if they involve the expenditure of money, the creation of a debt, the laying of an assessment or the grant of a franchise, a three-fourths vote of all the members elected to each house is requisite for passage. Before it takes effect every ordinance or resolution must be presented to the Mayor for his approval. If he does not veto it within ten days after receiving it, it becomes of effect. After ten days and within fifteen days after an ordinance is vetoed, it can be passed by a two-thirds vote over the veto, provided that if it involves the expenditure of money, the creation of a debt, the laying of an assessment or the grant of a franchise a five-sixths vote is required.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

Stewart Building, Chambers st. and Broadway, Borough of Manhattan.

The Comptroller of the City of New York is the head of the Department of Finance, which has control of the fiscal affairs of the corporation. His term of office is four years from noon on the first day of January succeeding his election and he may be removed from office by the Governor upon charges and a hearing. Any vacancy in the office is to be filled by the Mayor. The salary of the office is $10,000 a year. The Comptroller is ex-officio a member of the Board of Public Improvements, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and the Sinking Fund Commission. He has power to appoint a deputy, who shall have all the powers and duties of the Comptroller for a period not exceeding three months whenever so designated in writing by the Comptroller. He also appoints the heads of the bureau for the collection of city revenue, who is also Superintendent of Markets; of the bureau for the collection of taxes; of the bureau for the collection of assessments and arrears, and of the auditing bureau in his department. There is another bureau in the Comptroller's office for the reception and safe keeping of all moneys paid into the treasury and for the payment of money on warrants drawn by the Comptroller and countersigned by the Mayor. At the head of this is the Chamberlain, but he is appointed by the Mayor for four years. He gives a bond for $300,000 and receives a salary of $12,000 a year. The receiver of taxes and the collector of assessments and arrears each gives the Comptroller a bond for $25,000. Each has his chief office in the Borough of Manhattan and a branch office in each of the other boroughs, where taxes and assessments upon property in that borough are payable.

The Comptroller is authorized to advertise for proposals for the purchase of bonds and stocks of the city. All bonds issued after January 1, 1898, except assessment and revenue bonds, shall be known as "corporate stock of the City of New York." For its redemption and payment the faith and credit of the city are pledged. The form of the same shall be designated by the Comptroller and be signed by him and the Mayor and sealed with the city seal and attested by the City Clerk. In coupon form the stocks shall be in sums not less than $500 each share, or it may be registered, and it shall be redeemable in not less than ten nor more than 50 years after date, to be paid in gold coin or in the legal currency of the United States, at the option of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund. Bonds may be issued in registered form in denominations of $10 or any multiple thereof. Revenue bonds, to be redeemed from the proceeds of the tax levy, may be issued to meet the expenditures under the appropriations of each current year. Special revenue bonds may be issued for certain specified purposes. When authorized by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment the Comptroller can issue assessment bonds to meet expenses incurred in regulating and paving streets, building sewers and all other work done by contract, the cost of which is to be met by assessments upon the property benefited.

The Mayor, Comptroller and Chamberlain are to designate the banks and trust companies in which city moneys are to be deposited.

DEPARTMENT OF TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS.

Office: Stewart Building, Borough of Manhattan.

The Board of Taxes and Assessments consists of a president, appointed for six years, at $8,000 a year, and four commissioners, one of them a lawyer, appointed for four years each, at $7,000 a year. All the powers and duties of the Board of Taxes and Assessments in the former City of New York, and of the Department of Assessment in the City of Brooklyn devolve upon this board. It has authority to appoint not more than forty deputy tax commissioners and to fix their salaries. Their duty is to assess all taxable property in such a way as to secure equality of valuation in all parts of the city. The work of assessment begins on the first Tuesday in September each year. The department is to have an office in each borough, with the main office in the Borough of Manhattan, and at each there shall be kept a record of assessed valuations open for examination and correction from the second Monday in January to the first of May in each year. The Board has the power to reduce an excessive tax upon real or personal property. Taxes are payable November 1 each year, with a rebate for one month at the rate of 6 per cent. a year. To taxes paid in December 1 per cent. is to be added, and after January 1 interest is added at the rate of 7 per cent. a year. The Mayor appoints a board of five assessors at $3,000 a year each, to make all assessments for local improvements. The Comptroller, Corporation Counsel and President of the Board of Public Improvements constitute a Board of Revision of Assessments. No assessment for local improvement is to exceed one-half of the fair value of the property assessed.

Thomas L. Feitner, Pres., $8,000; term expires Dec. 31, 1903; Commissioners, Edward C. Sheehy, $7,000, term expires Dec. 31, 1901; Arthur C. Salmon, $7,000, term expires Dec. 31, 1898; Thomas J. Patterson, $7,000, term expires Dec. 31, 1900; William Grell, $7,000, terms expires Dec. 31, 1898; Secretary, C. Rockland Tyng, $3,000.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH.

New Criminal Court Building, Centre st.

The Board of Health consists of the President of the Board of Police, the Health Officer of the Port and three Commissioners of Health, appointed by the Mayor, two of whom must have been practicing physicians for at least ten years. The Commissioner, who is not a physician, is the President of the Board and his salary is $7,500. The other Commissioners receive $6,000 each. Their duty is to enforce so far as practicable all the laws of the State within the city limits and the waters adjacent thereto for the preservation of human life and the care, promotion and protection of health. The Board has the power to remove any person suffering from contagious disease to a proper place for treatment and to avert all causes of disease or peril to life or health. The Sanitary Code in force in the former City of New York is made binding and in force over the entire new city. The department is to maintain two bureaus, one under a Sanitary Superintendent, at $5,000 a year, and the other under the Registrar of Records at $4,000 a year. Offices are to be maintained in all the Boroughs, with assistants in charge of the branch offices of these bureaus. A full record of all births, deaths and marriages is to be kept by the department.

THE WATER SUPPLY OF NEW YORK CITY.

BOROUGH OF BROOKLYN.

The water supply of the Borough of Brooklyn is obtained from the southern slope of Long Island lying to the west of Amityville, and is furnished by streams and wells driven into the saturated sand. Five different systems are in use for the supply of the city. The Ridgewood, Long Island, Flatbush, New Utrecht and Gravesend water works, the last four named supplying respectively the 26th, 29th, 30th and 31st Wards. The Ridgewood system, located at Ridgewood, is the oldest and largest of all the systems. The buildings of the old pumping station were constructed in 1859. The station was first equipped with two engines. No. 3 was completed in 1869; No. 4 in 1884, and the five Worthington engines were placed in 1891 and 1893. The pumping capacity of engines 1 and 2 is 13,500,000 gallons daily; of engine 3, 17,047,214½ gallons daily; of engine 4, 16,968,000 gallons. The five Worthington engines have a capacity of 57,100,000 gallons daily. The Mount Prospect pumping station is part of the Ridgewood system. The Long Island water supply plant is located on New Lots avenue at the head of Fresh Creek. The population supplied by this plant is about 48,500. It has two engines with a pumping capacity of 1,500,000 gallons daily. The Flatbush water works are located at the head of Paerlegat Creek, near the intersection of New York av. and Avenue E. This plant has three engines with capacities of 3,000,000, 5,000 000 and 3,000,000 gallons daily. The New Utrecht water works are situated on the corner of East 14th st. and Avenue V. They were built in 1880 and formerly known as the Coney Island water works. This plant has three engines, two each of 2,000,000 gallons and one of 1,500,000 gallons capacity. There are thirty-five miles of main. The Gravesend plant is located at 17th st., between Avenues R and S, about one-half mile from the New Utrecht plant. This plant has two engines. The average daily consumption for the entire year is estimated at 1,900,000 gallons.

BOROUGHS OF MANHATTAN AND BRONX.

The water supply of the Borough of Manhattan is received from the Croton watershed, thirty miles north of the borough. The work of constructing the reservoirs and mains was begun in 1835 by an act of the Legislature. The system was completed in 1842 and the water was turned on the Fourth of July of that year. The conduit from Croton Dam to 135th st. gate house is 30¾ miles. The reservoirs and aqueducts have a daily capacity of 350,000,000 gallons. High Bridge has a reservoir with 10,000,000 gallons capacity. The reservoir in Central Park will hold 1,000,000,000 gallons and the receiving reservoir below it 150,000,000 gallons more.

BOROUGH OF RICHMOND.

There are three water companies on Staten Island, which furnish the island with water. They are the Crystal Water Company at Stapleton, the South Shore Water Company at New Dorp and the Staten Island Water Supply Company at New Brighton.

The Crystal Water Company has a pumping capacity of 5,000,000 gallons per day. Its daily consumption is 2,500,000 gallons.

This company began January 1st to operate a branch station at Tottenville. This pumping station supplies 2,000 people, has a pumping capacity of 1,000,000 gallons and its stand pipe has a capacity of 300,000 gallons.

The South Shore Water Supply Company has a pumping capacity of 90,000 gallons, and its consumption is 36,000 gallons per day. The water is received from two driven wells, each 45 feet in depth.

The Staten Island Water Supply Company has a pumping capacity and consumption of 4,000,000 gallons per day. The water comes from artesian wells 130 feet in depth.

BOROUGH OF QUEENS.

The water supply of Jamaica has its source in driven wells located near the village. The daily pumping capacity of the station is 3,500,000 gallons. The daily consumption is 2,000,000 gallons and the annual consumption is 750,000,000. The Jamaica system has 60 miles of mains.

The water supply of Flushing is derived from 26 driven wells at Bay Side and also from Oakdale lake. The capacity is 2,000,000 gallons daily, and the daily consumption is about 800,000.

The water supply of Newtown is derived from driven wells. The village has two pumping stations, one with a capacity of 2,000,000 gallons daily from 15 wells, and the other with a capacity of 6,000,000 gallons per day from 55 driven wells. The average total consumption per day is about 1,000,000 gallons.

Staten Island Macadam Roads.

Staten Island has but few parks. Stapleton and Port Richmond each have parks about two acres in size. As a builder and maintainer of good roads, however, Staten Island stands pre-eminently in the foreground. Under the provisions of a special law of 1890, 75 miles of improved roads have been completed and there is still under contract about 26 miles, which will be constructed during 1898. The roads thus far constructed are of the Telford-macadam and macadam class, mostly of the latter. The mileage of roads has been fairly well divided among the five townships. To pay for the improved road system the county has issued road bonds to the amount of $1,030,000. The cost of cleaning, sprinkling, patching and repairing on roads, bridges and culverts is about $25,000 per annum. The roads are constructed and maintained under the supervision of Civil Engineer Henry P. Morrison, who is at the head of the road department. The entire mileage of roads is stationed off in fifty foot lengths, and is daily patrolled by inspectors on wheels.

The townships of Northfield, Middletown, Southfield and Westfield have also made arrangements for the construction of about 30 miles of macadam roads to be built during the season of 1898; and the town of Southfield for a boulevard in that town.

There is also in contemplation the establishment of an extensive public park at Silver Lake for the arrangement of which a commission has been appointed by the Governor.

NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

The management of the bridge was formerly under control of a board of twenty trustees, eight being appointed by the Mayor, Comptroller and Auditor of Brooklyn, and eight by the Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen of New York City. Under an act of the Legislature, passed April 4th, 1893, on April 12th following this board was replaced by a Board of Trustees, consisting of two persons appointed by the Mayor of the City of Brooklyn, two persons appointed by the Mayor of the City of New York, at a salary of $3,000 each, and the mayors and comptrollers of the two cities, members ex-officio, the appointed trustees to hold office for five years. Under the Charter for the greater city of New York the offices of trustees of the bridge are abolished and a Commissioner of Bridges appointed by the mayor will have jurisdiction over the structure. (See City Government.) The trustees in 1897 were:

William Berri (Pres.) and Seth L. Keeney, of Brooklyn.

J. Seaver Page and Clarence A. Henriques (V. Pres.), of New York; Harry Beam, Sec.; Edward Barr, Treas.; James Ward, Police Capt.

In 1896 the managers of the surface and elevated roads of Brooklyn sought permission to extend their lines to N. Y. over the Bridge. The matter on Oct. 26, 1896, was by a meeting of the Board of Trustees referred to a Board of 3 engineers, to be appointed as follows: One by the Mayor of Brooklyn, one by Mayor of N. Y. and one by President of the Bridge. The following were appointed: Lefferts H. Buck, Virgil G. Bogue and Geo. H. Thompson. This Board presented its report on Feb. 8, 1897, in which it expressed the entire feasibility of operating surface cars and elevated trains on the bridge. The report was referred to a committee of trustees, of which Hon. F. W. Wurster was chairman. This committee reported in favor of the project on Feb. 16, and on Mch. 10, 1897, the Board of Trustees adopted the report of the special committee, and the report of the Board of Experts.

On May 15, 1897, the N. Y. State Legislature passed an act empowering the Bridge Trustees to enter into contracts with the Brooklyn Railway companies to operate their lines over the bridge. Plans and contracts were approved and signed Aug. 23, 1897. Revised contracts were executed Oct. 14, 1897. Work was immediately begun by the R. R. companies and prosecuted until stopped by legal process in November. On Dec. 31 one of the injunctions was set aside, the track one way completed and the 1st trolley car crossed the Bridge on the evening of Dec. 31.

On Nov. 30, 1896, the system of switching trains at the two terminals by electric motors was tested and found satisfactory, and since Jan. 23, 1897, the switching has been done entirely by electric motors, and the locomotives laid aside.

THE NEW EAST RIVER BRIDGE.

The new East River Bridge Commission, which is authorized to construct a bridge from the foot of Broadway, Brooklyn, to the foot of Grand street, New York, was organized under the provisions of Chapter 789 of the Laws of 1895. The act was approved by the Governor on May 27, 1895. In accordance with the provisions of the law six Commissioners were appointed, three each by the Mayors of Brooklyn and New York. The two mayors act as ex-officio members of the Commission.

Mayor Schieren appointed Andrew D. Baird (Pres.), James A. Sperry and Henry Batterman. Mayor Strong appointed Salem H. Wales (V. Pres.), Francis B. Thurber (Sec.) and Richard Deeves (Treas.) The new commission appointed by Mayor Van Wyck Jan. 19, 1898, are: President, Lewis Nixon; Vice-President, James W. Boyle; Secretary, Smith Lane; and Commissioners Julian D. Fairchild, John W. Weber and Thomas S. Moore.

Offices of the Commission, 49-51 Chambers street, New York. Meetings held every Wednesday afternoon. The offices of the chief engineer are at 84 Broadway, Brooklyn.

Leffert L. Buck, chief engineer; Othniel F. Nichols, assistant engineer.

The original commission purchased all the rights of the the East River Bridge Company, which was organized in 1892, to build a bridge between the same points, for $200,000 on December 18, 1895.

The route agreed upon by the Commission is from a point between South Fifth and South Sixth sts., to a point near the foot of Delancey st., N. Y.

The northerly line of the bridge in New York corresponds with the southerly line of Delancey st. and 32 feet is left outside of the bridge as a clearance space. The bridge ends at Clinton st. in New York, and just west of Roebling st., in Brooklyn, two full blocks being taken in each city for an entrance plaza.

It is proposed that the bridge shall be 118 feet wide, and 135 feet high for 400 feet at the middle of span at high water and lowest position of bridge, and will furnish accommodations for four surface railroad tracks and two tracks for elevated trains. The towers will be made of steel. The estimated cost is about $7,000,000. The present bridge cost more than $11,000,000, exclusive of right of way. The structure will probably be completed in four years. The commissioners are in favor of allowing the surface and elevated railroad companies to run their cars over the bridge without charge.

The general plans for the bridge were duly adopted by the Commission on August 19, 1896, and formally filed in the Department of Public Works in the cities of Brooklyn and New York. An amended plan was adopted and filed in May, 1897, covering a change in the line of the bridge on the Brooklyn side, authorized by the legislature and making the bridge straight from end to end.

Extensive diamond drill borings were made on both sides of the river at the sites of the tower foundations, from which it is found that the New York foundation will be about 60 feet below high water and the Brooklyn foundation about 90 feet below high water, both foundations being on solid rock. Sealed proposals were received by the commissioners on October 7, 1896, for building the New York tower foundations. Twelve bids were received, varying from the lowest at $367,000 to the highest at $631,620. The contract for this foundation was finally executed on October 28, 1896, with the lowest bidder, Mr. P. H. Flynn, of Brooklyn, and work was begun under this contract on Saturday, November 7. The contractor is allowed fourteen months in which to complete the work. The north pier of the New York tower foundation is about two-thirds done; the caisson for the south pier is now in place and the masonry on it commenced.

Bids for the Brooklyn tower foundations were opened on June 9, 1897; nine (9) bids were received, varying from $507,187 to $821,078. This work was let to Colin McLean, of New York, the lowest bidder, and work was commenced under this contract in July, 1897. The first caisson for the Brooklyn tower foundation was launched on Sept. 30, 1897; the second caisson was launched in December. It is expected that the pneumatic work on the Brooklyn side will be completed early in 1898.

Fourteen bids were received, and opened on Sept. 22, 1897, for each of the two anchorages; these varied from $689,349 to $1,238,100. The New York anchorage was let to Shanly & Ryan, of New York, the lowest bidders, for the sum of $750,770. The Brooklyn anchorage was let to the Degnon-McLean Construction Company for the sum of $723,578.

The Commission purchased a block of property from the American Sugar Refining Co. for $350,000. This property is located on the line of the bridge, and extends from Kent avenue to the pier head line. Full possession of this property could not be given until Sept. 1. Land has also been taken on both sides of the river for the anchorages, and the buildings, about thirty-five in number, have been torn down preparatory to the construction of the masonry.

The Commissioners have taken property of the value of about $800,000, and have contracted for work to cost about two and a half million dollars. All the heavy masonry work for the bridge is now under contract.

It is expected that the contracts for the steel towers and shore spans connecting them with the anchorages will be let early in 1898, and that the laying of the cables over the river can begin in January, 1899.

THE NAVY YARD.

The navy yard is a United States reservation, comprising 112¼ acres, situated on a little bay in the East river known as Wallabout channel, the conformation of the shore giving it a water front of nearly three miles. On the land side, the reservation extends to Flushing av., and from Clinton av. on the east to Navy st. on the west. The main entrance, at Sands and Navy sts., is reached by the Flushing av. cars and was opened in the summer of 1896. The new official entrance is more imposing than the old York st. entrance, and in addition to two towers, a gatekeeper's lodge and a guard house stands on each side of the entrance. The yard is open daily except Sundays and holidays, from 8 o'clock in the morning to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when anyone may enter and inspect the place, a pass being given each visitor at the gate by the keeper in charge. It should be clearly understood that this pass entitles the holder to walk about the yard and see the ships at the docks, but not to enter the buildings, except the commandant's office, nor to board any vessel in commission, nor to cross to the Cob dock. For this, special passes are required, and they are only issued by the Captain of the Yard, in the Lyceum Building. The western half of the yard, where the principal offices, shops, storehouses and foundries are located, are laid off in well paved streets in right angles to each other. Main street extends from the main gate to the water front. Passing the guard house, where the marines are constantly on duty, the first building seen at the left is the commandant's residence, surrounded by lawns and gardens. Visitors are not admitted within this enclosure. The Lyceum is a three story structure. On the ground floor are the offices of the captain of the yard, and on the second floor offices of the commandant and his aides, and on the third floor the quarters of his clerks. Here the records are preserved, including such as pertain to ships, lists of officers and rosters of all clerks and the employes. In Trophy Park, a triangular green adjoining the Lyceum—not in the Museum—is a marble column, commemorating twelve American seamen who fell at the capture of the Barrier forts, on Canton river, China, in 1856. It was erected by their shipmates on the San Jacinto, Portsmouth and Levant. About the Monument are guns captured from the British frigate Macedonian, and the iron prow of the Confederate ram Mississippi. In 1890 the Naval Museum, containing priceless relics and trophies, was sent to the Naval Academy at Annapolis. A small octagonal building west of Trophy Park is the office of the naval surgeon and beyond that there is a building for provisions and clothing. Here is cut out by machinery all the clothing used in the navy, except that worn by officers, though the garments are sent away to be finished. Here, also, all the coffee used in the navy is roasted, ground, put up in tins, and all canned goods, hard tack and condensed food for the navy are stored. On the other side of Main st. the cruiser Cincinnati was built. The workshops, machine shops and foundries are on Chauncey, Warrington and Morris avs. On Chauncey av., which extends from Main st. to Flushing av. are the cooper shop, mold shop, ordnance building, tank shed, now used for sand, coal and lumber; a building for anchor chains and rigging loft, copper smith's, plumbing shop and boiler shops. Building No. 7, on Warrington av., contains various departments, the court martial room, civil engineer's room and flag loft, where all flags and bunting used by our navy as well as flags of other nations are made by women. Other buildings on this avenue are the blacksmith's shop, paint shop, yard and docks, construction department and steam engineering department. The avenue ends in a park. On Morris av. are a joiner's shop, offices, boat house and iron plating shops. Most of the senior officers are pleasantly quartered on Flushing av., while some of them live in private houses in the city. The spacious marine barracks and drill yard are entered from the gate on Flushing av. and the only department outside the inclosure is the Naval Hospital on Flushing av., separated from the yard by Wallabout market. In the hospital inclosure is the naval cemetery. The water front of the yard extends for 6,600 feet from Little street on the west to Division av. on the east, and opposite the center is the Cob dock. This is an island nineteen acres in extent, and to resist the action of the tide a concrete and granite wall is built around it. It has a water front of 5,000 feet. Whitney Basin in this island has a frontage of 3,300 feet. The ordnance dock is also here. Communication is had by means of a steam rope ferry, and a causeway across Wallabout Channel, connecting the Cob dock with the main shore at the northeast boundary line, is now practically completed. This causeway is to be 522 feet long, with an extreme width of 41 feet. Two 40-ton cranes, traveling on an 18-foot railway around the dry docks, are designed for lifting armor plates weighing from 20 to 40 tons; stepping steel masts, hoisting machinery and boilers and lowering them into place. A portion of the yard, consisting of the Wallabout lands, was sold to the City of Brooklyn June 15, 1894. It comprised 27 152-1,000 acres, the amount paid being $1,208,666. Moored to the Cob dock is the receiving ship Vermont, with a regular crew and detail of officers, who live on board. All enlistments are made on board, both for seamen and for apprentices. Special passes are required by visitors to the Cob dock. Tuesdays and Saturdays are the regular visiting days.

INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITIONS.

The Tennessee Centennial and International Exposition.

The Tennessee Centennial and International Exposition was held from May 1, to Oct. 30, 1897, at Nashville, Tenn. The officials of the exposition were: John W. Thomas, Pres.; V. L. Kirkman, Vice-Pres.; W. A. Henderson, Knoxville, Tenn., 2d Vice-Pres.; John Overton, Jr., 3d Vice-Pres.; E. C Lewis, Div. Gen.,; W. P. Tanner, Treas.; S. A. Champion, Gen. Counsel; A. W. Willis, Com. Gen.; Frank Goodman, Auditor; Herman Justi, Chief of the Bureau of Publicity and Promotion

The New York State Commission to the Exposition appointed by Gov. Black were: John C. Eames, New York, Pres.; Timothy L. Woodruff, Brooklyn, Vice-Pres.; George F. Kunz, New York, Treas.; John C. Latham, New York; Robert R. Hefford, Buffalo; Herbert F. Gunnison, Brooklyn; James Swann, New York; Dr. Frank R. Vandenberg, Buffalo; Titus Shread, Little Falls; Stephen P. Corliss, Albany; Algar M. Wheeler, Sec.

The Mayor of Brooklyn appointed a Commission of prominent Brooklyn men and women to look after a Brooklyn exhibit and to arrange for an excursion of Brooklyn people to Nashville to celebrate Brooklyn Day, Oct. 11th. Of this Commission Herbert F. Gunnison was President; Wm. C. Redfield, Sec.; Ludwig Nisson, Treas. The Executive Committee consisted of William Berri, Chairman; Daniel T. Wilson, A. Abraham, George A. Price, Andrew D. Baird, John D. Kelley, Thomas P. Peters. The Committee on Exhibits consisted of the following women: Mrs. Cornelia H. Cary, Chairman; Miss Ellen A. Ford, Sec.; Mrs. Augustus Van Wyck, Mrs. A. G. Brown, Miss Alice Campbell, Mrs. Mary E. Craigie, Mrs. James Scrimgeour, Mrs. Clara McCrory Dorsey.

On Oct. 8th a special train with 100 Brooklynites and members of the New York State Commission left New York for the Exposition. En route the party stopped at Luray, Va.; Natural Bridge, Va.; Chattanooga, Tenn., and returning at Mammoth Cave and Louisville, Ky.

Brooklyn Day was observed by exercises in the Auditorium. Herbert F. Gunnison presided, Mayor McCarthy of Nashville delivered an address of welcome, responded to by Mayor Wurster, of Brooklyn; J. W. Thomas, President of the Exposition, spoke on behalf of the Exposition, and was responded to by Wm. C. Redfield. Margaret E. Sangster read an original poem written for the occasion and St. Clair McKelway delivered the oration of the day, and was followed by an address by Mrs. Bernard Peters. In the evening a reception by the Lady Commissioners was held at the New York State Building.

Oct. 12 was observed as New York State Day. Lieut. Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff presided. The orator was Dr. A. V. V. Raymond, President of Union College. Other addresses were made by Gov. R. L. Taylor of Tennessee, Lieut. Gov. T. L. Woodruff of New York State and W. C. De Witt of Brooklyn. The special train and party arrived home on the evening of Oct. 15.

The exposition was a success. The receipts from all sources were $1,219,414.45, salvage $112,000, making a grand total of $1,331,414.45. The total disbursements were $1,227,317.47. The total attendance was 1,800,000. The largest one day attendance was on J. W. Thomas day, Oct. 28, 1897, when 98,579 admissions were recorded. The exposition company is out of debt. All the European countries were represented except England and Spain. In addition China, Japan, Mexico, Central and South America were represented. There were 144 buildings on the exposition inclosure, a park of 200 acres. The exposition was incorporated as Centennial City and was governed by a Mayor and full executive force of officers.

The Paris International Exposition.

The beginning of the twentieth century will be fittingly celebrated by the Great International Exposition to be held in Paris, France, from April 15 to November 5, inclusive. The site will comprise the public grounds on both sides of the Seine from the Place de la Concorde, the great monumental square in the very center of the city, to a point beyond the Pont de'Jena, embracing the Champ de Mars, the Trocadero Palace and Park (site of the exposition of 1889), the Esplanade des Invalides, the Quai d'Orsay, the Quai de la Conference, the Cour la Reine, and a large section of the Champs Elysees, including the site of the Palais de l'Industrie, the great building erected for the Exposition of 1855.

The palace of the Trocadero erected for the exposition of 1878 and used a second time in 1889 will be utilized with modifications in 1900. The Eiffel Tower with new features will be preserved. The Fine Arts and the Liberal Arts Halls will be permanent structures.

The first international exposition in Paris was held in 1855, second in 1867, third in 1878 and fourth in 1889. In July, 1892, the official initiative was taken toward the establishment of the 1900 exposition in a formal communication from M. Roche, minister of commerce and industry to President Carnot. Over 100,000,000 francs ($20,000,000) was provided as a guaranty fund, of which 20,000,000 francs was appropriated by the government, and 20,000,000 francs by the city of Paris, while 60,000,000 francs represent the net proceeds of the emission of 3,250,000 bonds of 20 francs each. The bonds bear no interest, but each one is redeemable in tickets and entitles the holder to 20 tickets. In lieu of interest the holder participates in 29 drawings, comprising 4,313 prizes, aggregating 6,000,000 francs. Six drawings occurred in 1896, six in 1897. There will be six in 1898, 1899 and six monthly drawings during the exposition.

To the contemporary exposition will be joined a retrospective centennial exposition reviewing the progress accomplished since 1800 in various branches of production.

The Pan-American Exposition

will be held at Niagara Falls in 1898. The exposition will open about May 1 and remain open for six months. It is not proposed to imitate the World's Fair, but to confine the exhibits to North and South America, and to illustrate the development of industrial and educational progress of the nineteenth century. The Exposition Company was incorporated June 25 with a capital of $50,000. J. M. Brinker, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.; Roswell P. Flower, 1st Vice-Pres., New York; Chauncey M. Depew, 2d Vice-Pres., New York; H. B. Thomas, 3d Vice-Pres.; C. M. Lantz, Treas., Buffalo; R. C. Hill, Sec., Buffalo.

NOTE.—*"Serial" means that a new class or series is opened periodically (every six or twelve months). "Permanent" means that there are no series or different classes. †Assets are given in round numbers, as it is not fixed, but grows as the association increases. ‡"Real Estate" (with the exception of a $40,000 building of the East Brooklyn Association, known as Co-operative Hall) is only acquired by deed or foreclosure, and is not permanent; the rule being to dispose of all such real estate as soon as possible.

All these associations are incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, and under the jurisdiction of the State Banking Department.

New members are received at any time by any of these associations, and the money accumulated is loaned to members only on real estate (first mortgage), varying from 70 to 90 per cent. on the value of the property.

The installment payments generally are 25 cents a week, or $1.00 monthly, on each share held.

*This estimate of the population is to December 1, 1897.

†The differences in the tax rates between the Eastern and Western Districts is in pursuance of Chapter 244 of the Laws of 1878, which provides that the "Eastern District," so called, shall be exempt from the assessment for lands taken for the benefit of Prospect Park. The twentieth of the thirty-eight equal annual installments of this assessment, amounting approximately to $33,256, was levied December 15, 1897.

‡The boundaries of the City and County are now coterminous, the appropriations for county purposes are, therefore, combined with and included in the City levy.

§The levy for the current year contains certain extraordinary sums, aggregating $340,207, which are required to meet principal and interest on school and other bonds, grading and paving, sewer assessments, etc., in the new Wards.

Assessed value of personal property not taxable locally for State purposes, 1896, was $79,152,449, of which Kings County had $12,990,877, and New York, $58,816,897.

The Weight of the Earth.

According to the most accurate calculations the earth weighs 6,069,000,000,000,000,000 tons, or 12,138,000,000,000,000,000,000 pounds. The weight of the earth is equal to 78 moons and equal to 1,625 times the weight of Great Britain and Ireland, counting that they extend down to the center of the earth; 52¼ times Europe, 11½ times Asia and 13½ times Africa.

It is estimated that the fertile lands of the globe amount to 28,000,000 square miles, the steppes to 14,000,000 and the deserts to 1,000,000. Fixing 207 persons to the square mile for fertile lands, ten for steppes and one for deserts as the greatest population that the earth could properly nourish, scientists arrive at the conclusion that when the number of inhabitants reaches about 6,000,000,000 our planet will be peopled to its fullest capacity. At present it contains about one-quarter of that number.

The Naval Militia.

The Naval Militia of the State is included in the First Naval Brigade, which comprises the First and Second Naval Battalions (4 divisions each), located in New York and Brooklyn, and two separate divisions at Rochester. The Second Battalion is commanded by Wm. H. Stayton.

The Eagle Rifle Trophy.

The Brooklyn Daily Eagle, in Feb., 1896, offered a trophy for the rifle shooting championship, to be contested for by the regiments of the Second Brigade.

The object was to encourage the soldiers to raise still higher the standard of rifle shooting in the brigade and to bring the organizations in closer relationship. The trophy to become the permanent possession of the organization winning it three times, not necessarily in succession.

A meeting of the inspectors of rifle practice was held, a schedule adopted and details of the contest decided upon, the most important of which were as follows: The annual competition to consist of twelve indoor matches, each team to consist of six men, and so arranged that each team should shoot twice with each of the other three an equal number of times on its own range and on the range of its opponent. The distances to be at 200 yards, standing, and at 500 yards, prone; each man to have seven shots at each distance.

The weapons: State model, Remington rifles, any sight and any ammunition.

The Twenty-third Regiment were winners in 1896, scoring six victories and no defeats.

In 1897 the contests began on February 6 and closed on April 17, the Twenty-third again winning with a precisely similar score. The results:

	Won.	Lost.	Points scored
Twenty-third Regiment	6	0	2,208
Forty-seventh Regiment	3	3	2,182
Fourteenth Regiment	2	4	2,058
Thirteenth Regiment	1	5	2,014

The following shows the gain made by each regiment in points scored, over 1896:

	1896.	1897.	Gain.
Twenty-third	2,124	2,208	84
Forty-seventh	2,124	2,182	58
Fourteenth	1,959	2,058	99
Thirteenth	1,964	2,041	77

The fourteen men constituting the victorious teams were: Captains Russell Hoag, F. A. Wells, G. F. Hamlin, C. D. Napier, Lieuts. W. B. Willard, H. De W Hamilton, First Sergeant E. V. Howard, Sergeants R Findlay, G. T. Musson, Corporals R. S. Cooke, jr.; H. A. Lugrin, E A. Anderson, Privates A. G Findlay, A. M. Summers.

FISHERIES, GAME AND FOREST COMMISSION.

The Governor (by and with the advice and consent of the Senate) appoints five Fisheries, Game and Forest Commissioners to hold office for a term of five years. They have charge of the State fish hatching establishments, the shellfish industry, and it is under their supervision that the lakes and streams of the State are restocked with artificially propagated fish. They have the care, custody, control and superintendence of the forest lands owned by the State and many islands of Lake George; also have charge of public interests of the State with regard to forests and tree planting, and especially with reference to forest fires in every part of the State. They are also charged with the enforcement of the Fisheries, Game and Forest laws. They report their proceedings to the Legislature annually, together with such recommendations for further legislative or official action as they deem proper. They also appoint fish and game protectors and foresters who enforce the law for the protection of fish, game and forests. The President of the Commission receives a salary of $3,000 and the other members of the Commission $2,500, with an allowance of $800 per annum each for expenses. They appoint an Assistant Secretary, a Fish Culturist, Superintendent of Hatcheries, an Engineer and Superintendent of Forests, a chief and thirty-five other fish, game and forest protectors, an oyster protector and assistant, foremen of hatcheries, special agents and the necessary clerical force.

The Commissioners are Barnet H. Davis, Palmyra (President), appointed Apr. 25, 1895. William R. Weed, Potsdam, appointed Apr. 25, 1895. Charles H. Babcock, Rochester, appointed Apr.

LAW EXAMINATIONS.

To be entitled to examination as attorney and counselor the applicant must pay to the examiners a fee of $15 and must prove (fifteen days in advance) to the satisfaction of the State Board of Law Examiners:

That he is a citizen of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and a resident of the State; that he has not been examined for admission to practice and been refused admission and license within three months immediately preceding.

That he has studied law in the manner and according to the conditions prescribed for a period of three years, except that if the applicant is a graduate of any college or university his period of study may be two years instead of three; or, if he has been admitted as attorney in the highest court of original jurisdiction of another State or country, and has remained there as practicing attorney for at least one year, he may be admitted to examination after a period of law study of one year in this State.

That the applicant has passed the regents' examinations or its equivalent must be proved by the production of a certified copy of the regents' certificate filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

The University is responsible only for the preliminary general education of law students. Candidates wishing the full rules in relation to the admission of attorneys to the bar should address Clerk of the Court of Appeals, Capitol, Albany.

For members of Board of Regents see New York State Government.

a The amounts in this column include receipts from duties on imports, from tonnage tax, hospital dues, etc. b The amounts in this column represent the total receipts of money covered into the Treasury by warrant, whereas the internal revenue receipts, as showed in the Annual Report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, represent amounts reported by collectors of internal revenue as having been collected during each fiscal year. c Amounts heretofore credited to the Treasurer as unavailable and since recovered and charged to his account.

In the tariff law of 1894 provision was made for levying a tax upon incomes, to be paid by individuals as well as by corporations. Before the first assessment became due the tax was declared to be unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. The returns made to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue before the decision was

November 25—Labor day: In Louisiana.

November 24—Thanksgiving Day: Is observed in all the States and in the District of Columbia, though not statutory in some states.

December 25—Christmas Day: In all the States.

Sundays and Fast Days are legal holidays in all the States which designate them as such.

There are no statutory holidays in Mississippi. Kansas and Nevada but by common consent. Fourth of July, Thanksgiving and Christmas are observed in Mississippi, and Decoration, Labor and Arbor Days in addition in Kansas.

Arbor Day is a legal holiday in Colorado, Kansas, Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming, the day being set by the Governor; in Texas, February 22; in Nebraska, April 22; Montana, third Tuesday in April; Utah, April 15; Rhode Island, first Friday in May; and Idaho, on Friday after May 1; Florida, February 7; Georgia, first Friday in Dec.

Every Saturday after 12 o'clock noon is a legal holiday in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and District of Columbia; in Louisiana and Missouri in cities of over 100,000; in Ohio in cities of 50,000 and over; and the cities of New Orleans and Wilmington, Del.; and June 1 to September 30 in New Castle County, Del.

There is no national holiday, not even the Fourth of July. Special holidays have been appointed by Congress at various times. Thus Labor Day was made a public holiday in the District of Columbia by the 53d Congress. For commercial purposes, certain days have been recognized as holidays, but, with the above exception, there is no general statute on the subject, and even the proclamation of the President appointing a day of Thanksgiving, makes it a legal holiday only in those states which provide for it by law.

The Tariff Law.

The tariff law of 1897, known as the Dingley law, was introduced into the House of Representatives on March 18, 1897. It passed almost without debate on March 31, and for more than a month it was considered by the Senate Finance Committee. In a greatly modified form it was reported to the Senate May 4, and after much discussion by the opposition was passed by the Senate July 7. Serious differences developed between the two Houses and the bill remained in conference for nearly a month, but eventually became a law on July 24. The estimated revenue to be obtained from the House bill was stated by Mr. Dingley to be $273,500,000. Senator Aldrich claimed the Senate measure would yield in the first year of its operation about $180,000,000, and after that about $225,000,000 a year. The actual amount collected during four months of its operations, from August to December, has been $35,000,000.

Raines Law Excise Statistics.

According to the report of State Commissioner of Excise Henry H. Lyman, made December 18, 1897, the Raines Law has effected a large increase of excise revenue, while largely decreasing the number of saloons. In 41 cities of the State there were in 1895-96, under the old law, 22,967 licenses in force, while in 1897 there were but 15,989 certificates, making an average of 4.5 saloons to every 1,000 of population.

The revenue in 1895-96, under the old law, was $2,500,743.43, against $6,941,743.98 in 1897, under the Raines Law.

Recent investigations of Dr. Linden Kohl have shown that the principal source of the Gulf Stream is not the Florida channel, but the region between and beside the islands of the West Indies. At Bimini the volume of this warm water is sixty times as great as the combined volume of all the rivers in the world at their mouths.

Tillage of Vacant Lands Committee.

The Committee on the Tillage of Vacant Lands appointed by Mayor Schieren in 1896, was continued by Mayor Wurster for 1896 and 1897 with a few changes. The committee last year consisted of Frederick W. Wurster, J. W. Ehregger, President; H. F. Gunnison, Treasurer; William I. Nichols, Secretary; A. D. Baird, F. A. Bartlett, George C. Brackett, S. B. Chittenden, A. A. Day, E. F. Linton, William G. Low, Frank Lyman, James McMahon, Peter H. McNulty, Charles Naeher, A. J. Newton, W. L. Ogden, Charles A. Schieren, Charles M. Skinner, A. D. Wheelock, A. T. White, Rev. J. M. Whiton.

By request of the committee the practical conduct of the work was conducted by the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities and the committee made an appeal to the public for funds to cover the cost of the enterprise.

The German American Improvement Company granted the use of land in the 26th Ward on Pennsylvania av. as during two previous years.

The Brooklyn Elevated Railroad Company furnished free transportation for those who worked on the lands.

About eight acres were cultivated, a little more than four acres of which were divided into lots of about one-eighth of an acre each and assigned to thirty-four families. Four acres were planted for the use of the committee and the work of cultivating the crops was done by the men under the direction of the superintendent, and as part payment for the benefit which they derived from their separate lots. The potato crop was very light, but beans, peas, carrots, corn, turnips, tomatoes, cucumbers and other vegetables were raised in abundance. A fine field of sweet corn was grown on the land cultivated for the committee.

The treasurer's report shows a balance on hand at the beginning of the year $122.70; $882 received from subscriptions and $177 from the sale of farm products, making a total of receipts, $681.70. The expenditures, salary of superintendent, $310.50; seeds, $48.43; horse hire, $73; tools, $3.37; fertilizer, $100; printing, $8.50; total, $543.80; leaving a balance on hand of $137.90.

Long Island City Police.

The police force of Long Island City during the year 1897 consisted of 85 members, while the charter provided for 75. The force consists of three captains, one of which is acting chief; eight sergeants, nine roundsmen, one detective, one court officer and sixty-three patrolmen. Webster avenue, which runs almost through the center of the city, is the dividing line between the city's two precincts. The First is 160, 162, 164 Grand avenue, known as the Astoria precinct, while the Second Precinct on Fourth street, near Vernon avenue, is called the Hunter's Point precinct. Acting Chief Thomas Darcy is in command of the First precinct and Captain Henry Buschmann of the Second. The total number of arrests up to Dec. 1, 1897, were 1,207, of which there were 527 married, 660 single, 20 widows, 1,187 white, 20 colored; 1,157 could read and write and 50 could not. Of the number 437 were convicted, 476 discharged, 45 held for the grand jury, 9 to keep the peace, 25 are pending, 169 sentence suspended, 24 for medical examination, 12 turned over to other authorities, 4 complaints withdrawn, 2 forfeited their bonds, 1 arrested on bench warrant, 1 committed to Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

FINANCIAL REVIEW, 1897.

The stock market averaged 8⅛ per cent. higher December 31, 1897, than it did January 1, 1897, taking sixty active railroad shares as the basis of the calculation. This average price was 48 at the beginning of the year and 56.70 at the close. In 1897 the market had an almost unbroken period of prosperity and with the single exception of 1892 the year brought more of encouragement to Wall street bulls than any other year since the Baring panic of 1890. It was a year of excellent profits in banking and brokerage business after several years of business which scarcely paid the expenses of the establishments maintained. Each month was better in some great essential particulars than its predecessor, and the culmination came with the increase of railroad gross and net earnings to a point which not even the most enthusiastic bull dared to predict early in the year, when there was not the certainty of the wonderful crops to say nothing of the markets for them at full prices on account of the scarcity of food products in many of the nations of Europe. General trade underwent a phenomenal expansion. Gold discoveries have turned the attention of a great mass of the population in another direction. Financially, the year 1897 was one of great success for the railroads of the United States, more particularly because during that period many of the lines which have been compelled to undergo drastic reorganizations have been enabled by their large gains in revenues to begin the payment of regular returns to owners of some of their junior issues of capital. The railroad reorganizations whose completion Wall street has witnessed seem to have been the most thorough with which New York's financial interests have ever been concerned, and some of the reorganized properties are already on the high road to prosperity.

No review of the year 1897 would be complete without reference to the great balance of trade piled up in favor of the United States with foreign countries. All records in this particular were broken, so great was the demand in Europe for our breadstuffs. Therefore, at the end of the year, when money grew tight in New York, we were in position to draw whatever we desired against our foreign credits to supply the temporary deficiency. Hence the unusual importation of gold in December, at a time when exchange is usually in great demand for the payment abroad of compound dividend accounts of our great railroads, whose securities have an international market. Much exchange was bought for investment late in 1897 and it seemed almost certain that this could not be fully utilised to advantage in the payment of foreign indebtedness until well into the year 1898. The revenue of the government was slightly better and at the end of the year the free gold reserve of the treasury was about $160,000,000, so that there was great difficulty in utilizing the specie in current business.

In reviewing the course of the stock market during the year 1897 in detailing the changes in prices, the average value of sixty active railroad stocks is used. The group of stocks includes both high priced and low priced issues. In January these stocks opened at 48, advanced to 49¼ in the third week of the month and in the last week went off to 47¾, the lowest price of the month. January was not characterized by active speculation in any class of securities. On the contrary, the public was slow to enter the market. Bonds were well bought by investors, though at the end of the month prices went down sharply on the acute trouble in the Ohio soft coal trade, resulting in the naming of receivers for the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad. The Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking Railroad failed also. All these things were of more weight in the stock market than the beginning of dividends on the common stock of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railroad and the selection of Lyman J. Gage for Secretary of the Treasury. Exchange was heavy and money easy.

In February business in stocks was small, though the raids on Jersey Central depressed the anthracite coal stocks, and the serious difficulties in the Ohio bituminous coal regions forced the Hocking Valley road to go into the hands of receivers. The highest price of the sixty active stocks above referred to in February was 48¼ in the first week of the month; the lowest was 47½, about the 15th. There were large foreign purchases of Northern Pacific and Oregon Navigation stocks in the interest of the new management of these properties, and there was also some stimulation of speculation as the result of the collapse of the great steel rail pool, which made a large business in all parts of the iron market. Money was easy and exchange steady. In March the sixty active stocks ranged in price from 49½ on the 12th to 47¾ on the 30th. The Lake Shore refunding contract on a basis of 3½ per cent. caused a good deal of buying of stocks at the start, and this was followed up by Mr. Morgan's new arrangements for the protection of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, which had for a long time been a thorn in the side of the anthracite coal trade. The event of most importance of the month was the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Trans-Missouri Freight Association case, holding the railroads amenable to the anti-trust laws. Money was tight, as goods were largely withdrawn from bonded warehouses in connection with the rumors that the new tariff would have a retroactive clause attached to it when it finally passed Congress. The New York Central entered into negotiations for a refunding plan, but even this did not affect the market much, as there were serious floods in the West and in the anthracite coal territory.

In April the sixty stocks rose to 47 in the second week, but there was a decline in the last week to 45¾. The market was heavy, though there was some buying of the Vanderbilts on the refunding negotiations in progress, covering some of the principal lines of that group. The Graeco-Turkish war affected the market through leading to some free sales of stocks here for London foreign accounts. This selling was not offset as a speculative factor by the bullish speculation in grain. More great floods in the West did much damage, and some gold was exported, because of the great rush to import foreign merchandise before the new tariff should take effect.

With May the stock market began the rise which continued throughout the summer, and which no group of stocks failed to join. The average price of the sixty active stocks was 46½ in May. In June it was 49½. In July the average rose to 52½, closing at 53. In August there was a rise to 57 as a fair average price for the entire month, while September 15 found the 60 stocks at an average of 60, which was the best figure of the entire year. From the middle of May to the middle of September there were no adverse influences of importance in the market. In June the passing of the Big Four road's preferred dividend was the only really important bearish event, and this was not considered for a very long time. The iron trade had a genuine boom, and crop reports were of the most encouraging character, continuing so from that time on. July operations in stocks were the largest since the Venezuela panic. Prices were led on their rise by sugar stock, which was bought on the favorable treatment by the framers of the new tariff. The Klondike gold mining excitement became acute, carrying the market into August with a strong movement. Europe bought grain, largely at higher prices, as there were rumors of crop damage in the Northwest which prompted wheat speculation. Exchange declined so largely in spite of London sales of securities that gold exports were terminated. The revenues of the government showed an increasing current deficit as imports were reduced to correspond with the rush of foreign goods to New York earlier in the year. Public buying continued large in all parts of the market until the middle of September, when the extensive selling of securities by large holders led to a sharp reaction in prices. Many of the pools and cliques got out of the market. The ostensible cause of the first downward movement in prices was the advance in the money market as the result of the large demand for funds in the interior for the movement of the crops.

From 60 in the third week of September the average price of the sixty active railroad stocks declined to 55 late in October, and 52 in the second week of November, then slowly recovering nearly five points before the end of the year. In October the steady decline was the more noteworthy because it was made in the face of the most excellent railroad earnings. The selling by the bear party became fairly large because of the canvass over the New York City election and the doubt expressed as to the purchase of the Union Pacific at foreclosure by the reorganization committee. In November the market continued dull. Yellow fever disappeared in the South, and the elections had no effect upon prices. December, though its market was not very active, brought a strong undertone, the chief reason being the declaration of the Northern Pacific, St. Louis and San Francisco, St. Joseph and Grand Island, Southern Railway and Big Four dividends. Record breaking earnings were reported by many roads. Gold imports were announced at the end of the month, as the result of high rates for money caused by the Union Pacific syndicate payments.

Financial Securities.

BROOKLYN.

The principal features of the year 1897 in its relation to local business corporations and financial institutions have been the reorganization of the Brooklyn Elevated Railroad, the signing of the contract for cheaper gas with the Brooklyn Union Company by the city and the people, the decision by the bridge trustees that the surface and elevated railroad companies could use the bridge, the entrance into the lighting field of two electric illuminating companies, the union of the Coney Island and Brooklyn and the Brooklyn City and Newtown Railroads, the increasing of the dividends of some of the trust companies, the granting of wholesale railroad and lighting franchises by the Aldermen, and big earnings by all of the railroads, and the banks and trust companies and consequent advances in the prices of the majority of them.

Expert engineers appointed to consider the advisability of permitting the railroads to cross the bridge reported favorably on February 8. This was not acted upon by the trustees until April 11, when they finally determined to make a contract with the railroads on the basis that the railroads should pay a toll to the bridge of 5 cents for each trolley car which made a round trip and 12½ cents for each elevated railroad car. The plans adopted provided that the elevated cars should run on the present tracks with the cable cars and that the trolley cars should lay a single track on each roadway and have a New York terminal elevated above all the other tracks. After the contracts were signed and the plans agreed upon, the trustees gave their consent to a modification of the plan in its relation to the surface roads, whereby they were granted the right to have their New York terminal on the surface in the form of a loop. Work upon the bridge was begun by the surface roads on October 15 and pushed forward rapidly until the New York terminal was reached, and then an injunction was secured restraining them from completing it. Work on the remainder of the bridge was pushed along until late in December, when two more injunctions were obtained putting a stop to all work. One of the injunctions was set aside Dec. 31 and the trolley companies completed laying tracks on the New York roadway and ran the first car across the bridge before midnight Dec. 31.

The Rapid Transit Company has continued to show increased earnings in 1897. It has constructed new lines and extended its transfer system.

In February the company refunded $300,000 of the New Williamsburgh and Flatbush Railroad at 4½ per cent.

During all the year it has steadily absorbed the consolidated bonds of the Brooklyn, Queens County and Suburban Railroad and now holds $1,704,170 of them.

In June it was announced that D. O. Mills had purchased a million of the Rapid Transit Company bonds. This was a signal for the speculators in Wall street to put the price of the stock up. Whether Mr. Mills took the bonds has never become definitely known.

In February the company sold some of its rights to the Shore Drive Commission for $42,000.

In June the company ceased to give transfers to its passengers on Sundays and holidays. This policy was not adopted by any other company.

The negotiations for the sale of the Jamaica turnpike to the city was conducted by President Rossiter to a successful conclusion, and the railroad secured a large sum of money for its property.

The Flynn suits against the Long Island Traction Company, the Brooklyn City Railroad and the Brooklyn Heights Railroad have not been settled.

Early in the Fall negotiations for the purchase of the Sea Beach and the Sea View Railroads were opened by the Rapid Transit Company and completed during November. This provides the Rapid Transit Company with an excellent Coney Island route and a line from West Brighton to Brighton Beach.

At various times there have been reports during the year that the Rapid Transit Company was about to purchase or lease the Brooklyn Elevated Railroad. Nothing has come of this up to the present time.

The earnings of the Nassau Electric Railroad Company have steadily improved during the year, showing monthly increases over 1896 ranging from 10 to 26 per cent.

A suit brought against the company by the Brooklyn Elevated Railroad to prevent it from charging a less rate of fare on the West End Line than the elevated railroad charged on the Prospect Park and Coney Island Line resulted in a victory for the elevated. The Nassau Company has appealed from the decision and is still charging a single 5 cent fare for a ride to Coney Island on that route.

The company has opened a few new routes and has increased its service steadily over 1896.

The Coney Island and Gravesend Railroad won three legal victories, securing to it the right to complete its route at Coney Island from Manhattan to West Brighton. This line was operated during the Summer by the Nassau Railroad and in November was leased to the Nassau Road.

The Aldermen, late in November, granted, without any notice of their intention, the franchises asked for by the East River and Atlantic Ocean Railroad Company, more than a year previous. These franchises included twenty miles of street. They were granted with the understanding that the company should sell six tickets for 25 cents and should pay to the city 3 per cent. of its gross receipts annually. There were several injunctions secured restraining the Mayor from signing the resolutions, and then injunctions were obtained preventing the Aldermen from passing the resolutions over the Mayor's veto. In this way the franchises were killed.

About August 1 it became known that the directors of the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad and of the Brooklyn City and Newtown Railroad had agreed among themselves to exchange the stock of the Coney Island Company for an equal number of shares in the Brooklyn City and Newtown Company. The majority of the stockholders in the Coney Island Railroad made the exchange, but Mr. Flynn and some of his friends refused. It was then seen that the two properties could not be consolidated in that way and early in December a lease was made of the Brooklyn City and Newtown Railroad to the Coney Island and Brooklyn Company. It is now proposed to increase the stock of the Coney Island and Brooklyn Company and exchange it for the stock of the Brooklyn City and Newtown, and in this way bring about a consolidation. The basis of the lease is that the Coney Island Company receives three-sevenths and the other company four-sevenths of the net income.

In May the Coney Island and Brooklyn Company directors secured the consent of two-thirds of its stockholders to an issue of $1,500,000 5 per cent. bonds. This was objected to by Mr. Flynn, and the courts sustained his objection.

The Brooklyn City and Newtown Railroad cut its dividend from 10 per cent. to 6 and then advanced it to 8.

Early in June a new company was organized to build about eight miles of extensions to the Brooklyn City and Newtown Company. Nothing further has been done.

Frederick Uhlmann, President of the Brooklyn Elevated Railroad Company, was appointed a receiver for the property on March 24, as a preliminary step toward reorganizing the company. A plan was soon promulgated and agreed to by a sufficient number of the stock and bondholders to warrant the reorganization committee to declare it operative. Since that time there has been nothing further done by the committee and Mr. Uhlmann, as receiver, is still operating the road. The plan provided for the issue of $16,000,000 bonds bearing 4 per cent. interest until 1905 and 5 per cent. thereafter. Of this amount $11,890,000 are to be used to retire old bonds, $1,000,000 are to be sold to secure money to make the necessary changes for the bridge crossing. The remainder are to be used for extensions. The new stock is to consist of $5,000,000 preferred and $13,000,000 common. Of the preferred $3,330,100 is to be exchanged for old stock. The remainder is to be used for reorganization purposes and future requirements. The common stock will be issued in exchange for old stock and bonds. The exchange of securities was made on the following basis:

The plan met with some opposition from stockholders, but the courts have thus far sustained the reorganization committee. The company's earnings are improving over last year at the rate of from $250 to $350 a day.

The reorganization committee of the Kings County Elevated Railroad Company has done nothing definite as yet toward adopting a plan of reorganization. Last November by action of the court James Frothingham was substituted as receiver for James Jourdan. The company has made an arrangement with the Long Island Electric Railroad Company by which the latter's tracks connect with its East New York terminal and passengers are transferred.

Every effort was put forth early in 1897 by the Brooklyn Union Gas Company to prevail upon the Board of Aldermen to take action upon the provisions of the Wray gas bill, which directed that the city should make a contract for a period of years at a gradually decreasing rate for its gas. Finally a contract was made in February on the basis of a five cent decrease each year for the next five years for the private consumer and 2½ cents for the city. The price this year to the public has been $1.20 a thousand and to the city 97½ cents a thousand. The Mayor and the Corporation Counsel tried to block the signing of the contract, but were ignored by the gas company and the contract is now in force. The policy of the Brooklyn Union Company has been to obtain control of all the gas companies within the limits of the Borough of Brooklyn, and with the exception of the New Utrecht Company and the Flushing Company it has been successful.

The signing of the contract fixing the price of gas for the next five years and the purchase of the several outside companies in Kings County and Queens County caused the stock to advance to 115, and it was gradually worked up to about 120.

On talk of a plan to consolidate the Brooklyn Union Company with the gas companies in New York in one great corporation there was a sudden advance from that price to 126, but then on the denial of any such scheme being in contemplation the stock eased off, and now, with the prospect that there will be savage attacks on the stock by the Legislature it is down to 118.

At the last meeting of the Aldermen in November they granted to the Flatbush Gas Company which is controlled by the Brooklyn Union Company, a franchise to lay mains anywhere in the city and to engage in the business of electric lighting. Injunctions were obtained and the measure failed to become a law.

The Edison Electric Light Company early in January sent out circulars to its stockholders, notifying them of their right to subscribe proportionately for an additional issue of $250,000 stock and $250,000 of bonds. This new issue was for the purpose of improvements and extensions in South Brooklyn. The rights at the time were not very valuable and the stock sold for 99, with the rights and 97 without. That was about the same level at which the stock opened the year. Since then the company's reports have shown steady increase in earnings and in spite of probable competition it advanced until it sold up to 115 about the middle of September. In November the company completed its South Brooklyn plant.

Charles Cooper, who secured a franchise for the Kings County Light and Power Company, two or three years ago, applied during the last week in June to the City Works Commissioner for permits to open a number of streets in order to lay conduits. His company had already laid about twelve miles and the permits which he secured will enable him to lay about twenty-five miles more. He says he controls some of Tesla's patents. In September it became known that Mr. Cooper had sold out his interest in the Kings County Electric Light and Power Company to a syndicate in which it is said ex-Governor Flower, Vice-President Hobart, D. O. Mills, Seth L. Keeney and William Berri were prominent. The company since then has laid many miles of conduits and will probably be ready to engage in active business in the spring. When the announcement of this deal was made Edison stock declined to 101, but then recovered to 104, at which price it was at the end of the year.

In 1891 the State Electric Light and Power Company was incorporated and a fight begun for the franchise. Noah L. Cocheu was the promoter of the enterprise and after overcoming many obstacles he secured certain excellent rights from the reform Board of Aldermen. About April 15 it was announced that another company, incorporated under the name of the Amsterdam Electric Light Company, with a capital of $500,000, had purchased the rights of the State Company. Work has been pushed quite rapidly in the Eastern District. On July 14 the company's stockholders agreed to increase its capital from $500,000 to $1,000,000. This is for the purpose of raising money to put the company in a position to furnish electric light. In November the entire plant was sold at auction in order to clear the title to the property, and bought in by the representative of the Amsterdam Company.

At the time the Aldermen granted their wholesale franchises they gave permission to the Municipal Electric Light Co. to extend its system anywhere in Brooklyn. Mayor Wurster vetoed it.

In October the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company offered to its stockholders at par value an increase of 25 per cent. on its stock, bringing the total capitalization up to $4,662,400 issued. During 1897 the company's growth has been faster than ever, and at the present time its system includes 100 exchanges and 18,000 stations. The company's stock has advanced to 150.

There has been a very decided advance in the market value of all the trust company stocks since the first of the year. This is due to the excellent earnings and to the expectation that increased dividends would be paid in the Fall. This was not done, but the Manufacturers' and the People's each increased their dividend rate for the first payment in 1898.

Early in 1897 there was known to be dissatisfaction with the management of the Nassau Trust Company, and its president, who had been in poor health for some time, was supplanted in April as the active man of the company by Postmaster Andrew T. Sullivan. The company's stock immediately advanced and has since gained 25 points over where it was when Mr. Sullivan took hold.

In March the Greater New York Savings Bank was organized.

In December the National City Bank reduced its semi-annual dividend from 10 to 7 per cent.

THE TRIUMPH OF SCIENCE.

Consumption and Lung Troubles

CAN BE CURED—FREE.

A SCENE IN THE SLOCUM LABORATORY, NEW YORK.

The Discoverer demonstrating to Medical Men and Students the Great Value and Wonderful Curative Powers of his New Discoveries.—Sketched for THE EAGLE ALMANAC.

EDITOR'S NOTE—All readers of THE EAGLE ALMANAC, anxious for the health of themselves, relatives or friends, can have Three Free Bottles of the Doctor's New Discoveries, with complete directions, by sending their full address to Dr. Slocum's Laboratory, 98 Pine Street, New York City.

DR. SLOCUM'S CURATIVE KNOWLEDGE.

Workers in the wide, unexplored field of modern chemistry are daily astounding the world with new wonders.

Foremost among the world's greatest Medico-Chemists stands T. A. Slocum, of New York City. His efforts, which for years had been directed toward the discovery of a positive cure for consumption, were finally successful, and already his "new scientific system of medicine" has, by its timely use, permanently cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, and it seems a necessary and humane duty to bring such facts to the attention of all invalids.

The Doctor has proved the dreaded disease to be curable beyond a doubt, in any climate.

No one having, or threatened with, any disease should hesitate a day, but should write at once. Facts prove that the Doctor has discovered a reliable and absolute cure for Consumption, and all bronchial, throat, lung, and chest troubles, stubborn coughs, catarrhal affections, scrofula, general decline and weakness, loss of flesh, and all wasting conditions, and to better demonstrate its wonderful merits he will send Three Free Bottles (all different) of his New Discoveries, with full instructions, to any reader of THE EAGLE ALMANAC.

Simply write to T. A. Slocum, M. C., 98 Pine Street, New York, giving name and full address.

There is no charge for medicine or correspondence—advice—strictly confidential.

We urge every sufferer to take advantage of this most liberal proposition.

A system of medical treatment that will cure catarrh, lung troubles, and consumption is certainly good for—and will cure—any wasting disease that humanity is heir to.

Please tell the Doctor, when writing, that you read his generous offer in THE EAGLE ALMANAC, and greatly oblige.

New edition, revised and enlarged.

KNOW THYSELF. Price only $1.00, by mail, sealed. HEAL THYSELF.

"'The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation,' is a Medical Treatise of rare merit and great value, from the pen of a distinguished author and famous medical practitioner and Nervo-Specialist. It is pre-eminently a book for every man. It is published by the reliable, time-honored, and far-famed Peabody Medical Institute, which is of itself a guarantee of excellence and high character. It would be better for the individual and the State if all were conversant with the truism so tersely set forth in this noble work. It is not of that cheap order of abominable trash sent broadcast by irresponsible parties and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but a work of such intrinsic value as cannot be measured by dollars and cents, coming as it does from a source eminently trustworthy and reliable, containing facts which should be known—facts which must be known."—Medical Review.

"The Peabody Medical Institute has many would-be imitators, but no equals."—Boston Herald.

BROOKLYN "L"
is the pioneer road in the "City of Churches"—
it has over twenty miles of track—the best terminal in the new bridge station—
Its cars will run over the Brooklyn Bridge by June.
It practically covers most of the City of Brooklyn—
It carries over double the number of passengers than any other line—
It was the first road to have REAL advertising—
The department is managed by experienced and practical men who know no place but the TOP!
Look in its cars for real advertising properly done.
Look on its stations for an unequaled poster display.
And the advertising rates are always reasonable.

New York Life Insurance Co.

JOHN A. McCALL, President.

346 and 348 Broadway, New York City.

WHY DID I INSURE IN THIS COMPANY?

BECAUSE

It is one of the strongest companies in the world.

It has in Assets over..... $200,000,000

It earned for policy-holders last year from interest and rents over 9,000,000

It is purely mutual, and all of its assets, surplus and earnings belong to its policy-holders.

It has an honorable record of 58 years, during all of which time it has steadily increased in strength and prosperity.

Its policies as now issued contain no restriction as to residence, travel or occupation, habits of life or manner of death.

The SOLE condition is that if premiums are paid the Company will certainly pay the policy immediately in the event it becomes a claim by death, and thus leave a widow or an estate a legacy and not a law-suit.

Its policies cannot be forfeited after three years, and if allowed to lapse, the insured will receive the full benefit of his payments either in a paid-up policy, or extended insurance, as he may elect.

It gives a grace of one month in the payment of premiums.

Its policies will be re-instated at any time during the five months following the month of grace if the insured passes a medical examination and pays the back premium with interest.

You can borrow money from the Company at 5 per cent. per annum, after your policy has been three years in force.

You do not have to DIE TO WIN. If you live 10, 15, or 20 years you can settle your policy in any way that best suits your circumstances at the time —for cash, paid-up insurance, annuity, or other options.

Your insurance is not a luxury, nor an expense without tangible return, but is an investment of a small sum each year to mature 10, 15, or 20 years hence, if you live.

If you live to the end of the term you will have made a substantial provision for yourself in old age, and if you die before the end of the term you will have made a substantial provision for your family or your estate.

It is the most valuable estate you will leave behind you, more certain in its results than lands, houses, stocks, or bonds, as its value does not rise and fall with the market.

The New York Life Insurance Company is the ONLY company in which you can get ALL of these benefits.

You want the very best—the most privileges and the fewest restrictions, whether small or great—and the New York Life's Accumulation Policy furnishes it.

The New York Life is the only large Life Insurance Company that closes its books on December 31st, each year, and makes its Detailed Annual Report early in January, upon the basis of Paid-for Business, and publishes a full and complete Statement of how and where the policy-holders' money is invested.
